Proud Barons We Remain

Proud Barons We Remain, might sound familiar. The phrase is taken from the school song, which has been sung by proud Barons at sport events and other school activities for the past eleven years.

This year many special events took place. Homecoming brought back past Homecoming Queens and Alumni. Coach Jones was named Indiana High School Baseball Coach of the year. Who could forget being named the NEIAC ALL SPORTS CHAMPIONS for the second consecutive year. The Marching Band and the Baronettes competed successfully in contests. Pep Club and the Cheerleaders helped to cheer Baron athletes on to victory and also helped to share disappointment when there was defeat.

The Speech Team, Thespians and Theater Workshop did a fine job as they competed and performed proudly for our school. Bus drivers drove students to school through the drifting and hazardous snow. The community showed support and interest by attending school board meetings and other school related events.

This edition of the Saber contains events and memories that make this year special because ... PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN.

PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN — by being part of the Marching Barons in the Auburn Free Fall Fair.

PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN — after Mr. Jones, receiving a standing ovation, addresses the pep session before the Garrett football game.

PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN — as Mr. Fites, Doug Peterson, Bill Hathaway, and Dave Conrad accept the NEIAC All Sports Champion Banner.

PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN — as the Baron Mascot, Becky Lowe, encourages fans to cheer for our team.

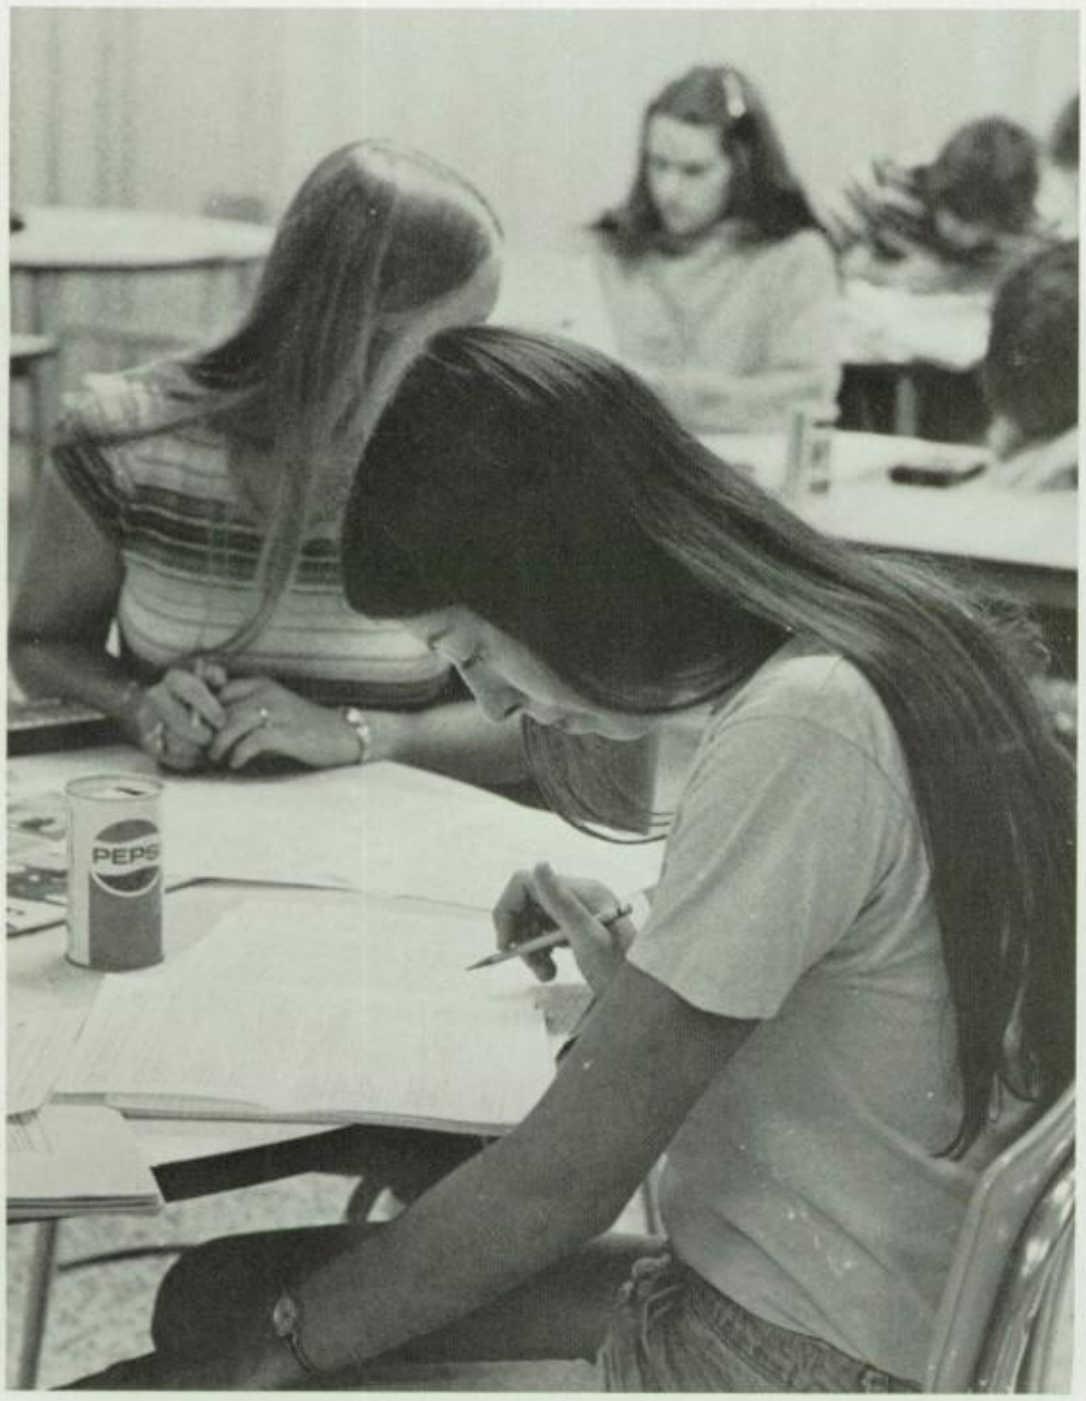
Variety of Activities Opens School Year

For some, summer means school with economics, government, and Drivers Education. But for most summer is full of swimming, bike riding, working, sunbathing, walking in the park, and just plain enjoying themselves.

Summer vacation passes by too quickly, and soon we are all found back into the swing of fall activities and ready to start off the new year.

Labor Day Weekend means the end of summer and the beginning of the school year. One attraction of the weekend is A.C.D. Days, where people from all over the United States come to Dekalb County and Auburn to visit the home of the famous cars. The weekend includes parades and auctioning of cars.

WHILE WELCOMING the new Sophomores for sophomore orientation night, Jim Schmidt, Tammy Hughes, and Lynne Lenhard listen attentively.



STUDYING HER TAX return paper for summer economics, Teri Storrjohann enjoys the more relaxed atmosphere of summer school.

COLLECTING ADMISSION from visitors at the ACD Classic Car Auction are Baron lettermen Roger Rudolph and Bob Brown.

LIVESTOCK SHOWING is an important aspect of the Fall Fair as Linda Auld and John Felons are well aware.

NAMED MISS CONGENIALITY in the Fair Queen contest, Amy Shankle (right) is congratulated as Laurie Mann (left) smiles her approval.

PREPARING to promote the junior booth at the Fair, Tina Squier is aided by Judy Shippy, Brenda Miller, and Tonya Rowe.

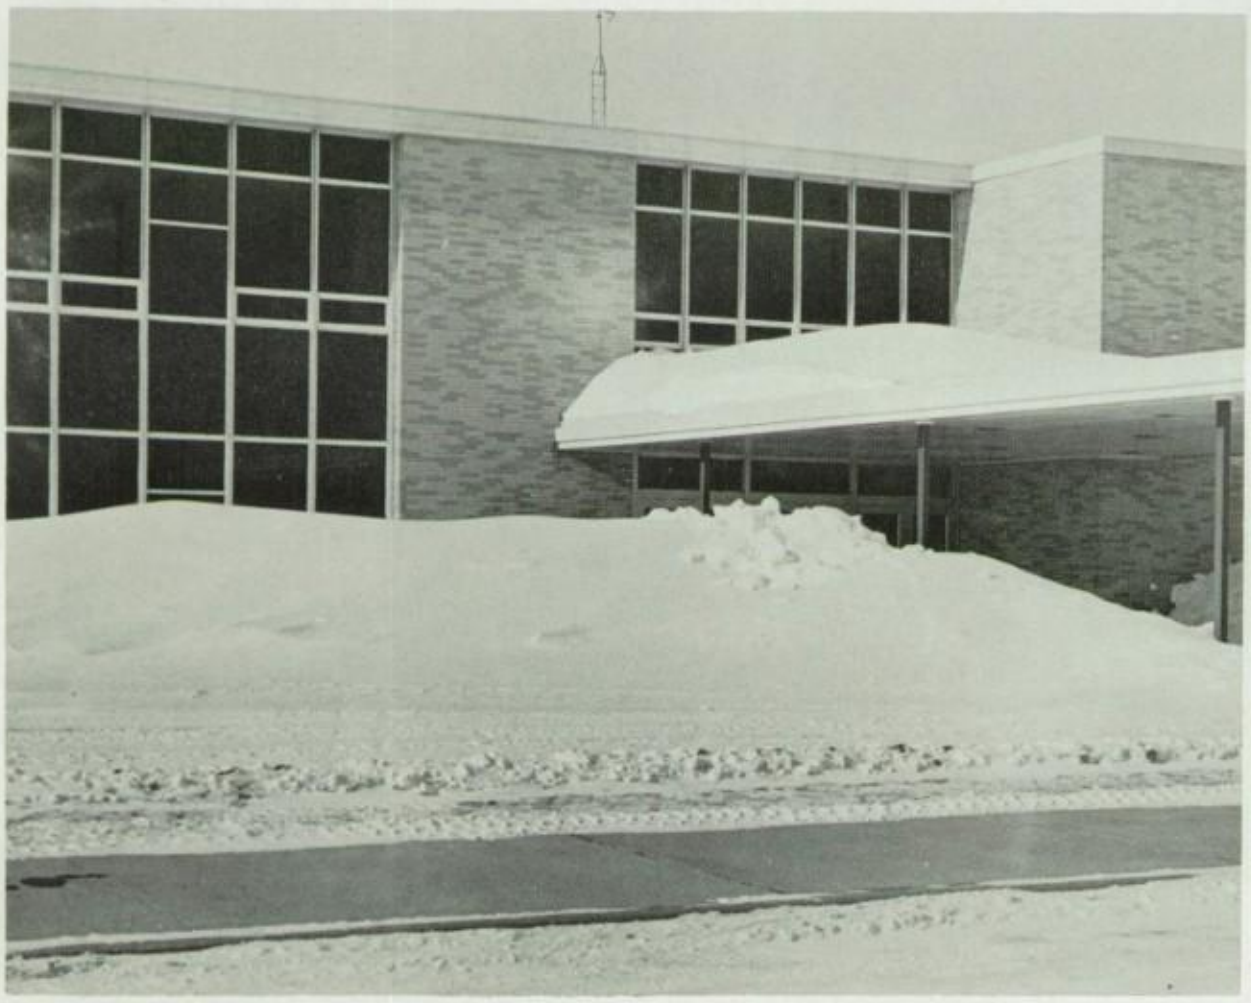
National Events Affect DeKalb

This year at DeKalb everyone was affected by some very important national events. As a result of the coal strike the school had to cut back 50 percent of their energy. Some of the ways of cutting back were with lights, cold lunch was served instead of hot, and ball games were played during the day instead of the evening.

"The Great Blizzard of 78" also affected DeKalb students greatly. Thirteen snow days were missed with winds getting up to 100 m.p.h. and 52 inches of snow fell. But all in all the snow was good for snurfing and sledding if nothing else.

CANDLES WERE MADE to help light the dark halls of DeKalb during their 50 percent cut back of energy.

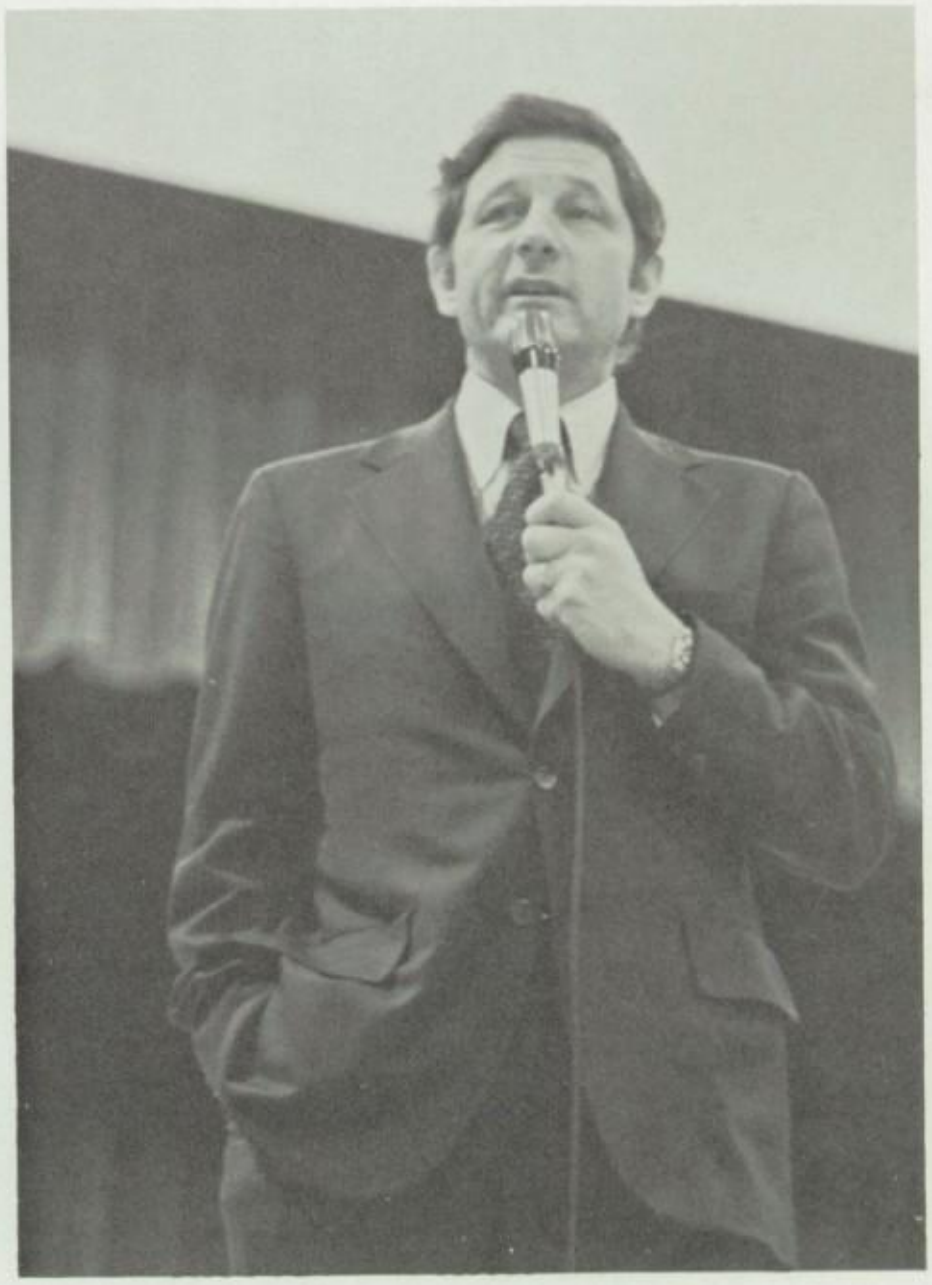
THE COAL STRIKE couldn't be forgotten as you walked down Senior hall after they turned it into the Baron Coal Mine.



THE WIND BLEW, school closed and snow piled up everywhere as a result of "The Great Blizzard of 78."

CUTTING BACK ON energy also meant popping the corn elsewhere and bringing it back to the school to be bagged by these students.

COLD LUNCHES DIDN'T agree with these girls so they had KFC chicken and homemade food brought in for lunch.



AFTER ONCE BEING snowed out Birch Bayh finally made it to DeKalb to speak on national events and answer questions.

THE SENIOR GIRLS listen carefully while their coach, John Acton leads them to a well deserved victory.

BRIAN RICHARDS seems to be proud of his date, Jaymee Lepley after being crowned this year's Homecoming queen.

Seniors Win Homecoming & Powder Puff Game

Homecoming started off with a knock down drag out Powder Puff football game between the Junior and Senior girls. The Seniors won a hard fought game 24 to 0. SENIOR POWER!!!

That evening Goshen defeated our Barons in gridiron action. Half time events included the crowning of Jaymee Lepley by last year's queen Karen Schlosser. Jaymee's escort was Brian Richards. Other Senior attendants were Karen Muhn escorted by Bill Hathaway and Deb Baker escorted by Stan Hall. The Junior attendant was Jill Kuhlhorst escorted by Kevin Bowman and the Sophomore attendant was Rhonda Healey. Her escort was Kevin Meyer.

"Bright Moments" was the theme of this year's Homecoming dance. "Choice" was the featured band for the after-game event. Past Homecoming queens and their escorts had a reunion in the Commons following the game.

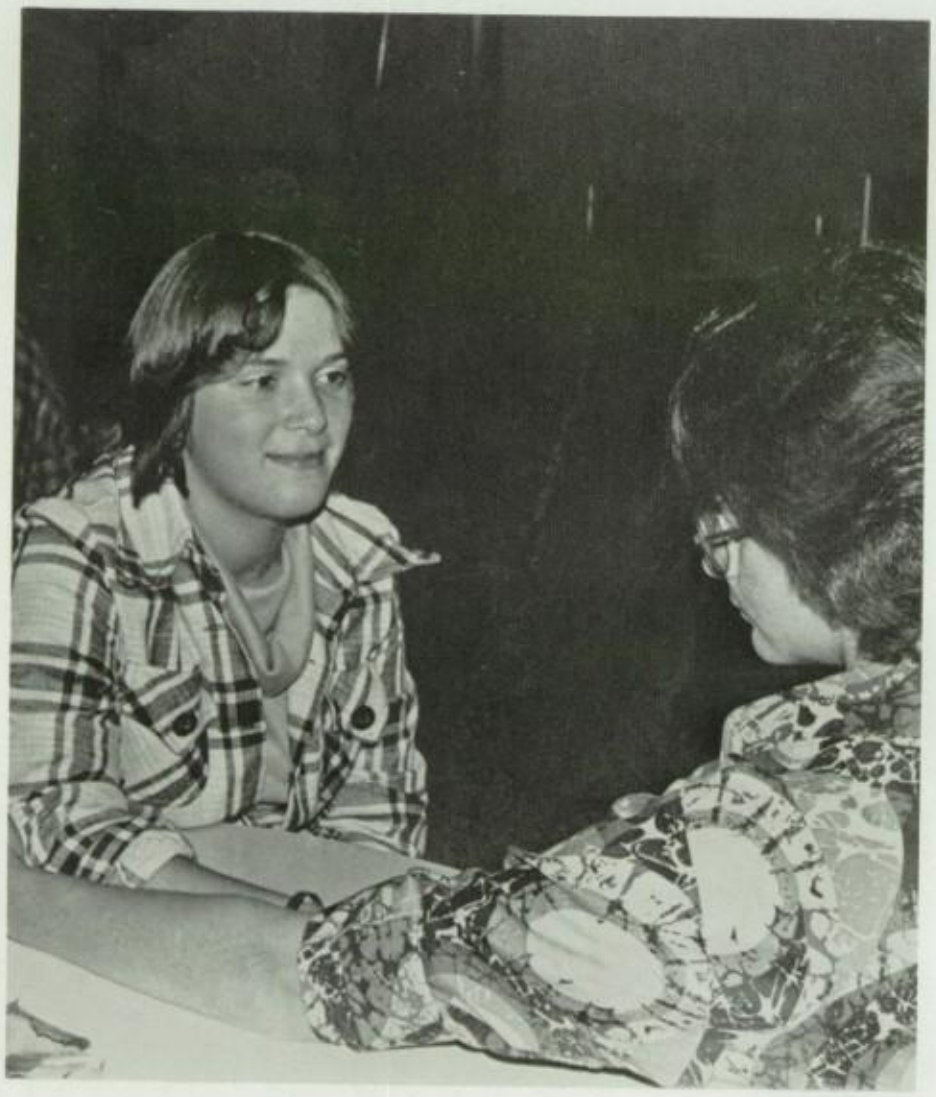
DEB BAKER (above) was one of the Senior attendants chosen by her class. Her escort was Stan Hall.

THE JUNIORS SELECTED Jill Kulhorst (above right) for their attendant this year. Her escort was Kevin Bowman.

RHONDA HEALEY was chosen by her class. Rhonda selected Kevin Meyer to be her escort for the evening.

JUST AFTER BEING married at the "Hitchin' Booth" Steph Deardorf and Hank Voelkel toast to their honeymoon.

SITTING OUT A DANCE Deb Mergy and her date, Scott Smith, listen to the disco music of The Sebelle Sound Company.



SERVING REFRESHMENTS at the Student Council sponsored Sadie Hawkins Dance are Bert Rinehart and Mr. Hull.

Baron Pride Leaves Its Mark

CHOSEN BY THE student body to be Mr. and Miss Valentine of 1978 were seniors Dan Schaeffer and Janine Comment.

Baron pride left its mark this year on the Sadie Hawkins Dance and Valentine's Day. These two events will always be remembered by those students who participated.

Student Council sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance on October 29. Providing the music for the disco was the Sebelle Sound Company. The main attraction of the night was the "Hitchin' Booth" where couples were united in matrimony.

DeKalb's annual Dress-up Day was on Valentine's Day once again. The halls were filled with guys in suits and girls in formals. Dan Shaeffer and Janine Comment were chosen to be Mr. and Miss Valentine by the student body. To make the day even more special, the students and faculty gave carnations to Valentines of their choice.

IN COMP CLASS, Roger Rudolph seems to be day-dreaming happy thoughts about his Valentine who sent him the carnation.

SPIRITED SUZY SCRANAGE takes part in the Valentine Dress-Up Day by modeling her fancy formal.

"Stop the World I Want Off"

"Stop the World — I Want to Get Off" was the production chosen for this year's musical. It tells the story of a young man who falls in love and finds himself in the "family way." He falls in love at other various times while on business trips. Age brings him to retirement and the last days with his wife. He dies bringing the circle of life one full term.

Littlechap, the main character, was played by Jim Schmidt and his wife Evie was played by Angie Outland. Other characters were Bert Rinehart, Jill Shankle, Brenda Davis, Marcy Freed and Dee Dee Waluk.

The staging was unique — with the front of the stage, which represented a circus ring, extending to within inches of the front row of the audience. Although a somewhat controversial production, "Stop the World" was enjoyed by most of those who attended.

LITTLECHAP'S DAUGHTER (Bert Rinehart) struggles to hold her father back while he and Evie nag, nag, nag at each other.

BEING TYPICALLY ENGLISH is the pride of Evie (Angie Outland) as she tells the audience what her mother taught her.

AFTER WELCOMING Littlechap and his family to Sludgepool, the chorus returns to its work as factory machines.

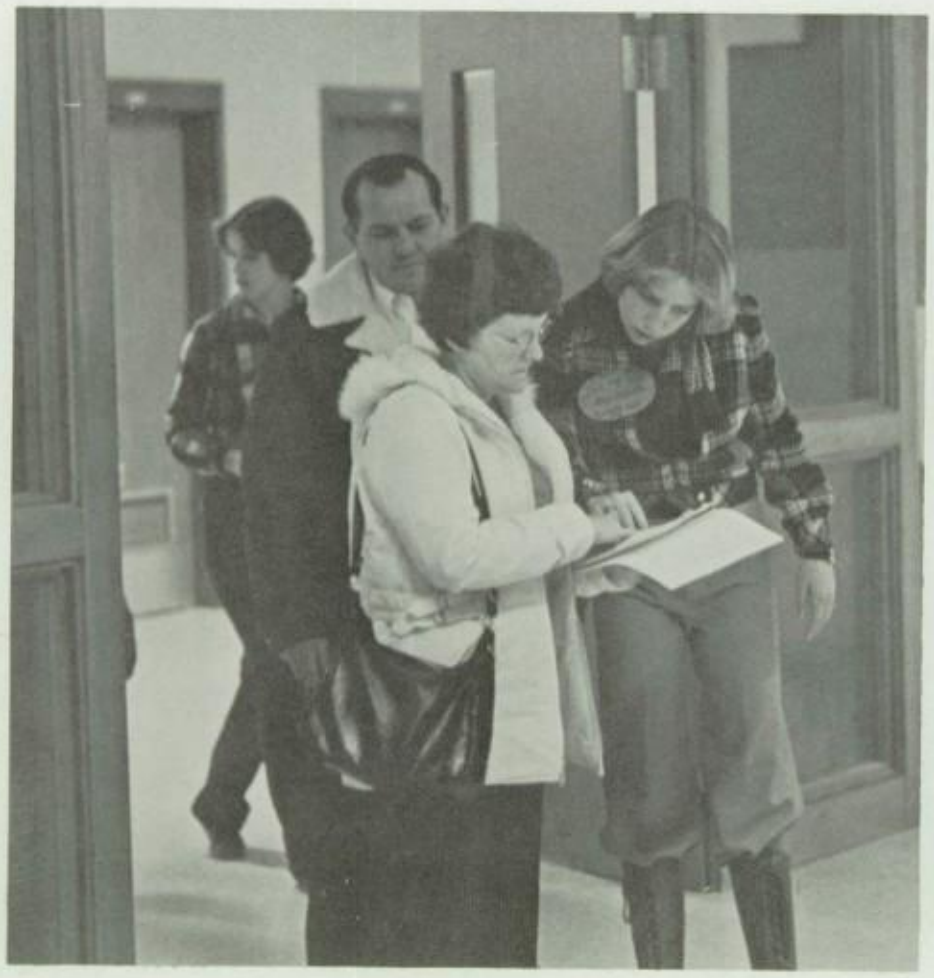
"ALL-AMERICAN" is the song presented by Ginnie (Brenda Davis) as she tells of her life and her love for Littlechap.

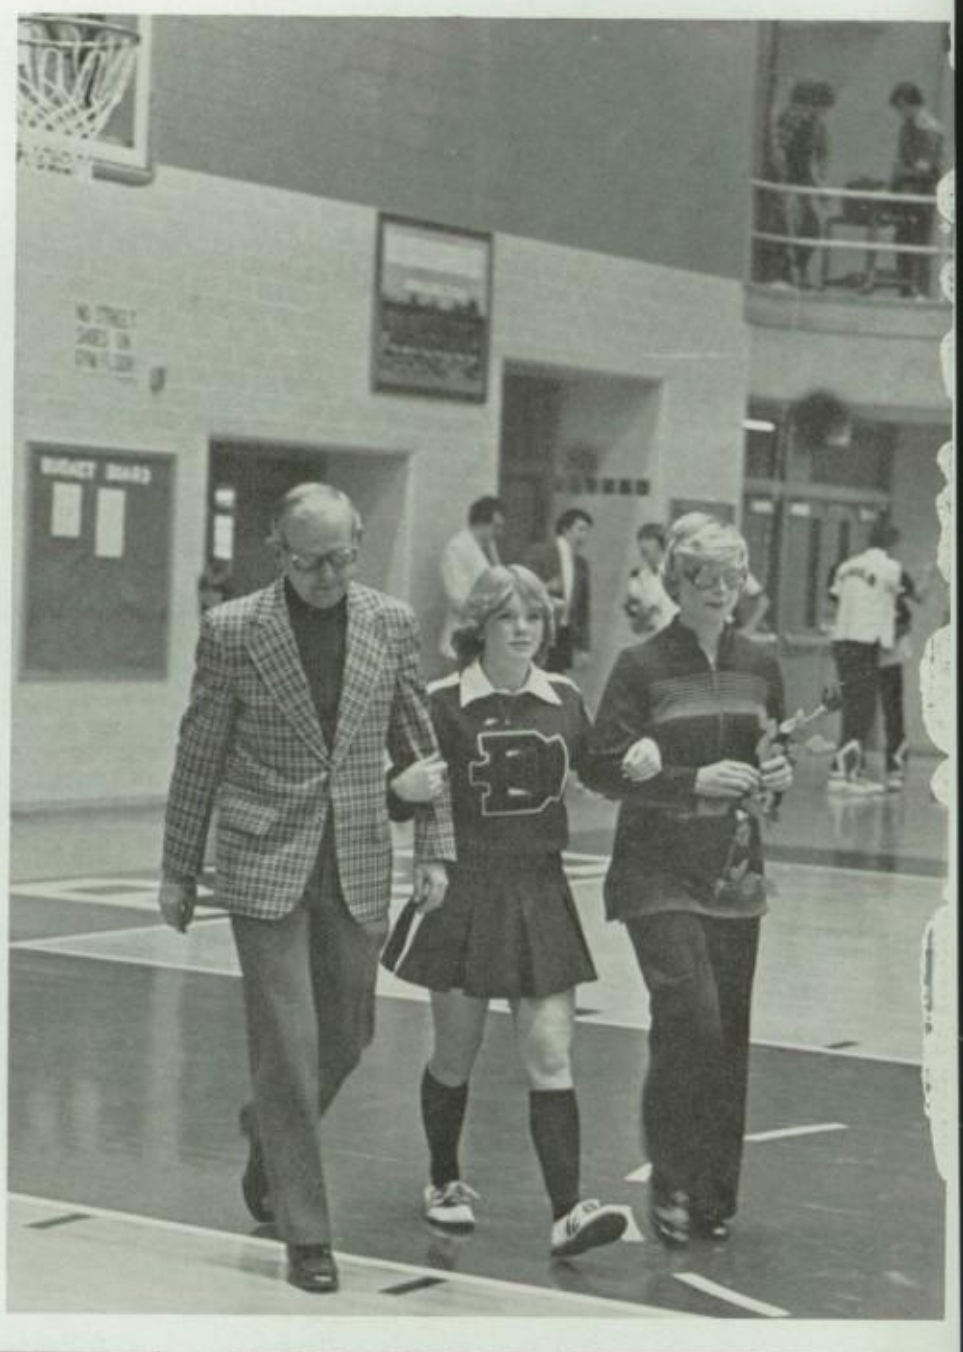
A BUSINESS TRIP to America led to a meeting between Ginnie and Littlechap. Here they express their affections.

AFTER REGRETTING many of the errors he made in the past, Littlechap (Jim Schmidt) asks "What kind of fool am I?"

PARENTS WERE honored at half-time of the Eastside game. Here Kathi Randle escorts her parents down the floor.

SEEKING DIRECTIONS, these parents ask Kris Feller where they can find their next room on Parents' Night.





AT DAD'S NIGHT Bob Brewer proudly walks up the field with his father as their name is announced.

Let's Hear It For Our Parents

Let's hear it for DeKalb Parents. They take part in many of the Baron activities and are much respected by all of us.

The Baron Boosters again this year did a fantastic job of supporting our Baron athletes. In football the fathers of the players were recognized before a game, and parents of the basketball players, cheerleaders, and managers were honored at a halftime ceremony.

So that all parents can get more acquainted with the school and its programs, a Parents' Night was held during National Education Week.

Again, thanks to all parents and we couldn't have done it without you.

FOLLOWING THEIR CHILD'S class schedule, these parents listen attentively as the science program is explained to them.

PARENTS' NIGHT proves to be a good time for Julie Heimach and her family as they stop at the bookstore for some supplies.

AFTER ALL PLAYERS and their parents were announced, they stood as a group for a round of applause and thanks.

That Magical Season Means Christmas

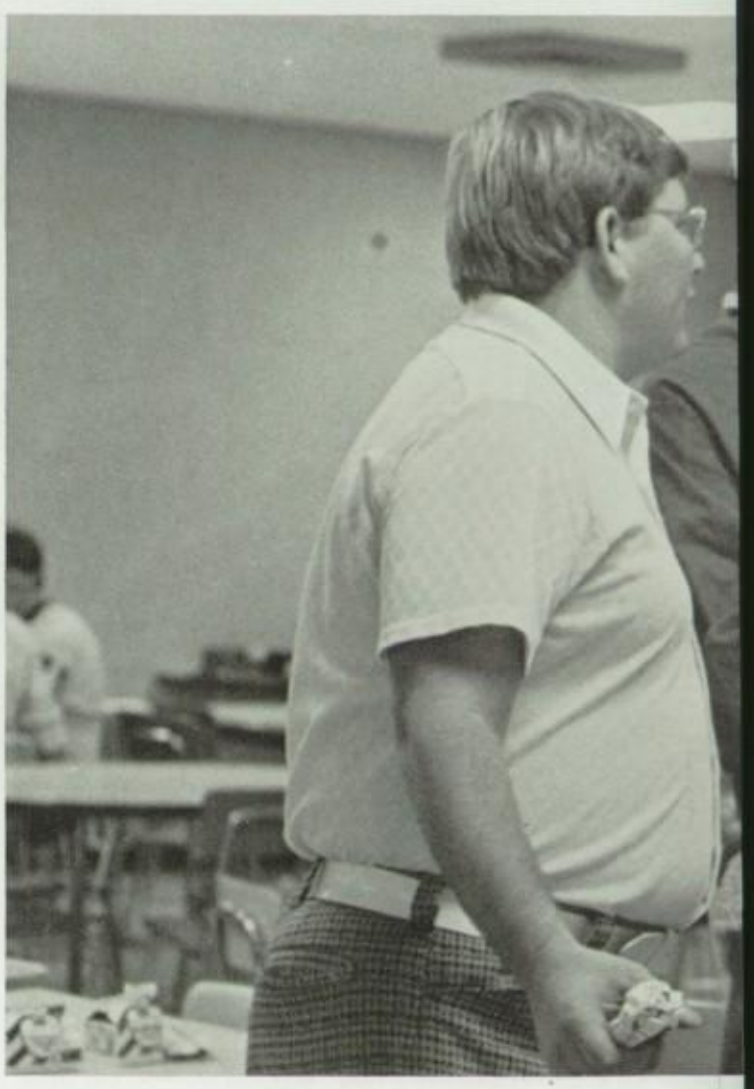
The magical season once again cast its Christmas spell throughout DeKalb's halls. The excitement of giving gifts, decorating the school, and hearing the Christmas carols all exploded joy into the lives of each one of us.

The Christmas Formal, sponsored by the German Club, was held in the Commons on December 28. Couples danced to the excellent music played by the popular band "Choice."

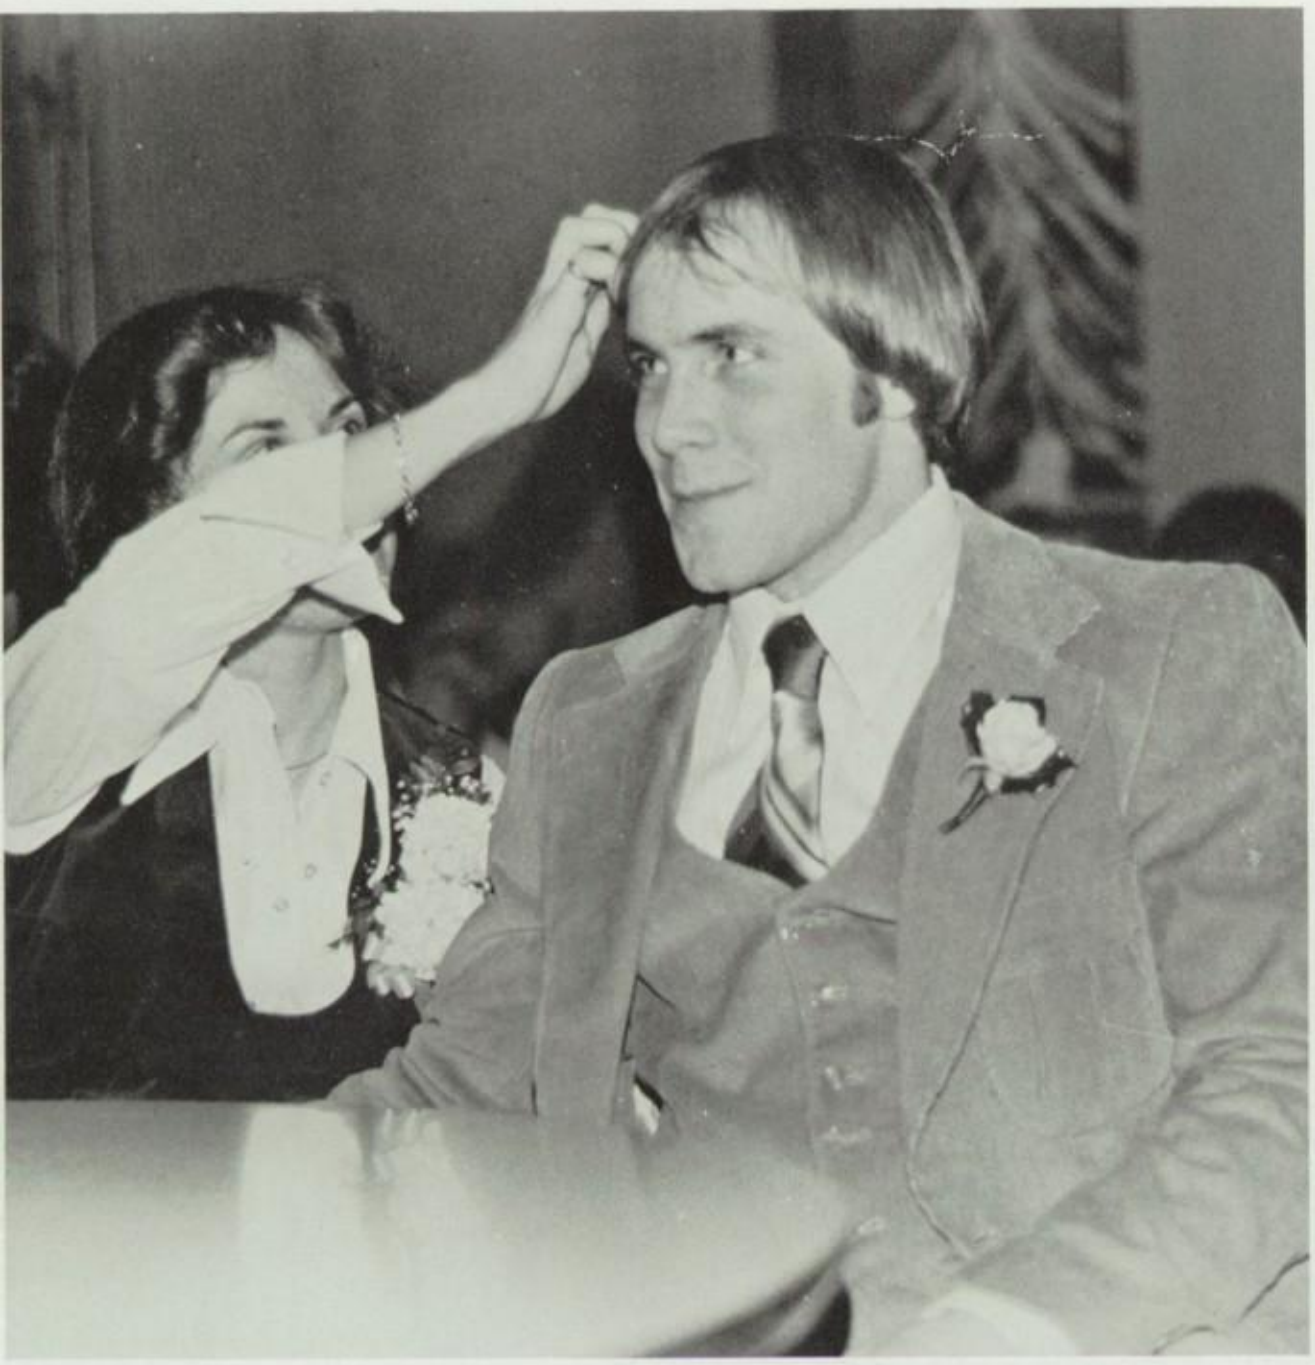
Student Council helped the Catholic Church by collecting canned food from the student body to be distributed to needy families. The project was a success and Santa Claus visited the school during noon hour just before vacation with popsicles to reward us for a job well done. Baron Pride was shown through the Christmas season.

RELAXING TO MUSIC played by "Choice," Greg Shively and Lori Hansen enjoy their dance at the German Club sponsored event.

FINISHING HIS Christmas meal, Don Middleton hopes that Santa will leave him an extra gift beneath the tree.



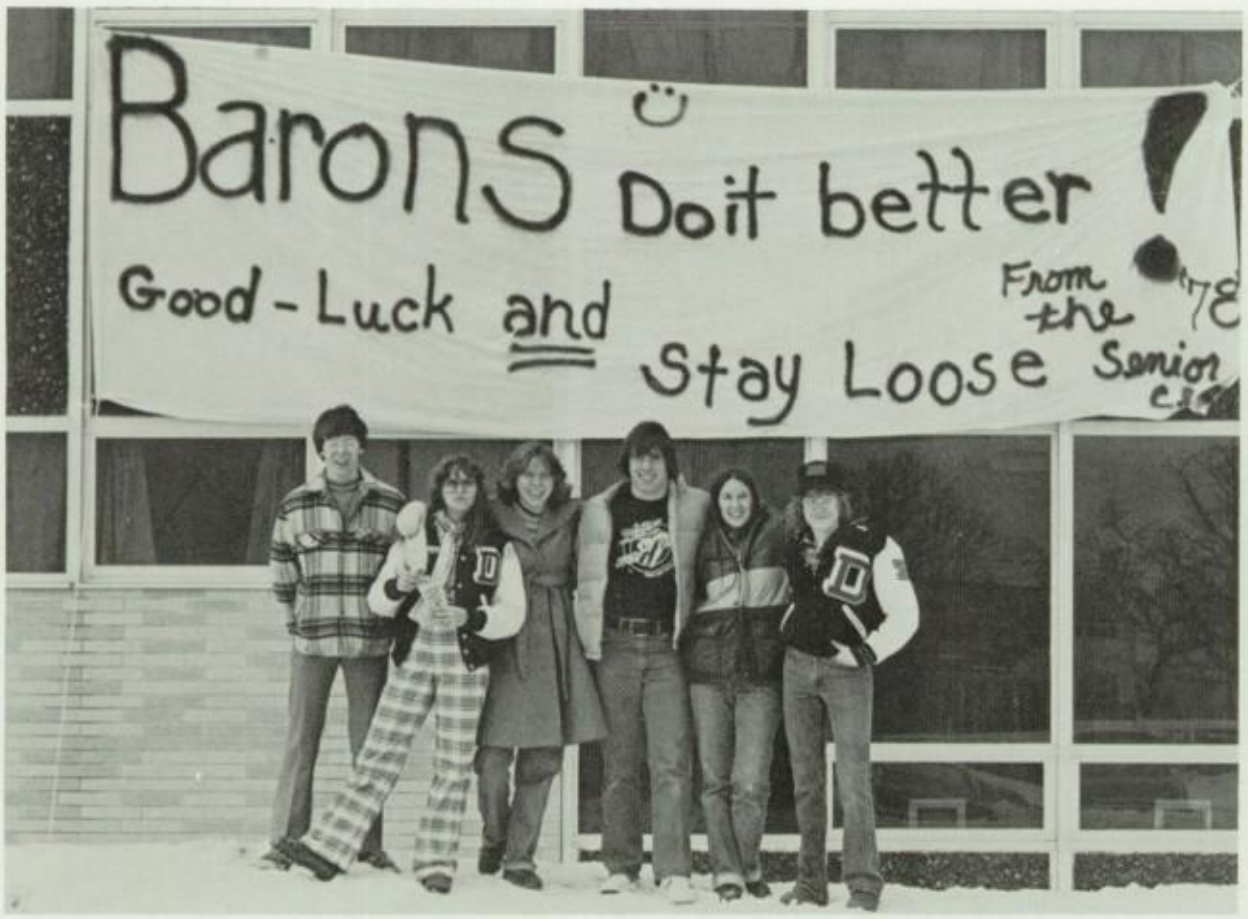
DEKALB'S A.D. (always devouring), Dick McKean, tries to talk Santa Hull into letting him have another ice cream bar.

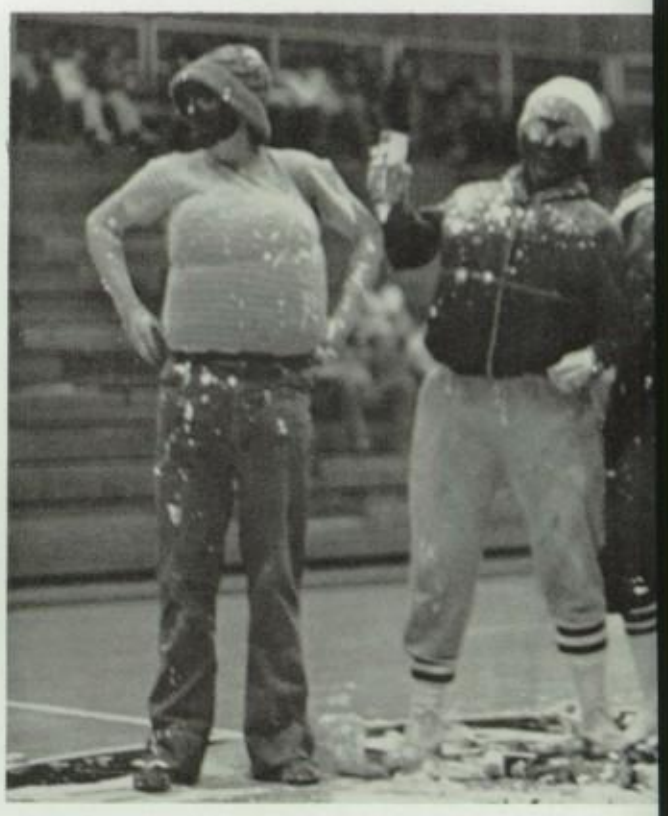


FIXING DAVE CONRAD'S hair, Lisa Butler prepares them for their next attempt at the dance floor.

SKATES? ROGER RUDOLPH wonders about the Christmas spirit of Brenda Davis and Rhonda Weilbaker.

RESTING OUT a dance, Brad Blevins and Angie Baird enjoy each other's company at the Christmas Formal.

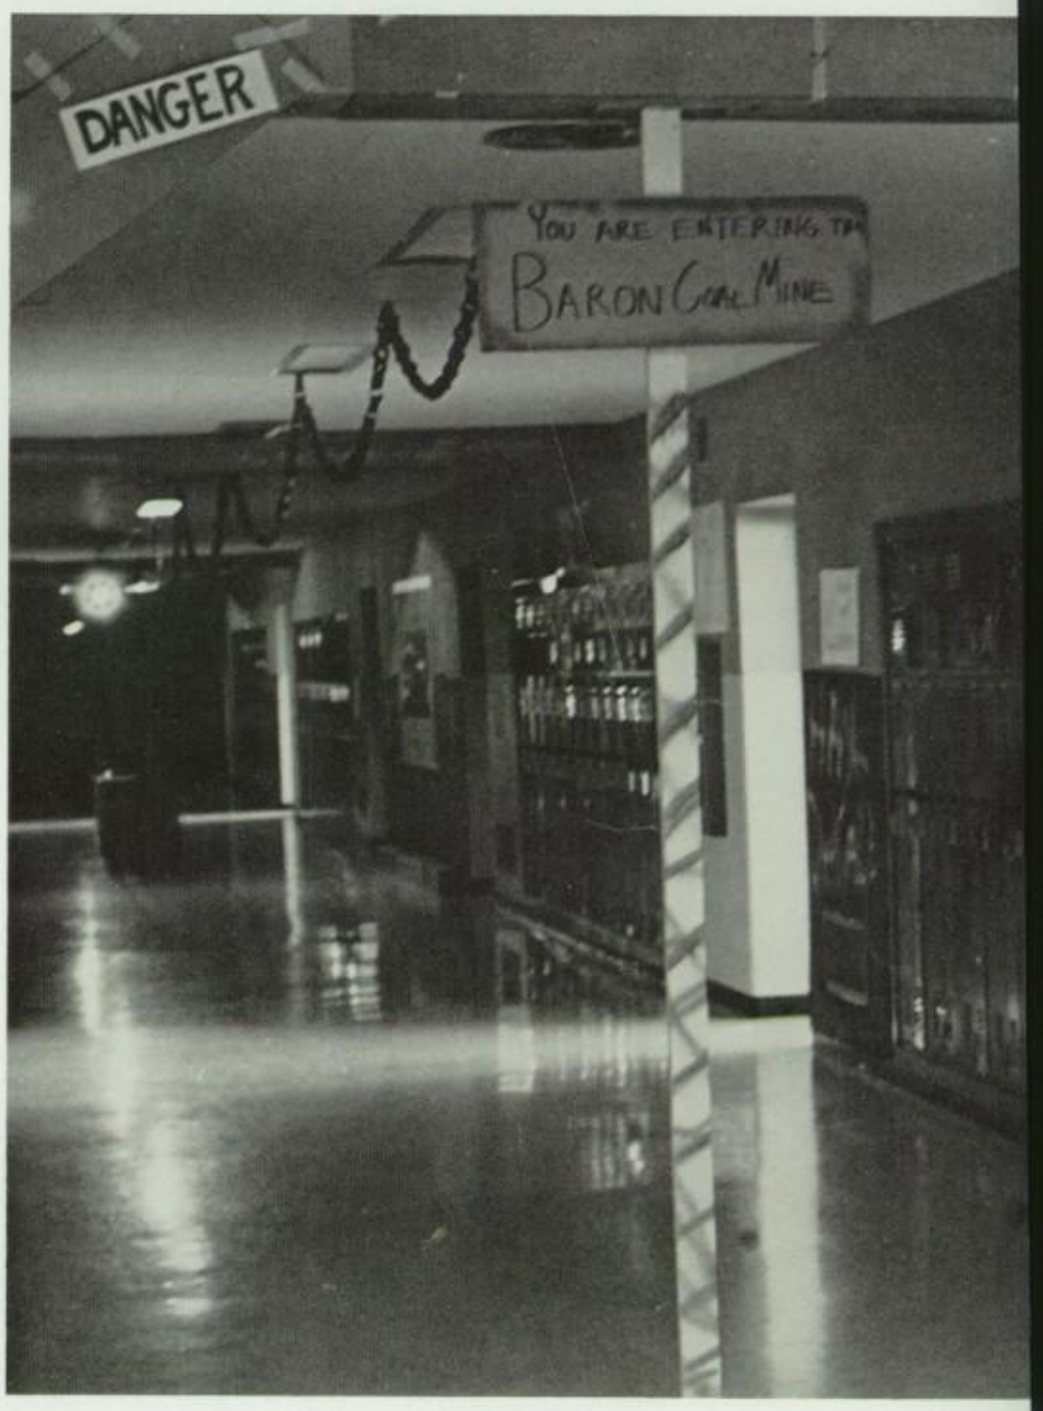




AT A PEP SESSION for the Garrett game the Fat Albert Gang shows how to "Chew 'Em Up and Spit 'Em Out."

BARONS DO IT better is demonstrated by these Seniors as they back their Barons during sectional week.

PUTTING IN HER part Diane Stahl helps the sophomore class to a victory of hall decorations this year.



THE BARON COAL Mine is one display by the Seniors to show that they have spirit and pride.

Spirit Shines at DHS

Pep sessions, hall decorations, hat day, dress up day and all the other activities at DeKalb are all a part of creating school spirit and Baron Pride.

Another Baron tradition is each class decorating a hall for Sectional. This year the sophomore class won with their hall display, the Juniors used "Star Wars" and the seniors had a Baron Coal Mine.

Also helping to create Baron Spirit this year were the pep band, Baron Boosters, teachers, and all of DeKalb's fans. With all of these groups working together it proves that DeKalb Barons are the greatest!

A GREAT EXAMPLE of Baron Pride and school spirit is displayed here at a pep session before the Garrett game.

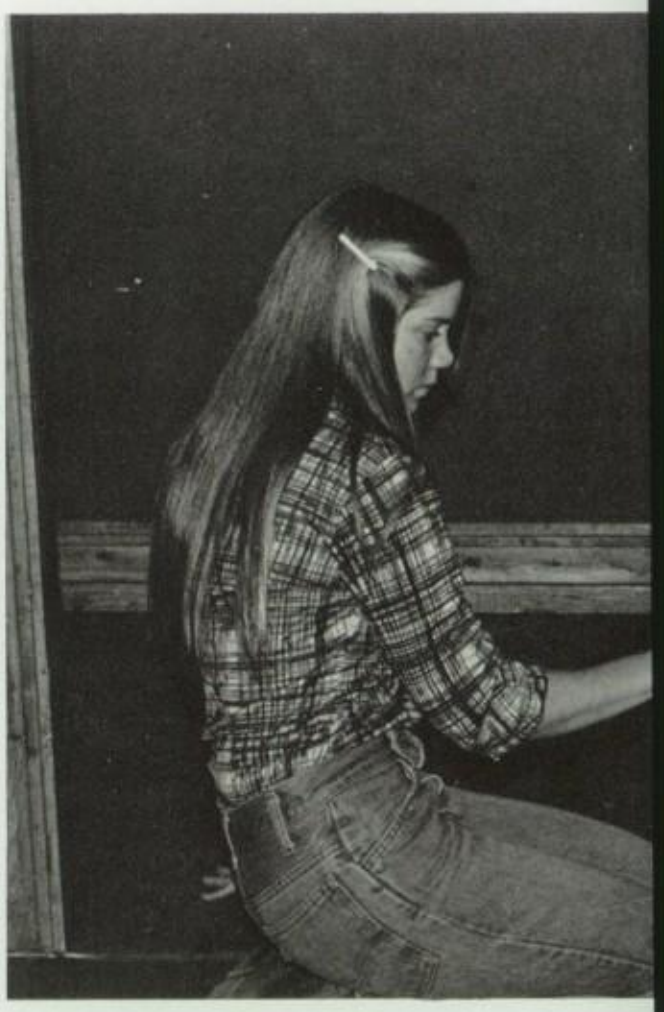
CHEERING UP THE Barons after being defeated in sectional play, two unknown creatures appeared in the halls of DeKalb.

The Stage Is Set

With the stage set, actors well rehearsed, stage cues tight, and the lights down low, the curtain opened on U.T.B.U. The week prior to opening was hectic and the cast wondered if the "show would go on" due to the energy crisis. The school board consented to performances on two of the three scheduled nights.

Keeping with tradition, DeKalb staged another rousing comedy. In a critic's eye this is one of the more difficult plays to produce, but under guidance of Gerry Nagel the drama department entertained its audiences with excellence. Kay Stoneking probably created one of the best character portrayals on a DeKalb stage.

The technical crew also did a superb job in creating numerous believable stage gimmicks and special effects.



THE ROMANCE BETWEEN Anastasia Amber and Eugene Boyer is watched with interest by Connie Tufford (Lisa Fee) and Mother Amber.

HEAD BOMBER, WILLIAM Uggims (Brian Fee) admires the Oscar that was previously won by J. Francis Amber (Jim Schmidt).

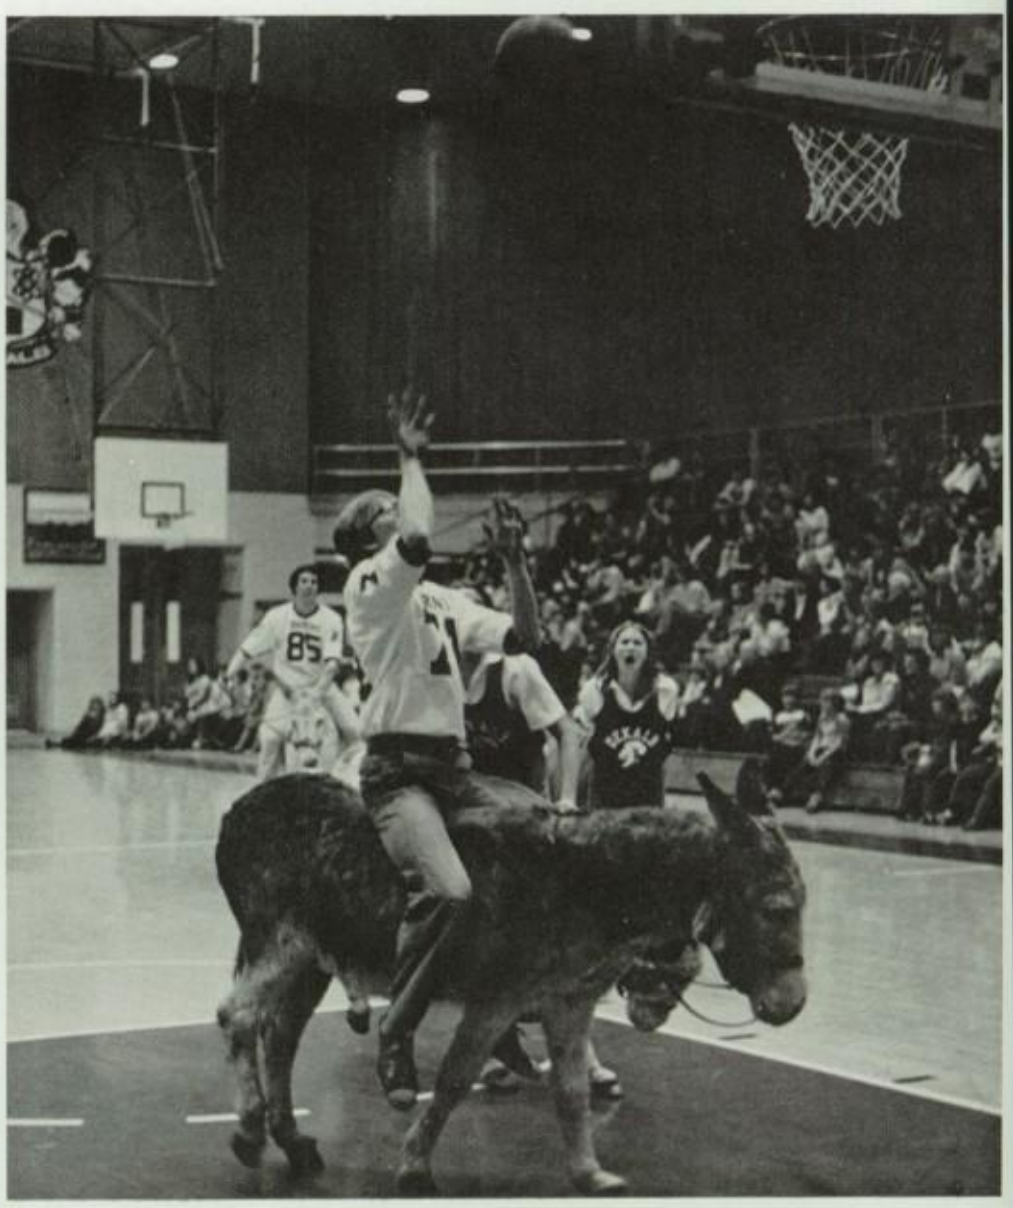
PREPARING FOR THE opening night of U.T.B.U. Lori Martz and Cathy Dove help to get the stage set ready.

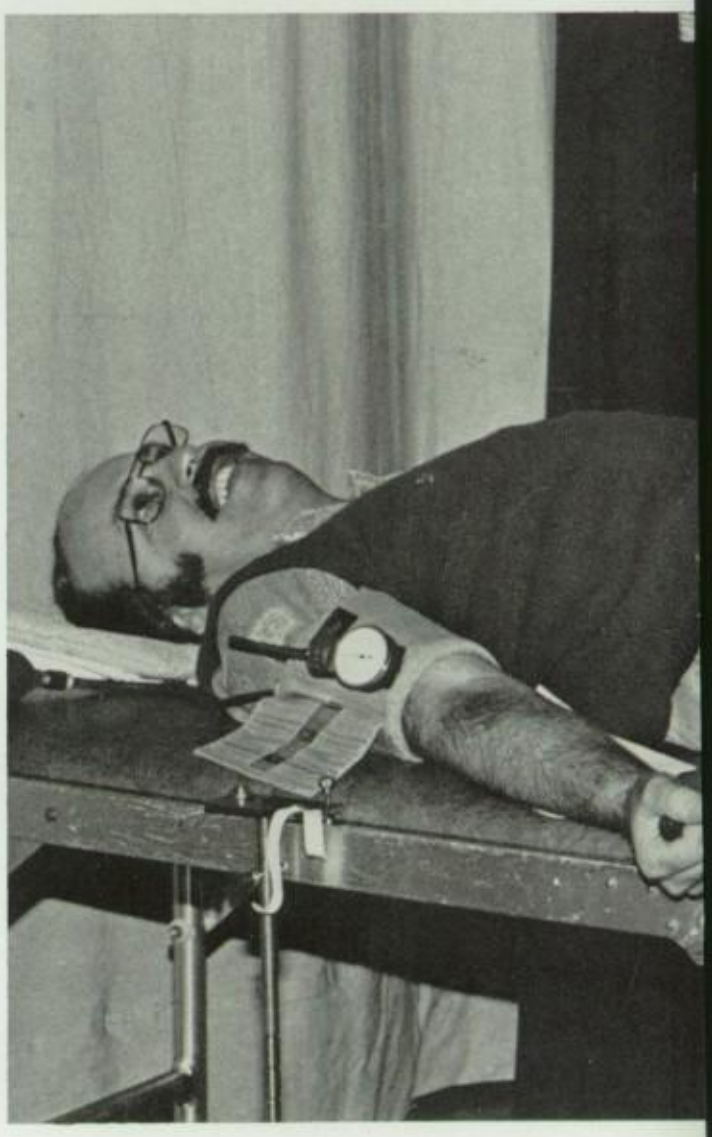
ENCOURAGED by her mother (Barb Mantle), Miss Blank Rogers (Laurie Pontoni) prepares to audition for Amber's new play.

MOTHER AMBER (Kay Stoneking) acts out her fantasy of being a cowgirl by practicing her rear-view aim.

AFTER EATING AN orange at lunch, Deb Mergy can not decide if she should eat the whole thing or not.

MR. NAGEL AND HIS partner, Jack, attempt to make two points. The faculty went on to win the game.





RECOUPERATING FROM GIVING a pint of blood, Jenny Lawrence and Jama Phillips eat refreshments provided by F.C.A.

It Was A Year Of Helping And Fun

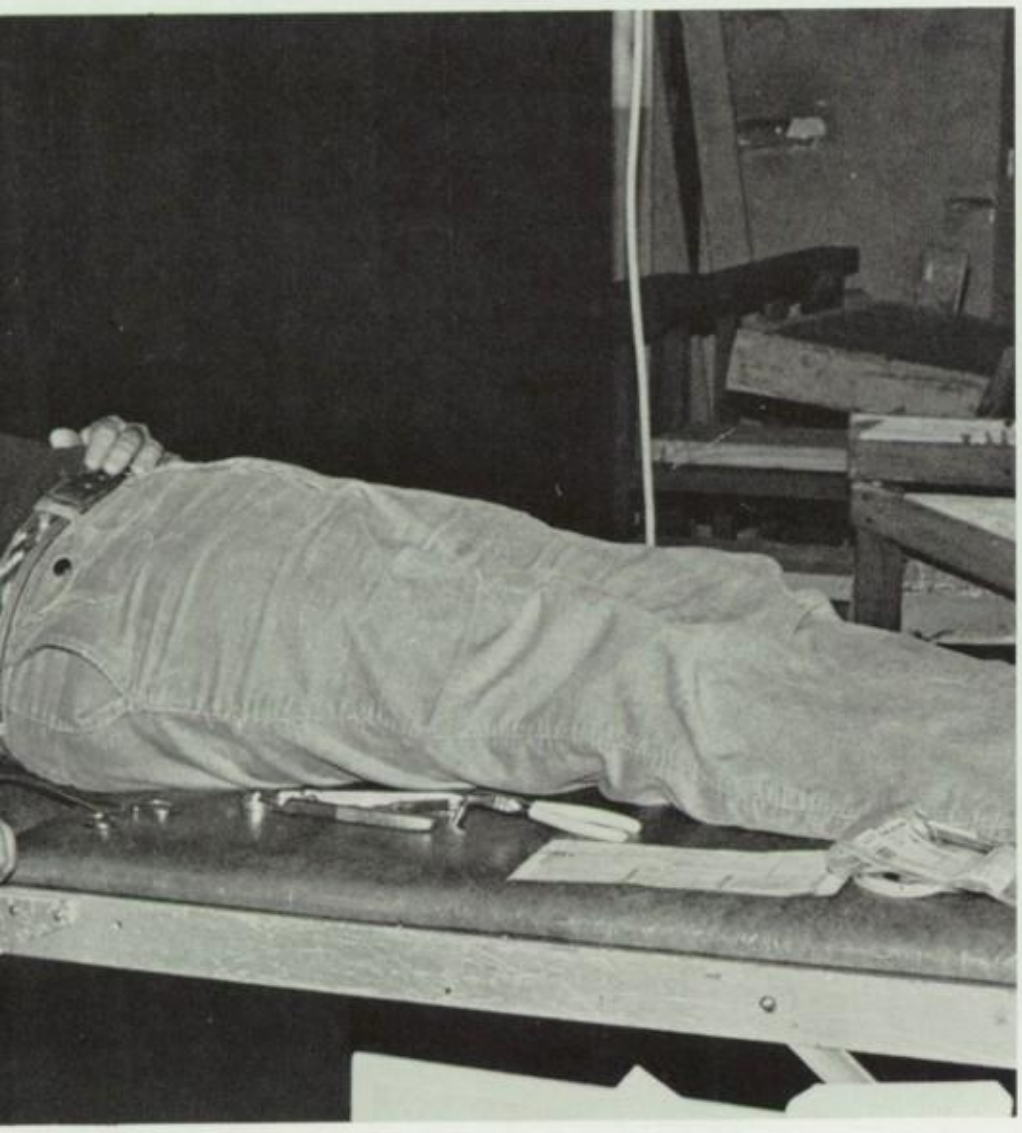
The year was full of good times; some of those times were to help others, while some were just for enjoyment. DeKalb's faculty and student body gave blood, assisted the Junior Class money making project, and worked in the bookstore.

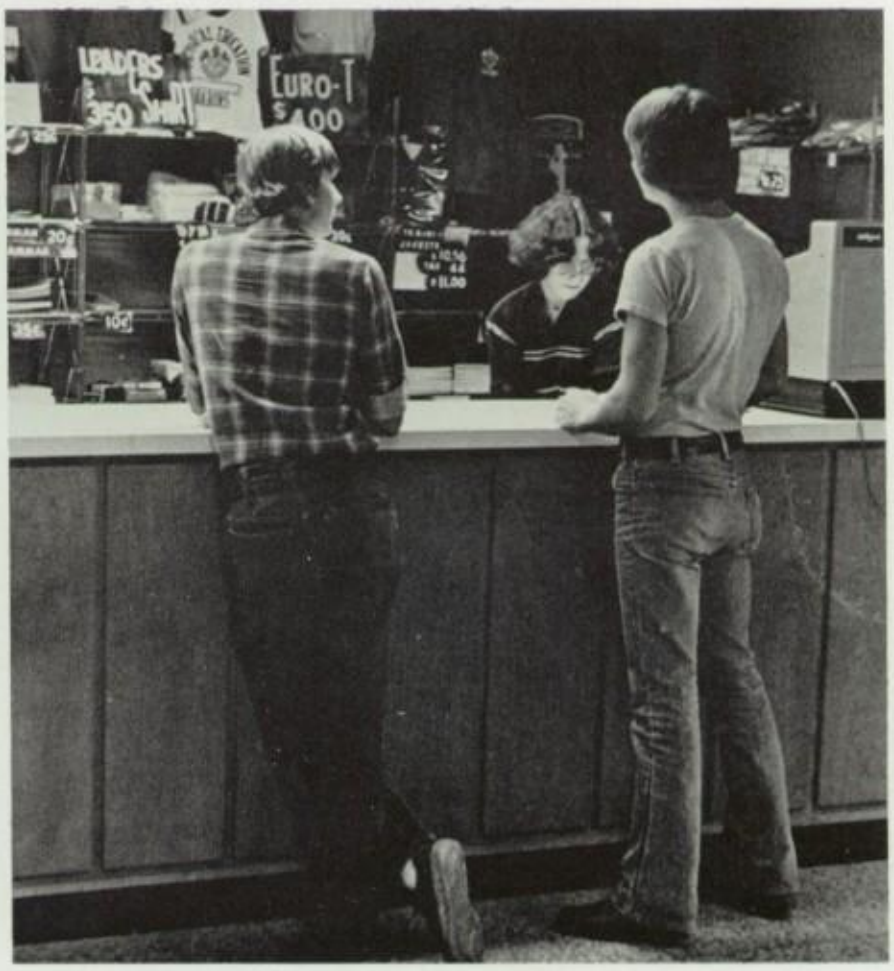
As many will agree the most enjoyable time of a school day is lunch time. It is a time to visit the bookstore, gossip, and play cards.

Spring activities bring the blood mobile and Donkey Basketball. Students of age donated 136 pints of blood to surpass the goal of 115. The faculty upset the girl's basketball team in the Donkey Basketball game. The money making project of the Junior Class was a success.

WITH SHOVEL IN HAND, Mr. Walton cleans up the mess his friend and partner has just left behind.

BELOW: WHILE DAN SHAEFFER decides what he needs from the bookstore, Joe Ellert tries to get Teressa Treesh's attention.





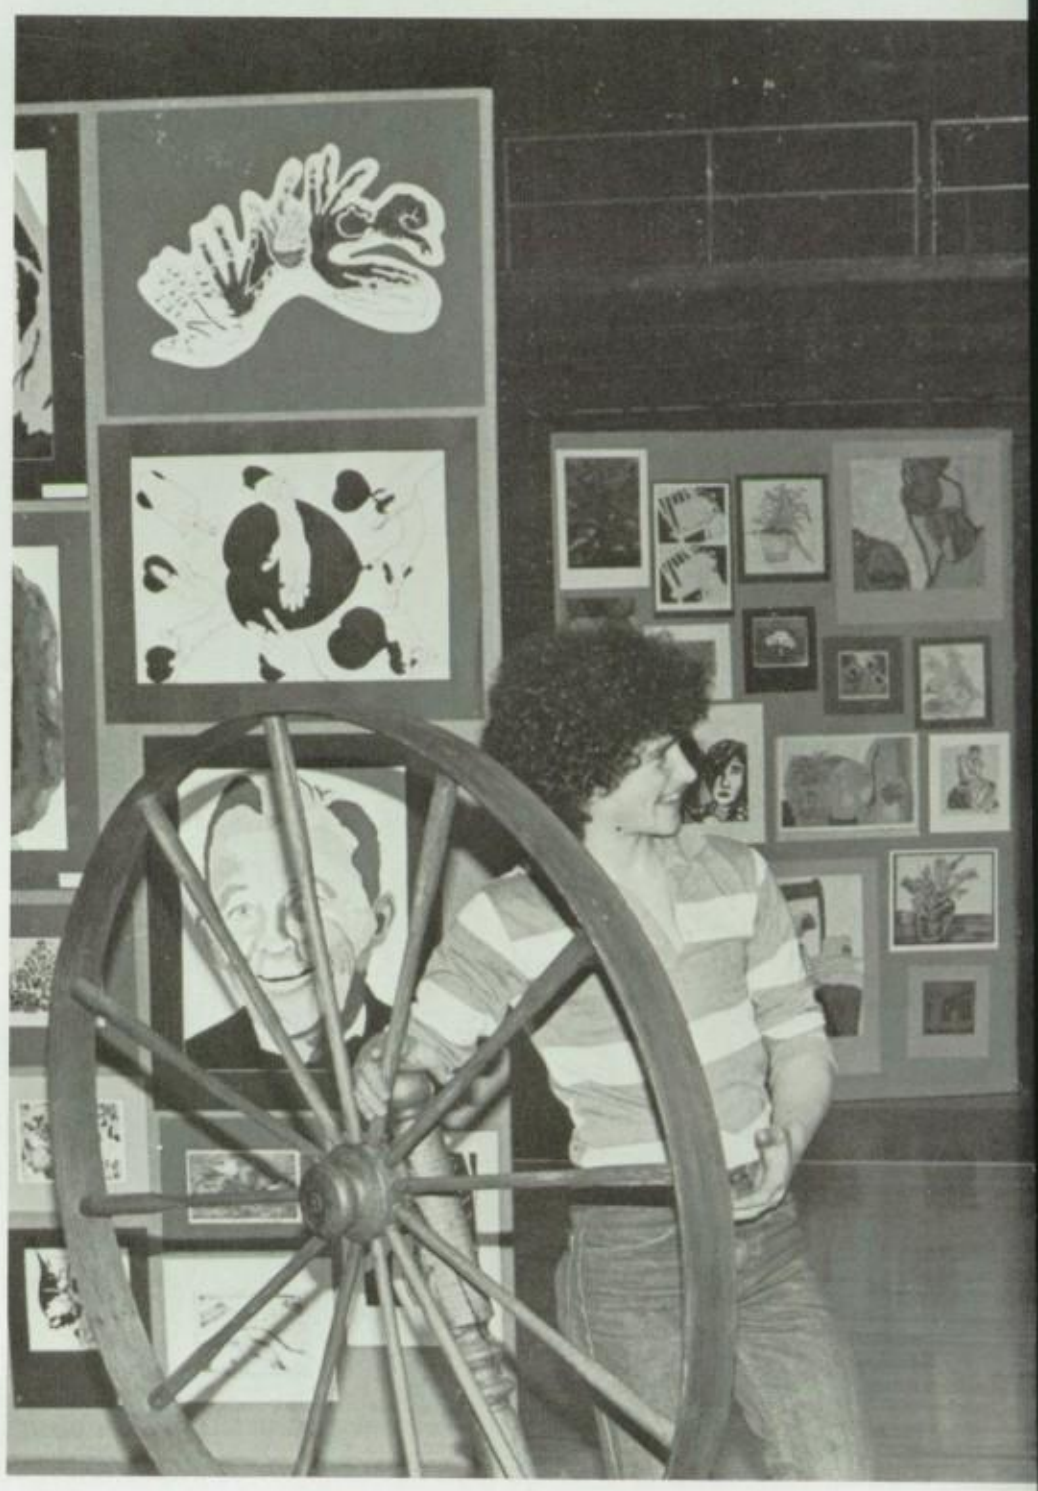
MR. WILDER GIVES a smile as he has his blood pressure taken and just before he gives his blood.

Creativity Shows

This year the annual Fine Arts Festival began May 6. Students and teachers spent all day Friday setting up group and individual displays in the gymnasium. Sunday afternoon the bands put on a concert in the auditorium and Monday evening is when the choirs held their concert. Both Sunday and Monday after the concerts were over people browsed in and out of the gym viewing all the different displays by the Woods, Home Ec, Graphic Arts, Photography and Art departments.

This year's Fine Arts Festival was very well put together and is something all students should be proud of.

SETTING UP HIS display Virgil Smith made a stage for the puppets he made in crafts class.



USING A SPINNING wheel to top off his display Jackie Hayward gets distracted from his job for a few minutes.

WATCHING THE DIRECTOR for the right cues is very important to make all parts of the song sound perfect (left, opposite).

AFTER THE CONCERTS parents and friends enjoyed looking at the many creative art displays in the gym.

USING HAY FOR HER display Janeen Steury carefully arranges her paintings and drawings.

BETH ZONKER WHISTLES off to her own secret world of art while she sets up for the annual art festival.

Junior Achievement - Business Experience

Giving students experience in business is a major part of Junior Achievement. Competing, selling products, being a stockholder, and managing a business are some of the basic things that students learn. They are also taught the various aspects of the free enterprise system.

This year JA consisted of four companies: Spicers, CJ's, Reke, and Dynamic Products. Four Auburn companies Dana, Cooper Industrial Products, Rieke, and Warner Gear sponsor these groups. They also help by donating money and supplying each JA company with advisors.

This year Auburn had four finalists for scholarships. Gloria Collins, Teri Schippers, and Brian Glick were finalists for the JA Scholarship. Rachel Kuta was a finalist for the Better Business Bureau Essay Scholarship.

For the first time, a Dekalb student was a finalist for the contest of Officer of the Year. Gloria Collins was nominated for Safety Director of the Year. Junior Achievement proved to be a rewarding experience for everyone who became involved in it.

WAITING NERVOUSLY for a scholarship interview, Brian Glick and Teri Schippers try to relax at the Fort Wayne Center.

TAKING A COFFEE BREAK, Rick Schippers of Reke, has his hands full after spending time making coat hangers and step ladders.

ENERGY SHORTAGE makes sales high. Tracey Ramsey and Mike Reinoehl inspect hanging lantern during a Dynamic Products meeting.

PUTTING THE FINISHING TOUCHES on her ladder, Amy Sockrider looks pleased with the job she has done.

ORGANIZING AND KEEPING things together is just part of the Center Manager's job. Mr. Bill Heller has been at the Auburn Center for the past two years.

TAKING INVENTORY, members of Spicers count the Automobile Trouble Lights that they have made.

PREPARING FOR A TEST, Gloria Collins of CJ's looks over her safety books, hoping they will provide her with most of the answers.

Students Learn From Brazil and Campus Life

"Campus Life," as one DeKalb student describes it, "is a synonym for just having a good time." Weekly meetings, a Burger Bash, and making new friends are a few of this year's activities. They once again provided the Mousehole with "Under New Management."

Back in July, the Bert Dickman family added an AFS foreign exchange student to their household, named Marcos Caliari. He comes from Colatina, Brazil, and will be here until June. Marcos enjoys mountain climbing, soccer, swimming and traveling.

The Rotary sponsored Claudio Freitas, who lives with C.B. Hathaway's family. Claudio came in February and has already traveled to Florida. Like Marcos, his favorite sport is soccer.

MOST BRAZILIANS might not be too interested in U.S. History, but Claudio Freitas seems pleased with the course.

SCOTT WARSTLER and Eric McDowd think the two foreign exchange students have stolen the show.

JEFF SANDERS passes the time bomb by as quickly as possible to prevent himself from any torture.

THE ELECTRIC CHAIR is put to use by Mr. Black on senior Matt Murry after he lost in a game at a Campus Life Meeting.

ASTOUNDED by all the happenings at the DeKalb Free Fall Fair Marcos Caliari sees something he had missed.

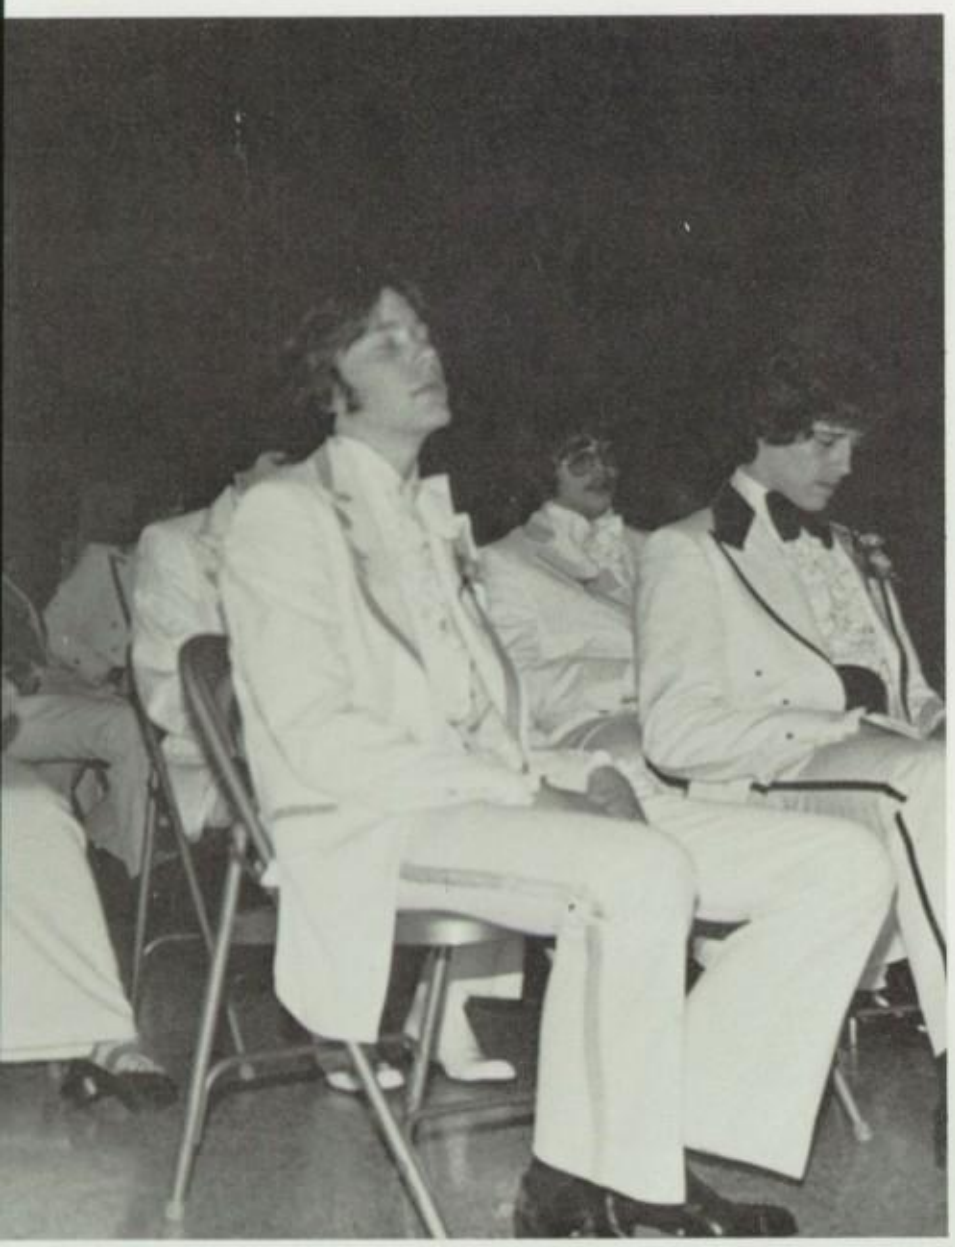
DURING THE BURGER BASH, sponsored by Campus Life, a game of Pushball is played by the active group.

AS COUPLES DANCE to the music of Summer Breeze, Lana Blevins has a few laughs with a friend.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE NIGHT was provided by Frank Peterson. He did not bore every one; he hypnotized them.

JACKIE HAYWARD AND HIS date, Tori Butler smile as they cross over the bridge during the Grand March.

CANDIDATES FOR KING and Queen were Jaymee Lepley, Karen Muhn, Suzy Scranage, Teri Schippers, Brian Richards, Dan Schaeffer, Bill Hathaway, and Roger Rudolph.



You Light Up My Life

"You Light Up My Life" was the theme chosen by the Junior Class for this year's prom. The Junior High commons was decorated with flowers and happy faces throughout the evening of May 13.

The Grand March started at 8:00 and the dancing did not stop until 12:00 a.m. For most, the real fun began after the formal. Many got together at parties, went bowling, went to each others' homes, and just enjoyed the company of the people or person they were with. It was a night that will be long remembered by all.

BRIAN RICHARDS AND Jaymee Lepley were chosen to reign as King and Queen over the 1978 prom.

Seniors Receive Awards

Over 61 members of the class of '78 were awarded on May 10th. Parents, friends, and relatives gathered for the presentations.

Scholastic, athletic, and career scholarships were given to deserving students. Two of the largest awards given were the Dana Scholarship won by Teresa Drerup, and the Bell and Howell Schools award won by Rocky Sattison. The following are the twenty-two students who were honored for their high scholastic level held all four years:

John Acton
Cathy Baker

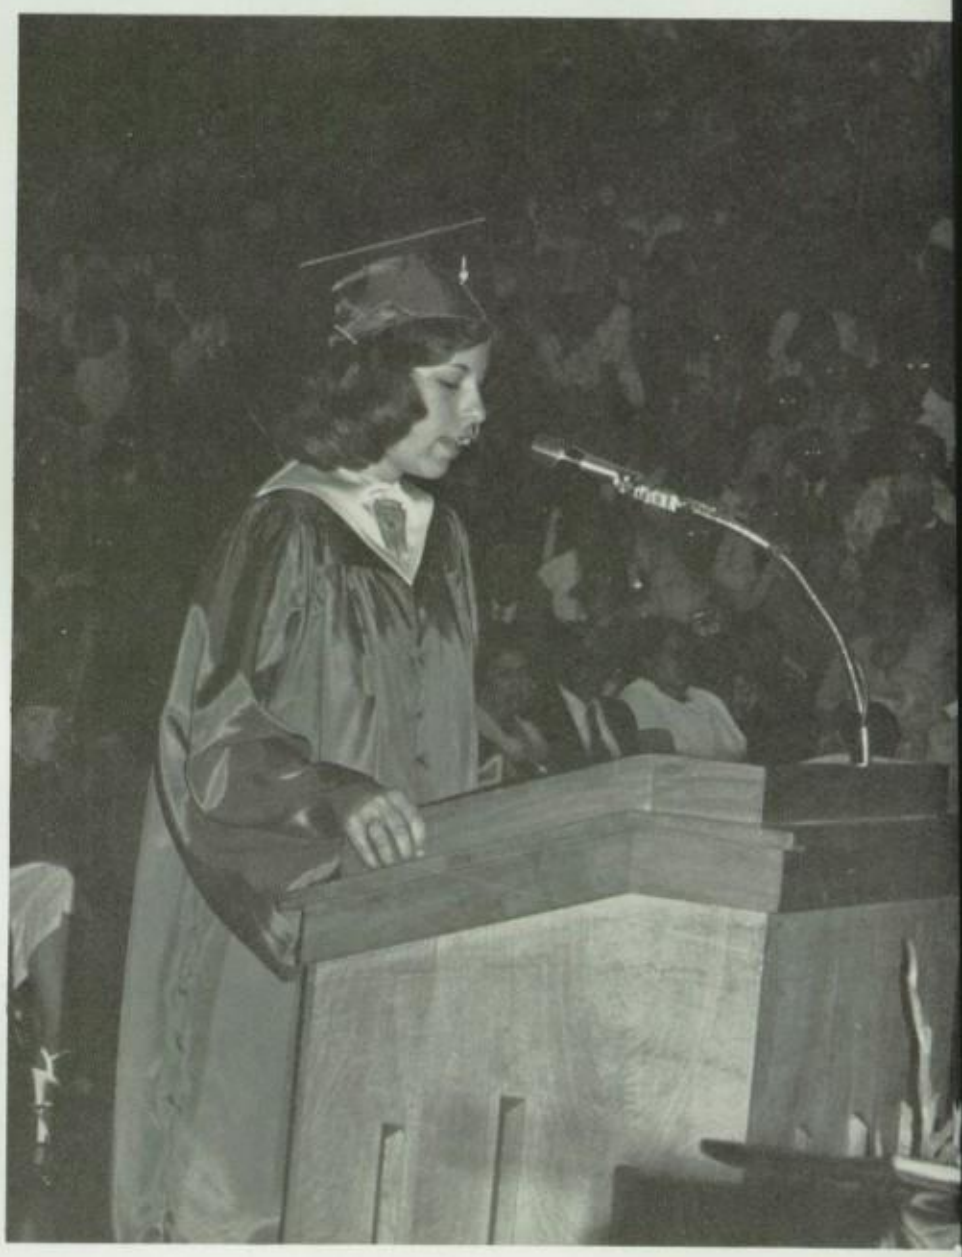
THE CECIL E. YOUNG award was presented to Scott Sommers for his distinguished career at DHS in athletics.

THE NATIONAL SCHOOL Choral award was given to this year's top two seniors, Mark Cherry (shown) and Brenda Davis, in a cappella choir.

AS THOUSANDS WATCH over the class of 1978, the seniors listen intently to one of their fellow classmates delivering a speech.

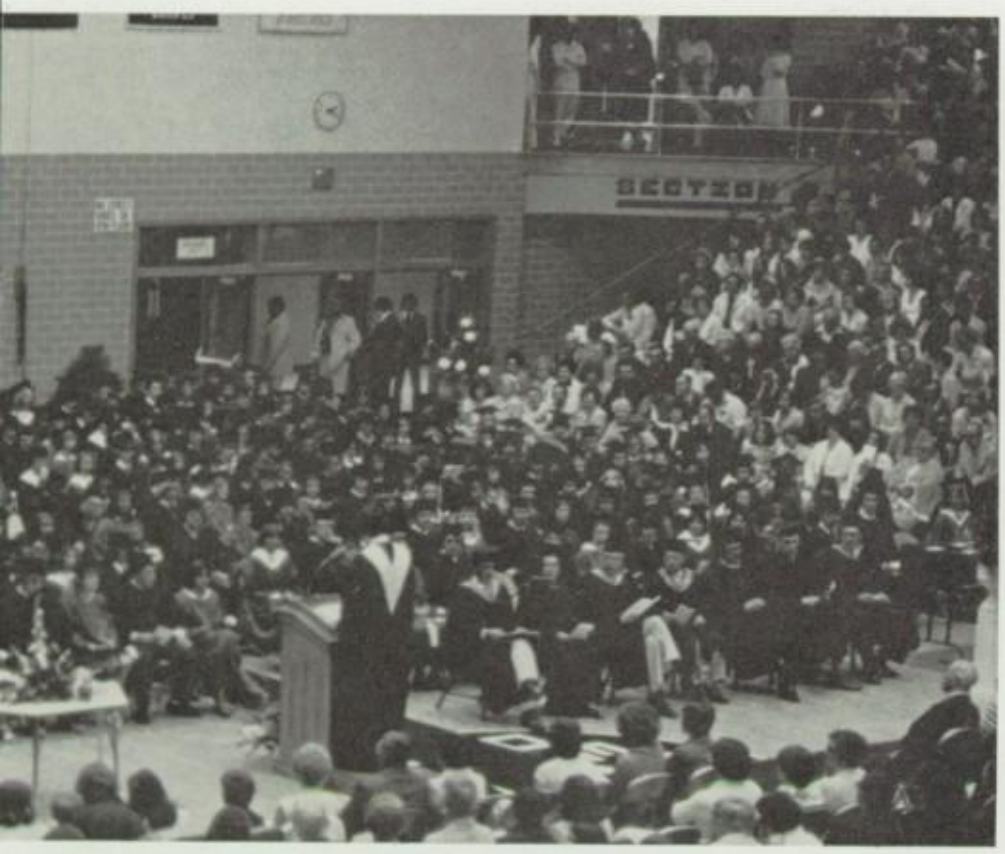
AFTER THE CLASS of 1978 moved their tassels they celebrated by throwing their hats in the air.

WITH A BIG smile on her face, Betty Brady shakes the hand of a school board member as she receives her diploma.



AS SHE STEADIES HER hand on the podium, Teresa Drerup addresses the seniors and says farewell and good luck to her friends.

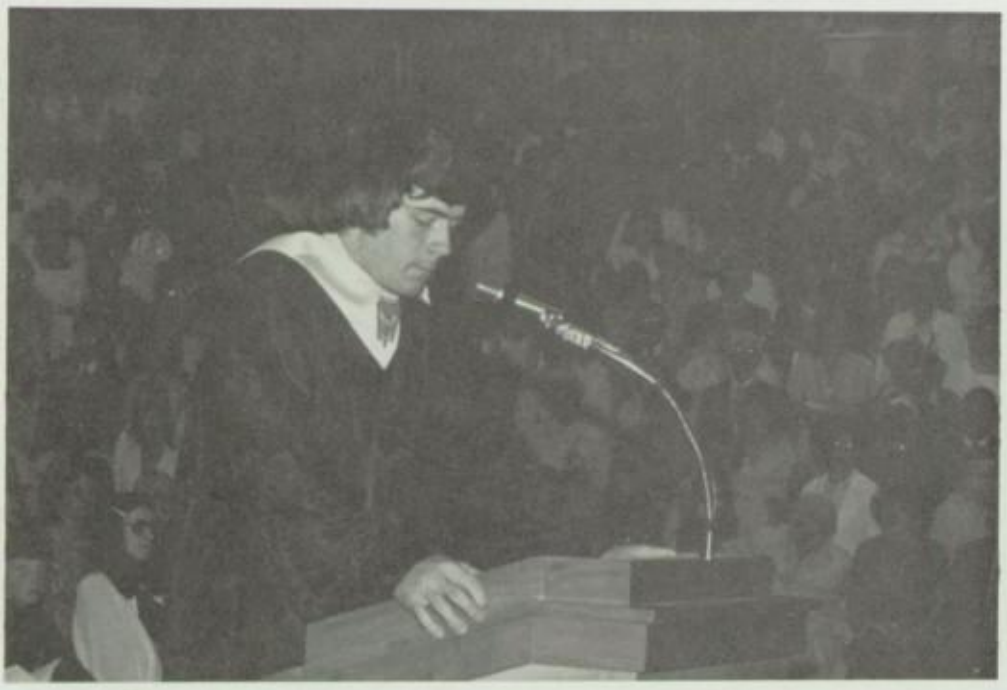
LOOKING FOR SPACE was chosen as the senior song and after many practices the final moment arrived to sing for friends and family.



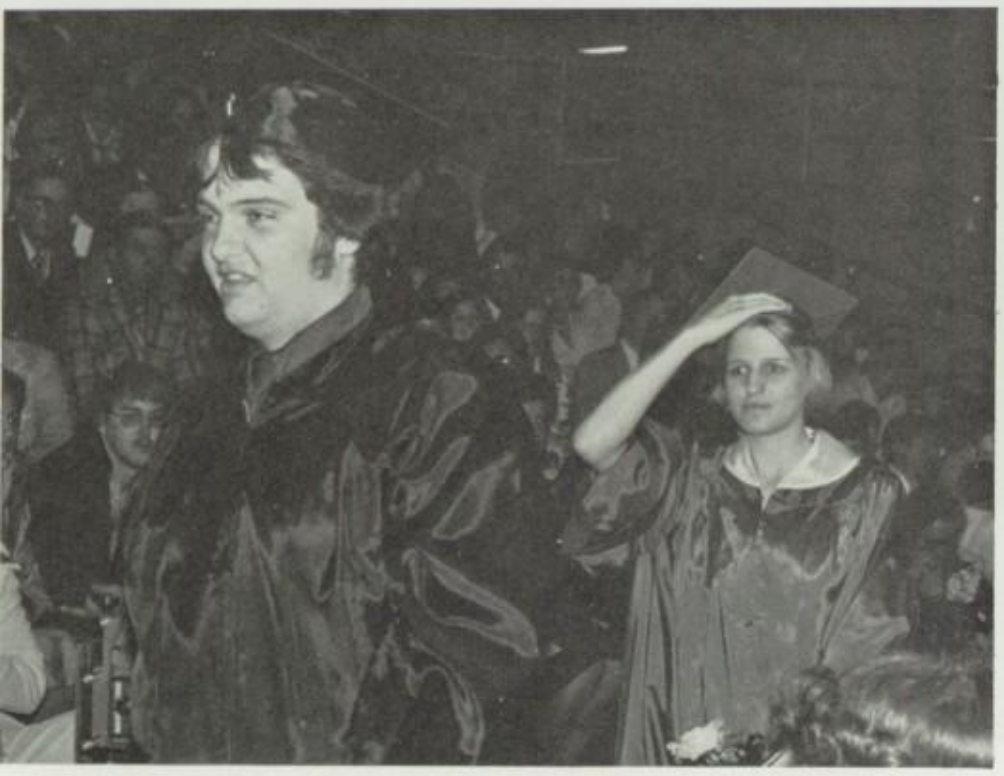
Congratulations to the Class of '78

The eleventh annual Dekalb High School graduation program was held Sunday, May 21, 1978. Charri Vorndran opened the program with the invocation. Doug Peterson, the President of the 1978 graduation class extended a welcome to everyone in attendance. Then Jim Schmidt presented the Intention and Teresa Drerup followed with the Farewell for the class of 1978. Janine Comment concluded this year's graduation program with the benediction.

The motto for this year's graduating class was "Take one step at a time but always forward." This is exactly what the seniors have been doing for their past 17 or 18 years.



TAKING A FINAL moment to talk to parents and friends Doug Peterson was given the honor to tell the class of 78 Welcome.



WHILE DEEP IN THOUGHT Kathy Refner walks into the gym to be seated.

KEN MUZZILLO and Ann Carr walk proudly out of the gym with their diplomas after the 1978 graduation.

PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN as Laura Kruger works diligently on her macrame project in Crafts.

PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN

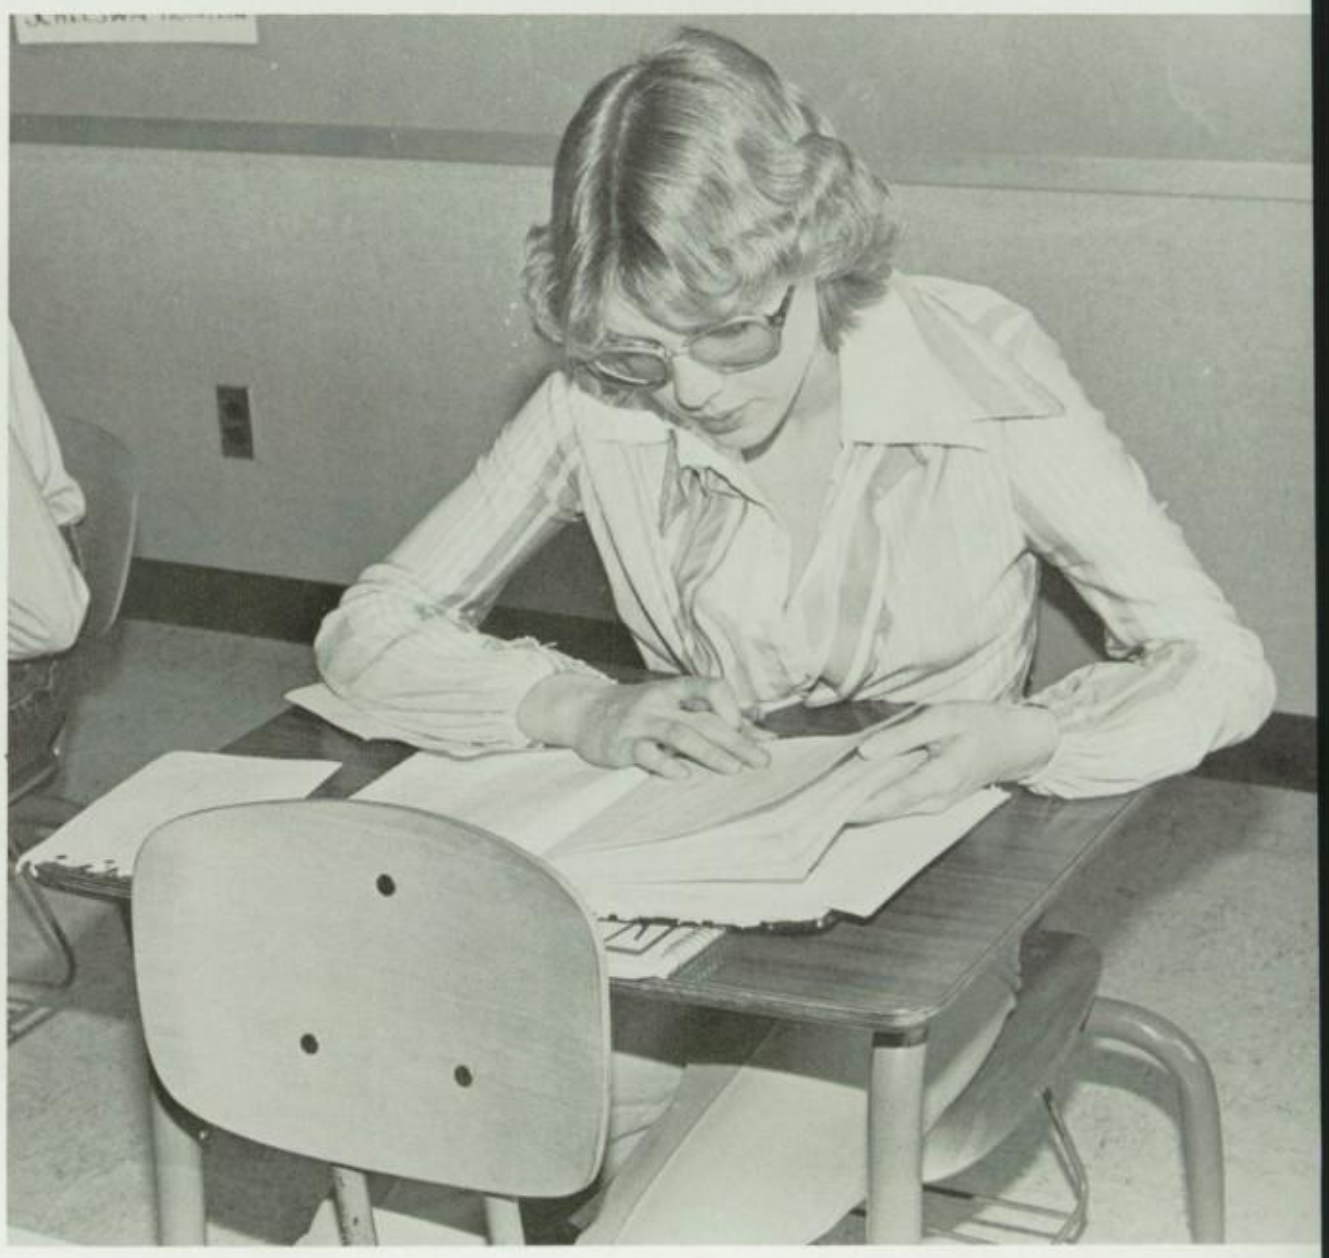
AS WE STUDY

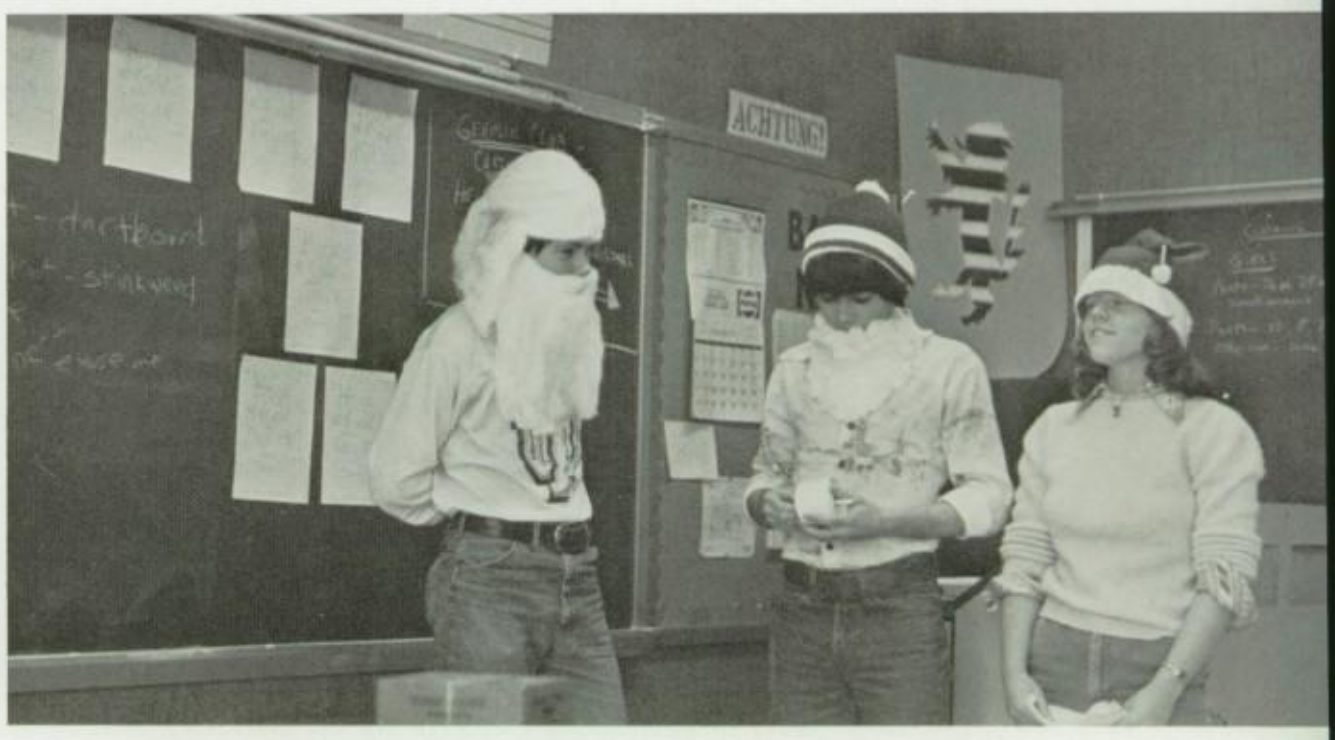
Proud Barons We Remain as we study in our Academic Program. Sometimes school might get you down, but when it does, think about all the things that happened to you. Mr. Barber's experiment blowing up in Chemistry. Band with all the night practices, competition shows, contest, and concerts. Forgetting that your Comp. is due in Mrs. Walton's class next hour. Throwing a pot on the potter's wheel only to have it come out lopsided. Trying to translate, "Yo hablo espoñal," into "Ich sperche Deutsh," which goes into "Je parle francais." To be working on your woods project real hard, only to find out it is someone else's project. Working on a Trig. problem for over an hour to find out you're doing the wrong one. But even though homework might get tough ... PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN.

Languages Arouse Student Interest

TRANSLATING IS a whiz for sophomore Barb Shutt as she consults the back of the book for a word's meaning.

EXERCISES AT THE BOARD: one of the many methods of learning French verb conjugations, as Jeff Souder demonstrates.





HO! HO! HO! Who is the real Santa in this German class skit? Is it Jeff Sanders, Tom Mack, or Julie Heimach?

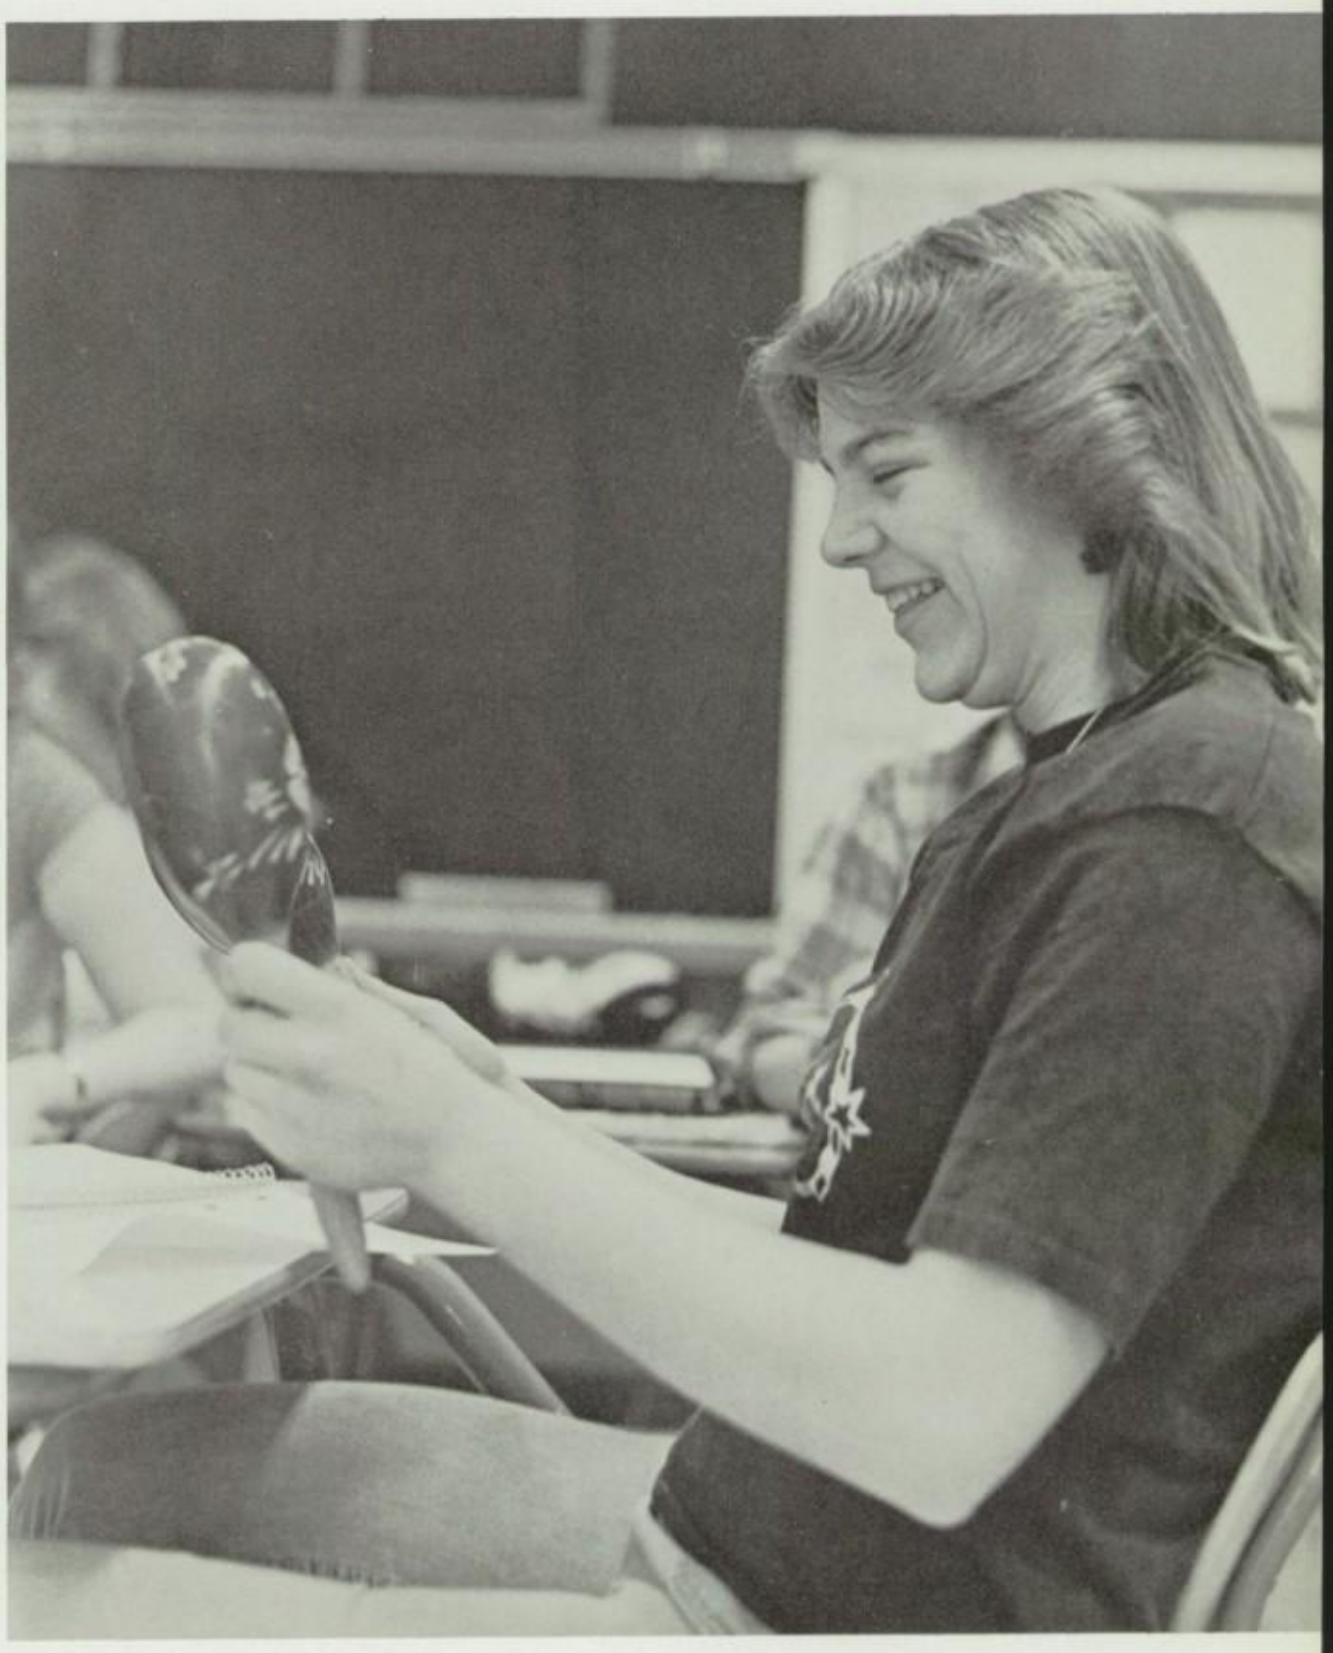
The Foreign Language Department offers three different kinds of language: French, German, and Spanish.

With the help of Mr. Love, Mr. Vick, and Mrs. Smith the students learn not only the language itself, but also the customs, history, tradition, and cultural background of the countries.

The first year classes spend most of their time learning to speak the language while the advanced classes further their knowledge in reading comprehension and writing ability.

With the help of such things as movies, games, skits, maps, and simple sentences, students receive the rewards of learning a language other than that of English.

CURIOSITY AROUSED, Spanish I student Jeff Parker examines the inside of a colorful South American purse.



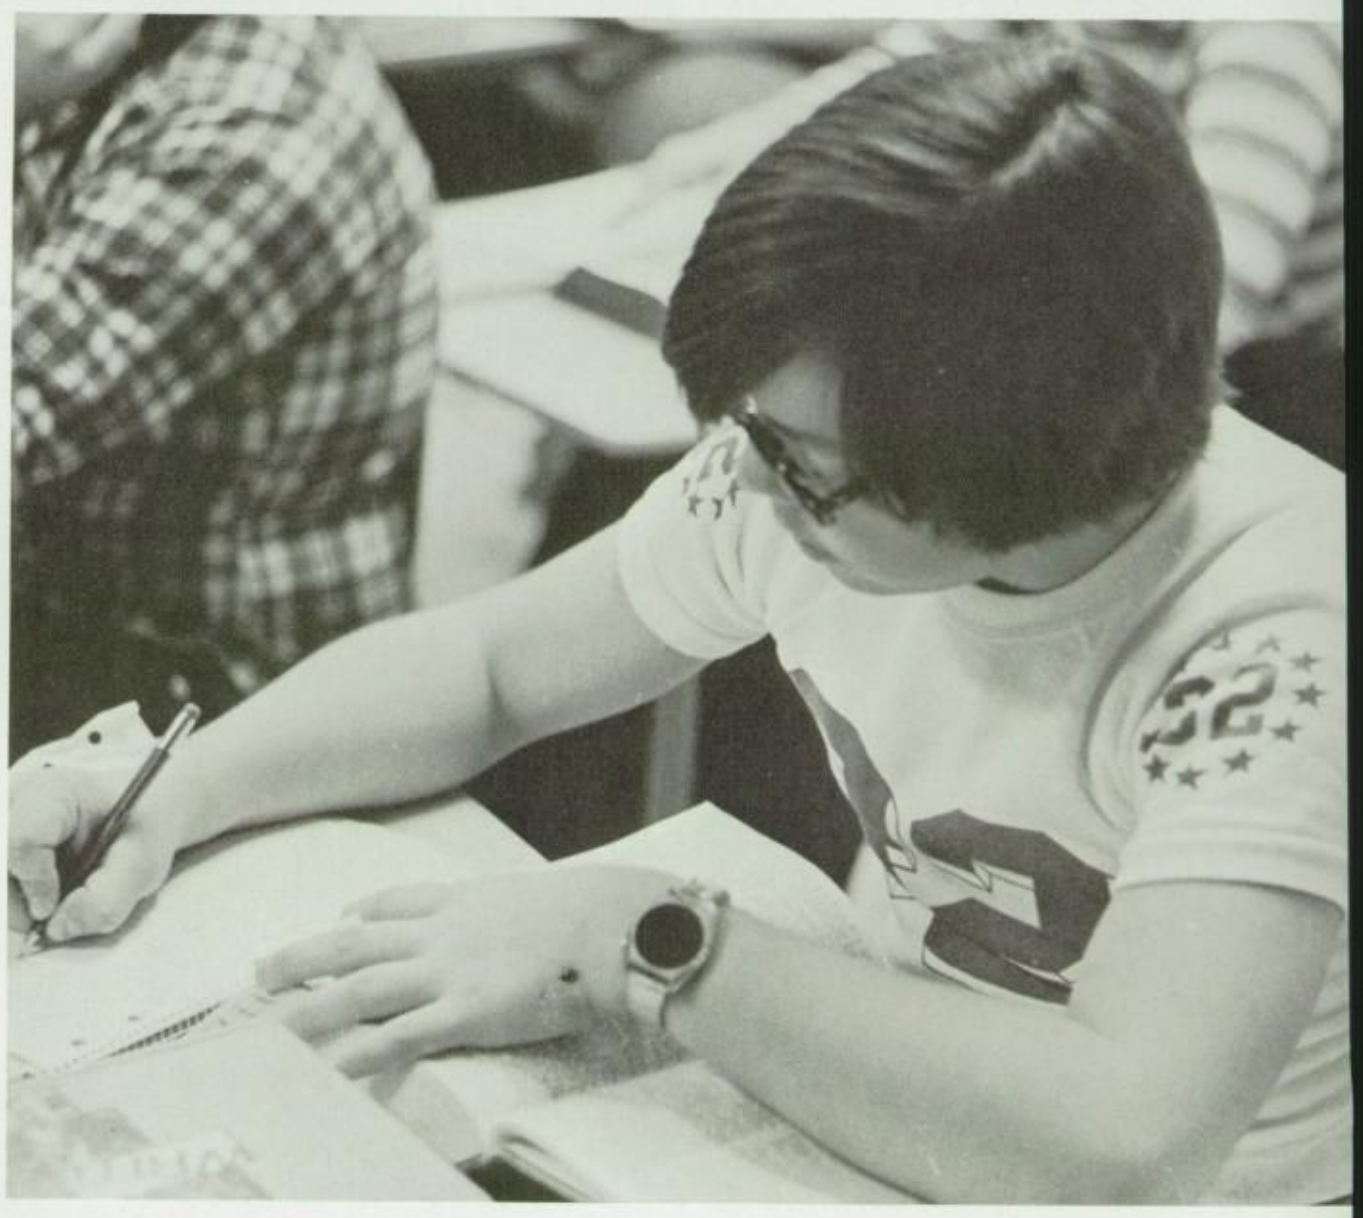
WITH GOGGLES, SCARF, hat, and gloves, Jeff Manon prepares himself to take part in a skit in his German class.

MARACAS BROUGHT from south of the border to Spanish class seem to amuse Lisa Rathke as she learns about Latin American culture.

Creative Writing Added To Language Arts

TAKING NOTES SEEMS to be pretty important to Barry Tilghman as he writes down all of the words from his book.

PROPER TECHNIQUE in spotting for gymnastics is explained by Julie Heimach for her demonstration speech — helped by Kathi Randle.

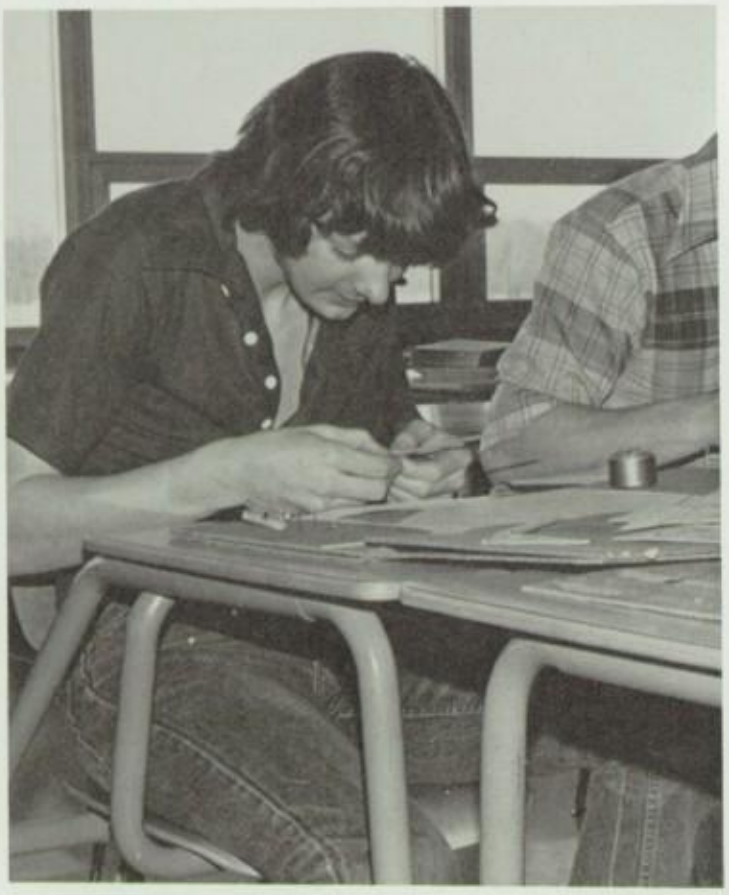


THEATRE ARTS class helped prepare the stage for the play UTBU. Here, Amy Sockrider and Lana Blevins are hard at work.

Language Arts classes this year featured a new addition — Creative Writing. This class was especially for students who wanted to improve their writing skills and ability to express themselves — but not necessarily in preparation for college.

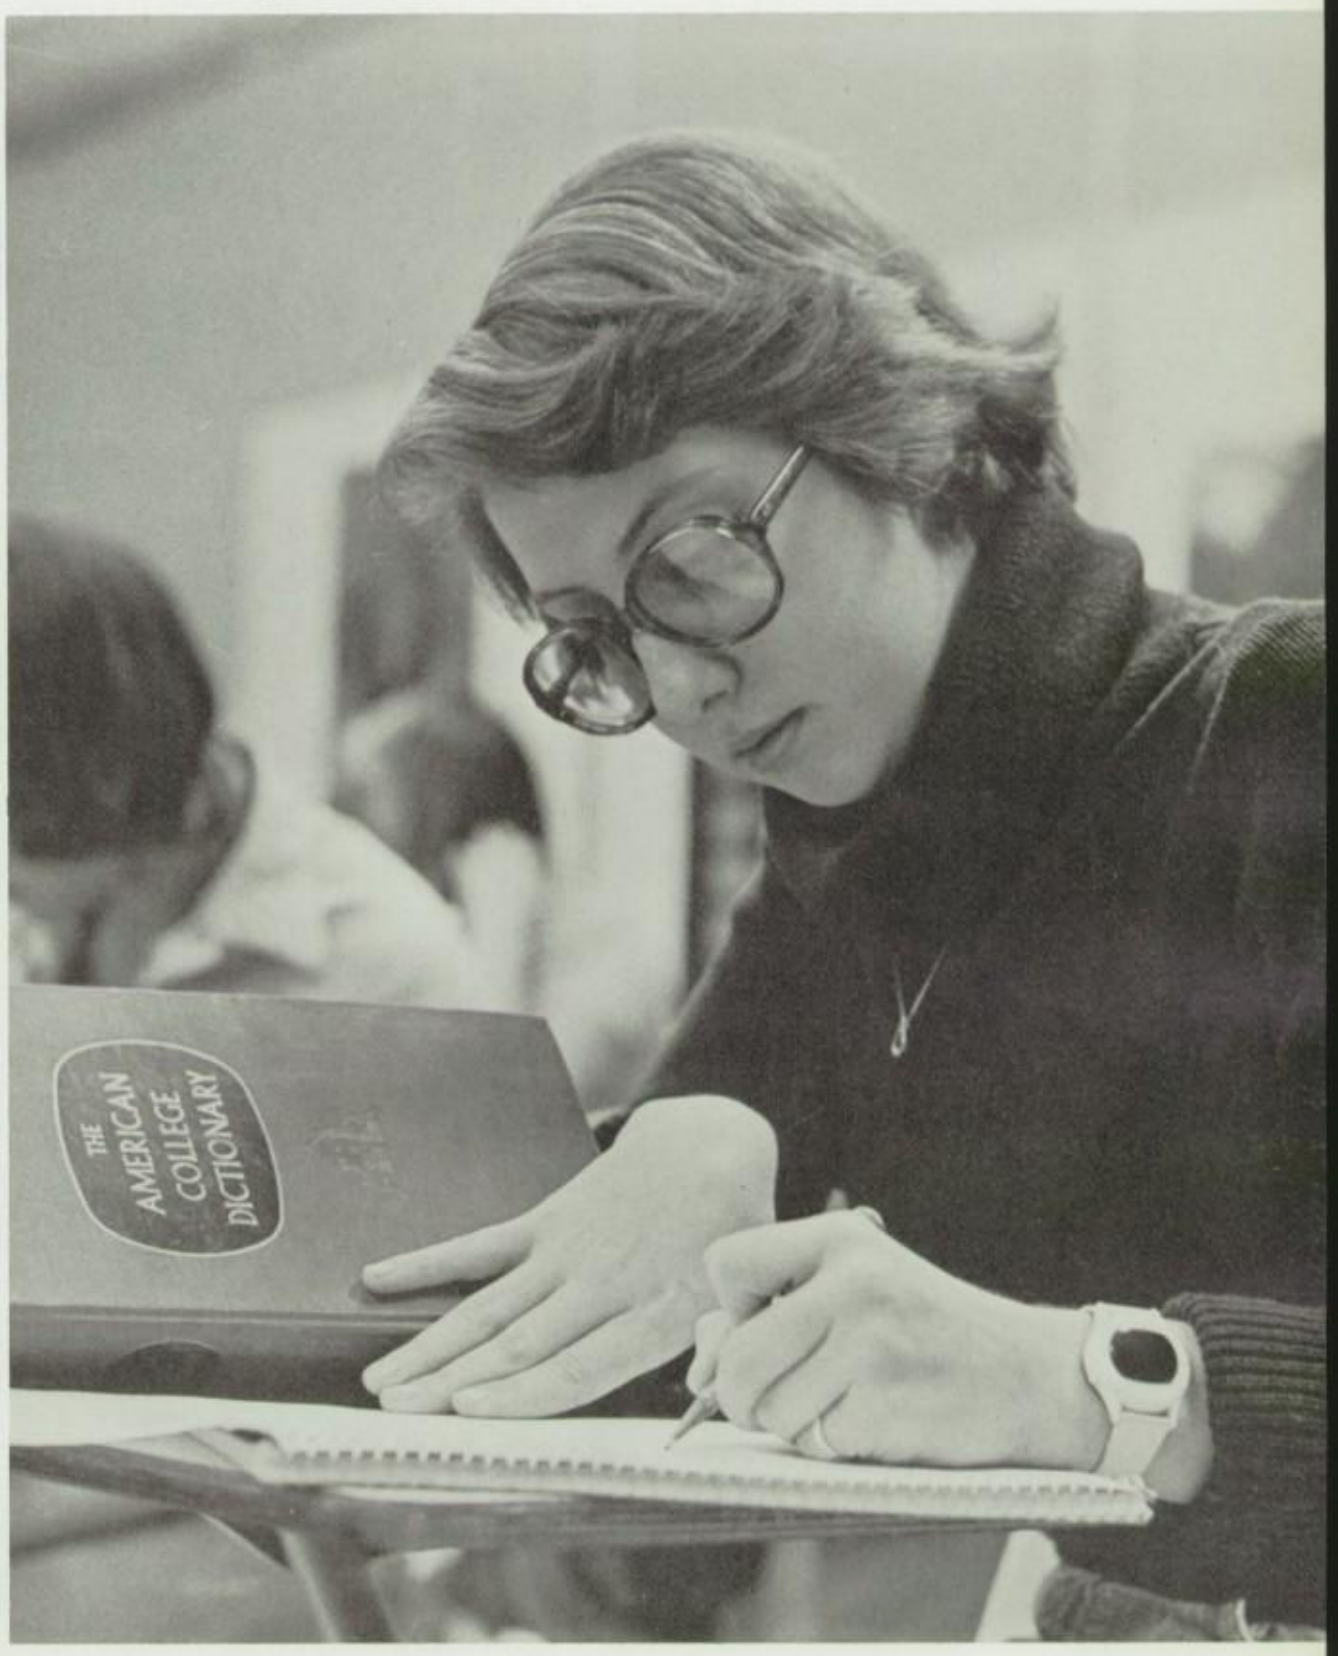
Research was required of students in the more academic subjects such as Composition, Speech, and Sophomore Academic English. They could often be found in the school or area public libraries — searching the card catalog or Reader's Guide for information about their topics.

The Language Arts curriculum was rounded out by other courses such as Theatre Arts, Mass Media, Ideas in Lit, Job English Training, Functional Lit, and Standard and Basic Sophomore English in an effort to provide all Barons with the communication skills they will need in today's changing world.



MR. BOWMAN'S ENGLISH class is learning how to follow directions as John Zimmer seems intrigued by his airplane project.

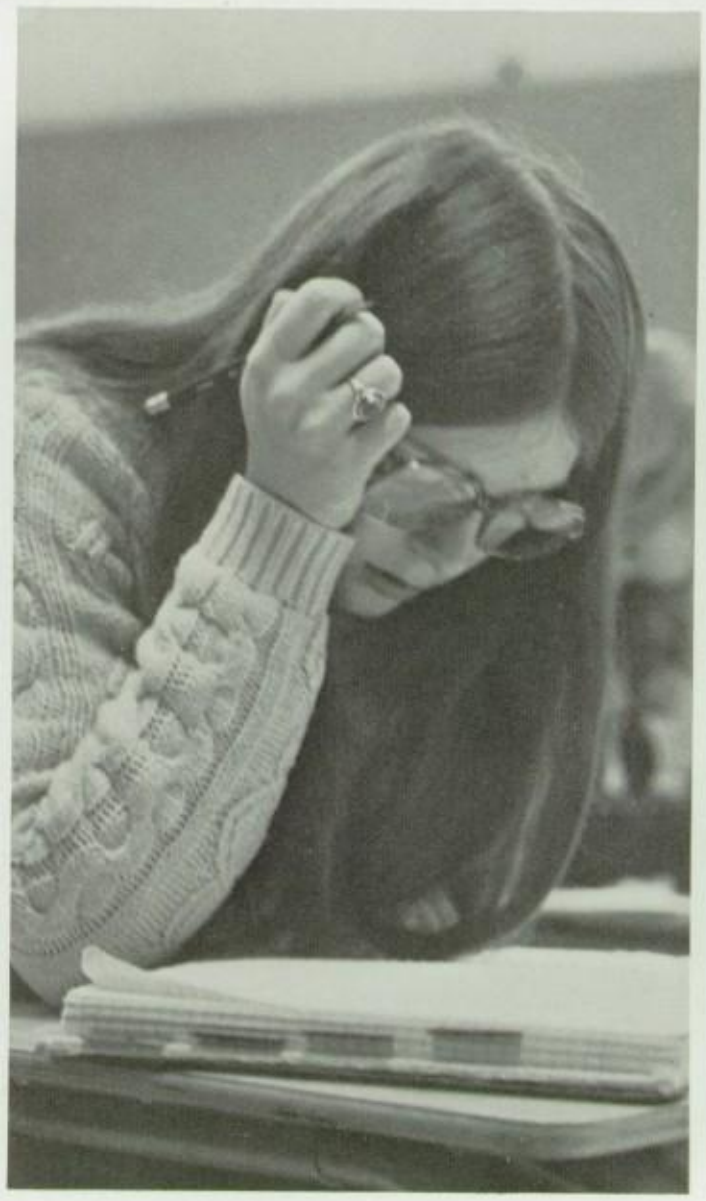
RELAXING AS SHE READS her English 10A assignment, Michelle Wilbur seems amused by her "kiddie lit" book.



DICTIONARIES ARE valuable research tools for English students. Here Susie Shuman tries to remember what hers just told her.

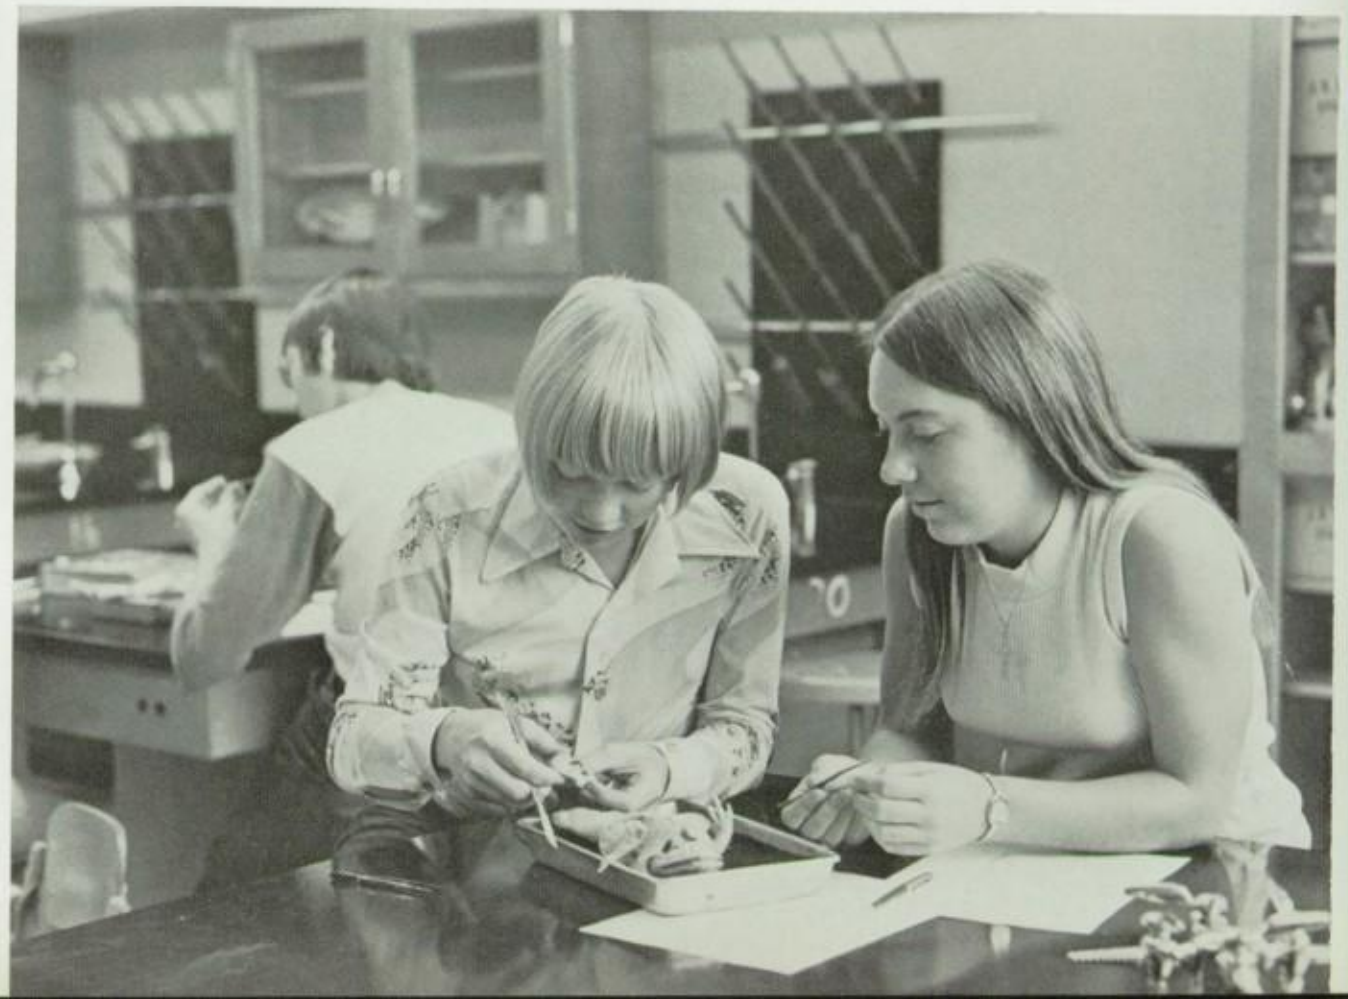
Math and Science Lead to Discovery

TIME OUT from lectures in math class gives Ann Reid a chance to catch up on her studies. Students who used their class time wisely had fewer books to carry home.



A SMILE COMES to the face of Andy Fox as he proves cleaning up can be fun in Chemistry II.

DENNIS OSTER EXPLORES the frog as he is dissecting it, while Robin Wells looks on, in hopes he won't make her hold it.



With the help of the DHS staff, students strengthened their knowledge in the fields of Math and Science.

With the addition of Math V students are able to further their education in the Math field.

In Bio. I and II students tackled worms, frogs, and many other animals with their dissecting kits.

Chemistry students learned new combinations and got exciting reactions through detailed and complicated experiments.

Many long hours were spent by each student in memorizing and understanding the elements.

ED McDOWD, Ken Bachelor and Mike Littlejohn take a break in their Chemistry I class to make a few jokes.

INTENT ON MAKING the right formula, Liz Edwards works on her experiment in Chemistry I.

WORKING INTENSIVELY, Barry Foster and Steve Casselman work for perfection in their Biology I class.

STUDY TIME given during class gives Teri Schippers time to work out her Trig problem.

Both the Social Studies and Business departments offer many courses to fill the needs of Barons. In Social Studies, senior requirements are Government and Economics, while U.S. History is required for juniors. Electives include Sociology, Psychology, and Advanced Psychology. All of these classes involve the study of man and his relationship to his past, present, and future. They are designed to help students understand various aspects of the sometimes complicated and confusing "outside world."

Business department offerings include a wide range of classes. Basic secretarial skills can be learned in Typing, Vocational Typing, Shorthand I and II, and Intensive Business Lab. General Business, Office Practice, General Recordkeeping, and Accounting I and II are also available for those who wish to further their knowledge and experience in those particular areas. Business Law helps students understand the sometimes complicated and confusing legal aspects of today's business world.

ACCOUNTING II PROBLEMS balance out more easily, Shari Ryan has discovered, with the use of an adding machine.

REALIZING THAT HIS stocks are soaring, Doug Treesh smiles as he checks out the daily newspaper for the latest prices.

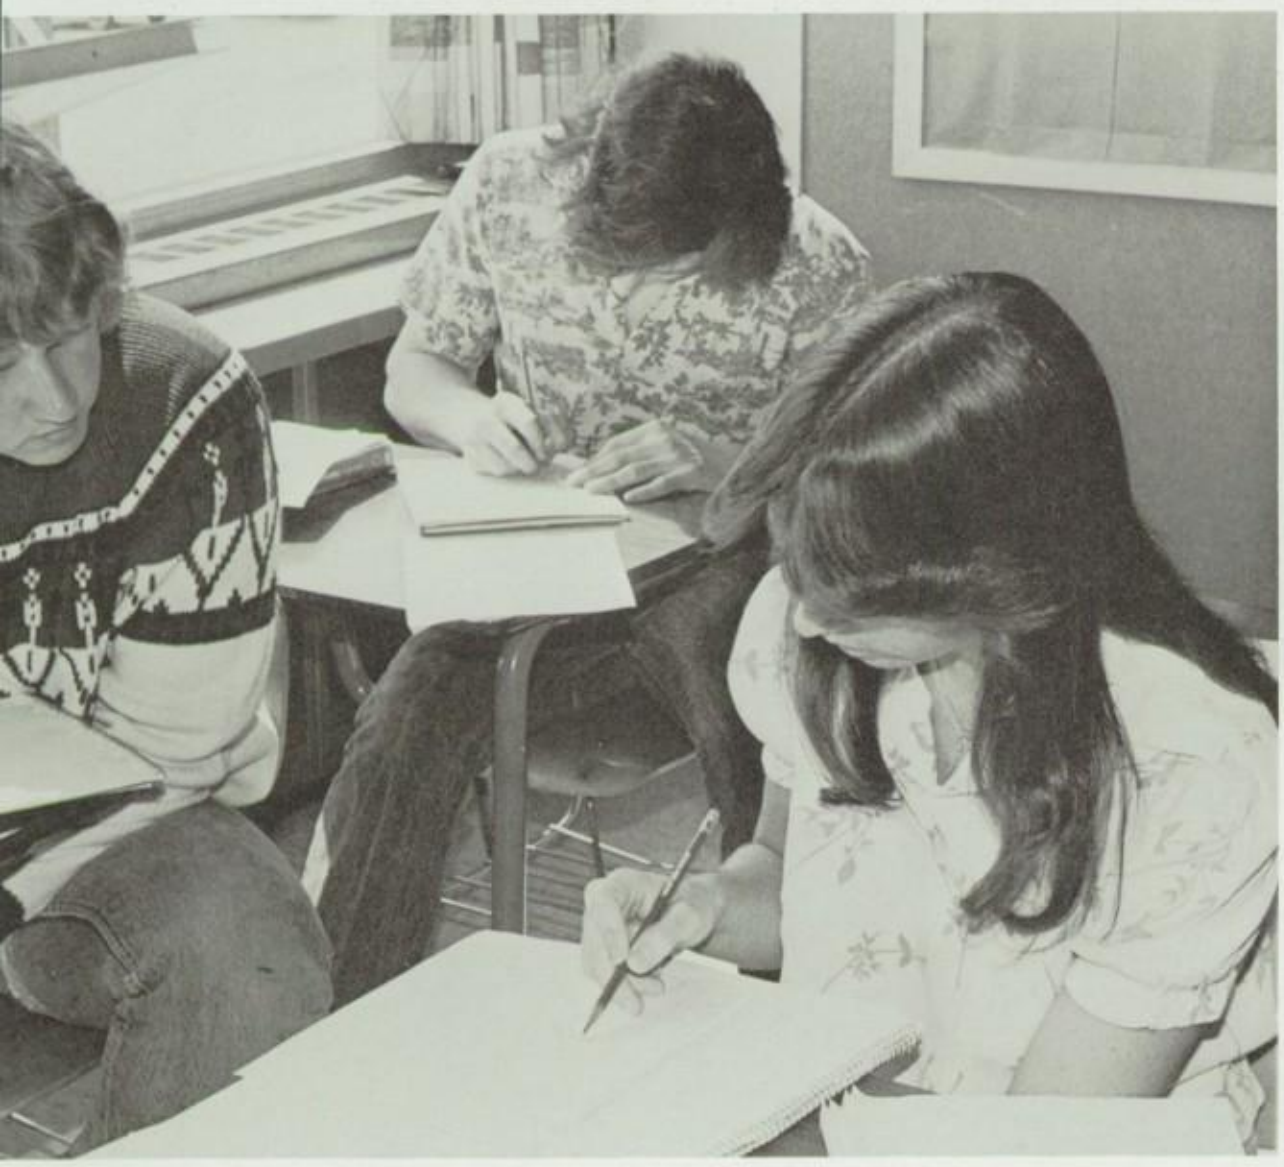
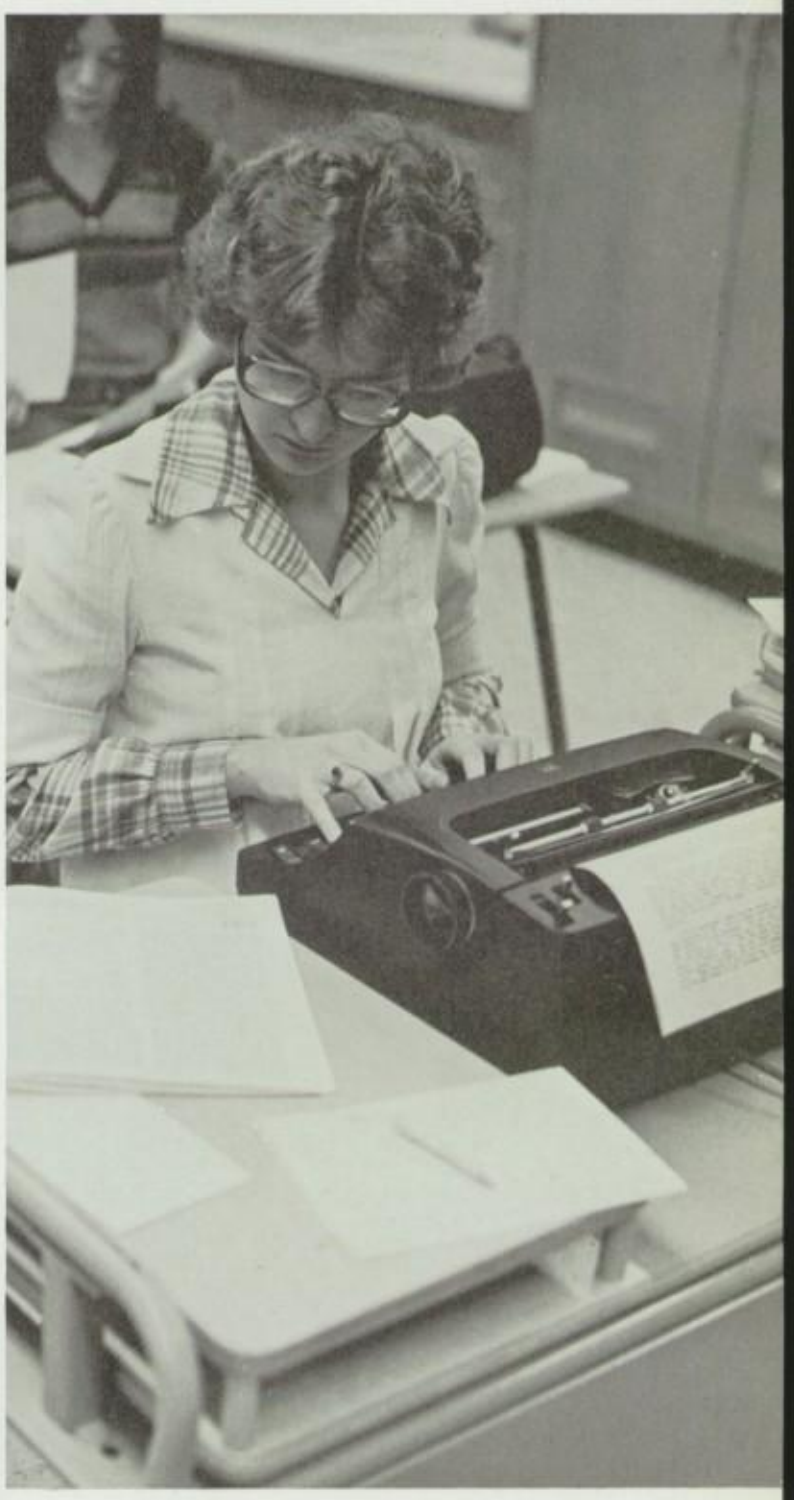
Social Studies and Business: Preparing for the World



IN ECON CLASS seniors Dave Stritmatter and Janeen Steury compare notes, making sure they agree on their stock reports.

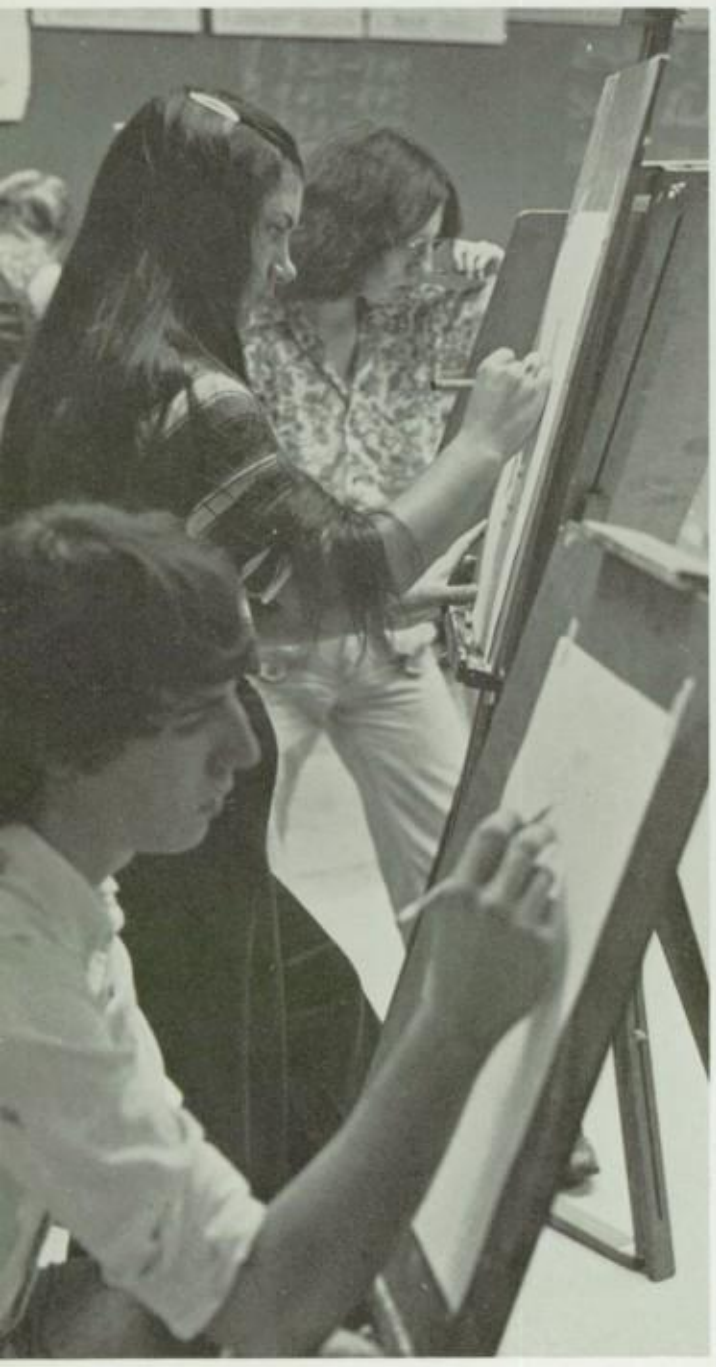
WITH HER EYES on her paper, Leesa Moore types steadily, hoping to reach the end of the page without making a mistake.

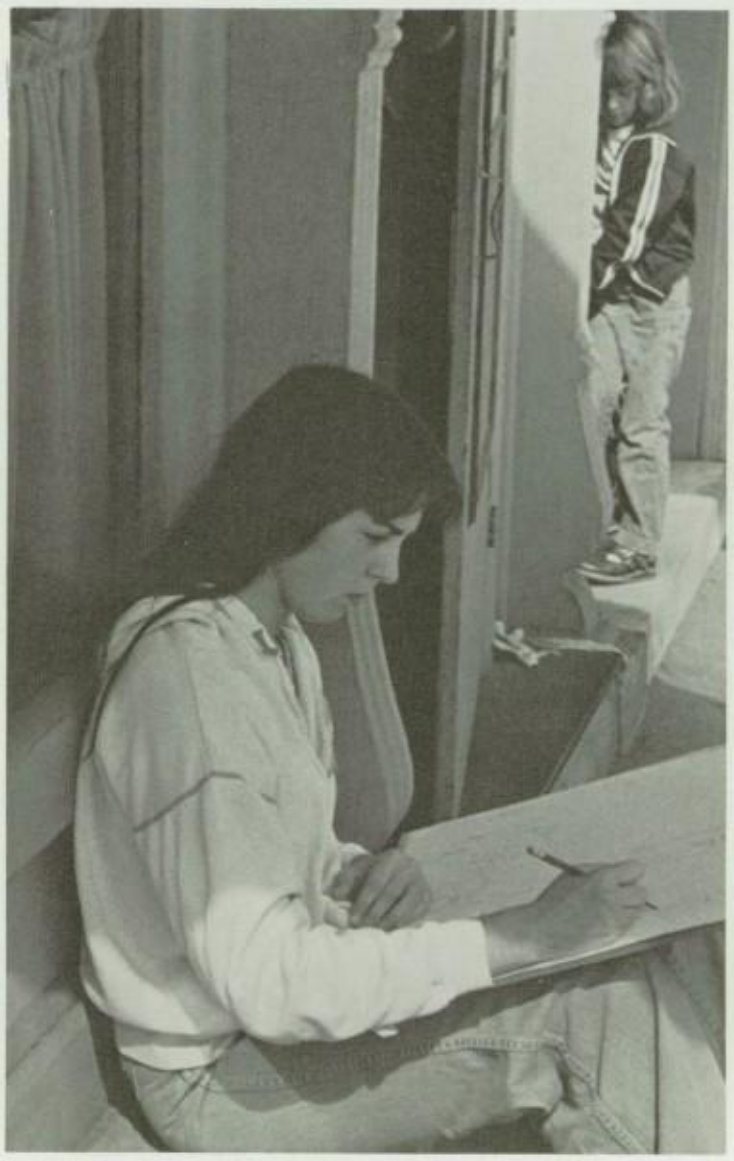


DISCUSSING SOME VERY important issue with Mr. Wyss are Linda Fender and Lori Baker in Government class.

Art Means Creativity

TAKING ADVANTAGE of a shady spot, Janeen Steury concentrates on her drawing. Art students found many subjects waiting for them on their field trip to the Fair.





RELAXED WITH PENCILS MOVING, Mark Leon, Rita Mitchener, and John Husted improve their artistic abilities in drawing and painting.

SHAPING HIS CLAY, Jackie Hayward uses his artistic ability to create a piece of pottery in ceramics.

When school finally got rolling and classes resumed order, the DHS Art Department had classes for those with interest in general art and those with interest in specific areas.

Whether hooking a rug, painting a picture, or doing macrame, or sculpting a statue, the DHS Art Department has all the classes to suit everyone's needs.

All students are able to display their talents during the Fine Arts Festival held each spring.

This year the Art Department consisted of Miss Bevington, Mrs. VanHorne, and Mrs. Nagel, who is a newcomer this year.

ART II STUDENTS, Lani Borer and Andy Smith strive for perfection as they add their final touches to their batiks.

TRYING TO HELP, a man in the community gives some of his time to Shelly Wiles at the DeKalb Free Fall Fair.

Many classes are available to students in the Home Economics Department. Although foods and clothing are the two basic divisions, there are several other classes as well.

Basic sewing principles are taught in Clothing I and II, where everything from a simple basic garment to a tailored coat were made.

The Foods I and II classes cooked everything from omelets to foreign dishes. They prepared their own Thanksgiving meal, complete with turkey.

Leisure Time Activities students learn by making projects in various types of handiwork while Family Care and Relations gives a chance to discuss possible future experiences. Housing involves field trips and guest speakers and Child Development includes a week-long study of young children in a nursery school type of situation.

LEISURE TIME Activities provides a variety of projects as shown here by Penny Jordan with her embroidery.

IN FOODS CLASS Callie Hamman and Teresa Reinhart prepare a synthetic soy-product bacon as an experiment.

THE PROPER FLAME adjustment is very important to Linda Scott and Sue Payton as they prepare sausage in their Foods II class.

Among the subjects available at DHS are some for students with specialized interests. These subjects include ICE, Photography, and Aviation.

Interdisciplinary Cooperative Education students have the opportunity to go to school one-half day and work at various jobs for the remainder of the day. Learning through their jobs gives them experience they can use in the future.

Aviation offers two one semester courses. World of Aviation is designed to teach students the basic things needed to know before flying. Ground School is designed to train students how to fly a plane. Students spend two and one half hours of their class actually flying in a plane.

Photography provides everything a student needs to know about taking pictures. Everything from loading the camera to advanced printing techniques are taught in this one semester course.

All of these special classes help to broaden the experiences of those who take them.

KEEPING THE FLOOR clean was one of Ron McSorley's tasks as part of his ICE work experience at Hook's.

"Enthusiastic" describes the gym classes at DHS this year. Many Barons found their PE classes to be a welcome break in the day's routine — offering a chance to let off some steam and get some exercise at the same time.

Physical education is required of all sophomores, while advanced elective courses are available for juniors and seniors. These classes place an emphasis upon each student striving to do his best according to what abilities he has. Both team sports and individual recreational activities are stressed, with students learning the rules of various sports as well as sharpening their individual skills.

Bands Experience Successful Year

TAKING A BREAK from playing their clarinets, Debbie Carper and Shelly Miller find some time to relax.

PLAYING THE CLARINET, Susan Durst keeps in time with other members of the band.

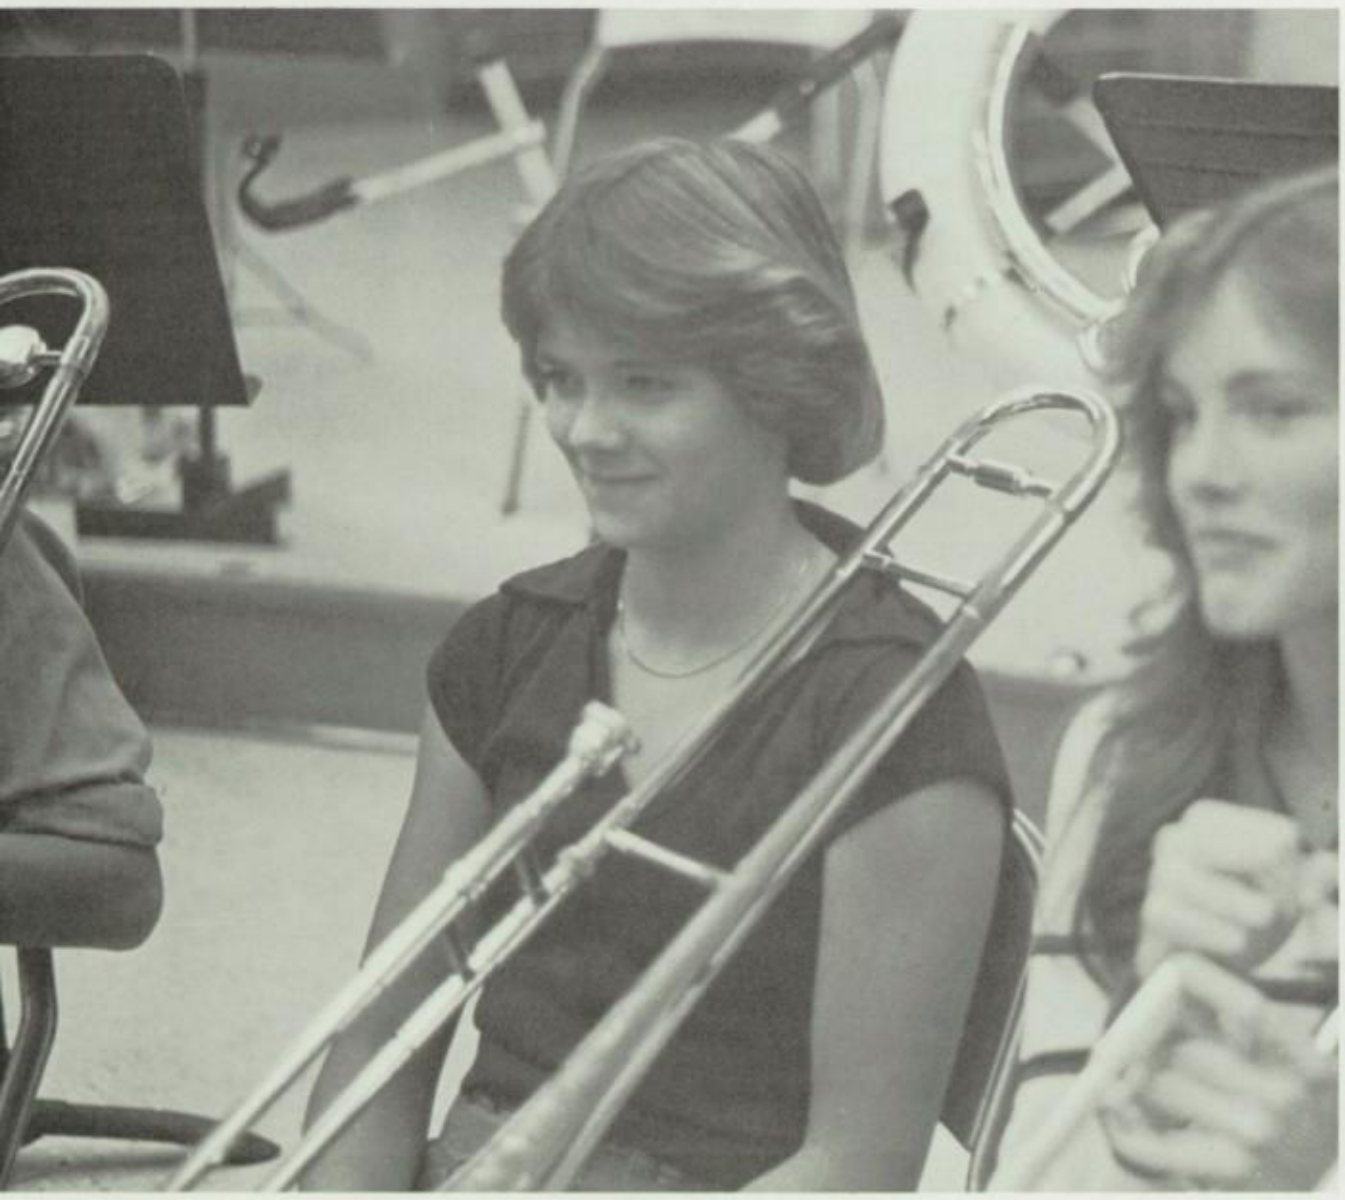
The wind ensemble and concert band were both very successful this year. They started off by winning the Class "A" and Band Sweepstakes Award at the DeKalb Fair. They sent six entries to the state solo and ensemble contest in Indianapolis. Five of them received Division I ratings, with two receiving a perfect score of seven points.

Both the wind ensemble and concert band attended the organizational playing contest in April. The wind ensemble received a Division I rating and had the second highest score in their division.

David Dangler and Amy Shankle were selected to play in the Indiana All-State Band. Amy was first chair flute and Dave was first chair second trumpet.

The band then finished off the year by playing for graduation ceremonies for the class of '78. The band is under the direction of Mr. Stickler.

CONCERT BAND: FLUTES: Ross Mann, Laurie Williams, Lori Martz, Debbie Webb, Jeannine Kistler, Rhonda Graber, Deb Mergy, Cheri Warstler, Ruth Frick. OBOE: Chris Whitton. TROMBONES: Diane Stahl, Brian Carnahan, Jon Schaeffer. BASS: Kevin Bassett. PERCUSSION: Tracy Kretz, John Husted, Gary Boyd, Sherry Thimlar.



TROMBONE PLAYER Tori Butler seems to think that wind ensemble is very amusing.

GOING TO THE FINALS in the McDonald's All-American Band, senior Amy Shankle plays the flute for perfection.

Marching Barons Are Crowd Pleasers

STEPPING IN TIME, band members march in competition at the DeKalb Free Fall Fair.

ONE OF THE MANY activities of the baronettes, was to perform during halftime at the basketball games, as shown here by Michelle Martz.

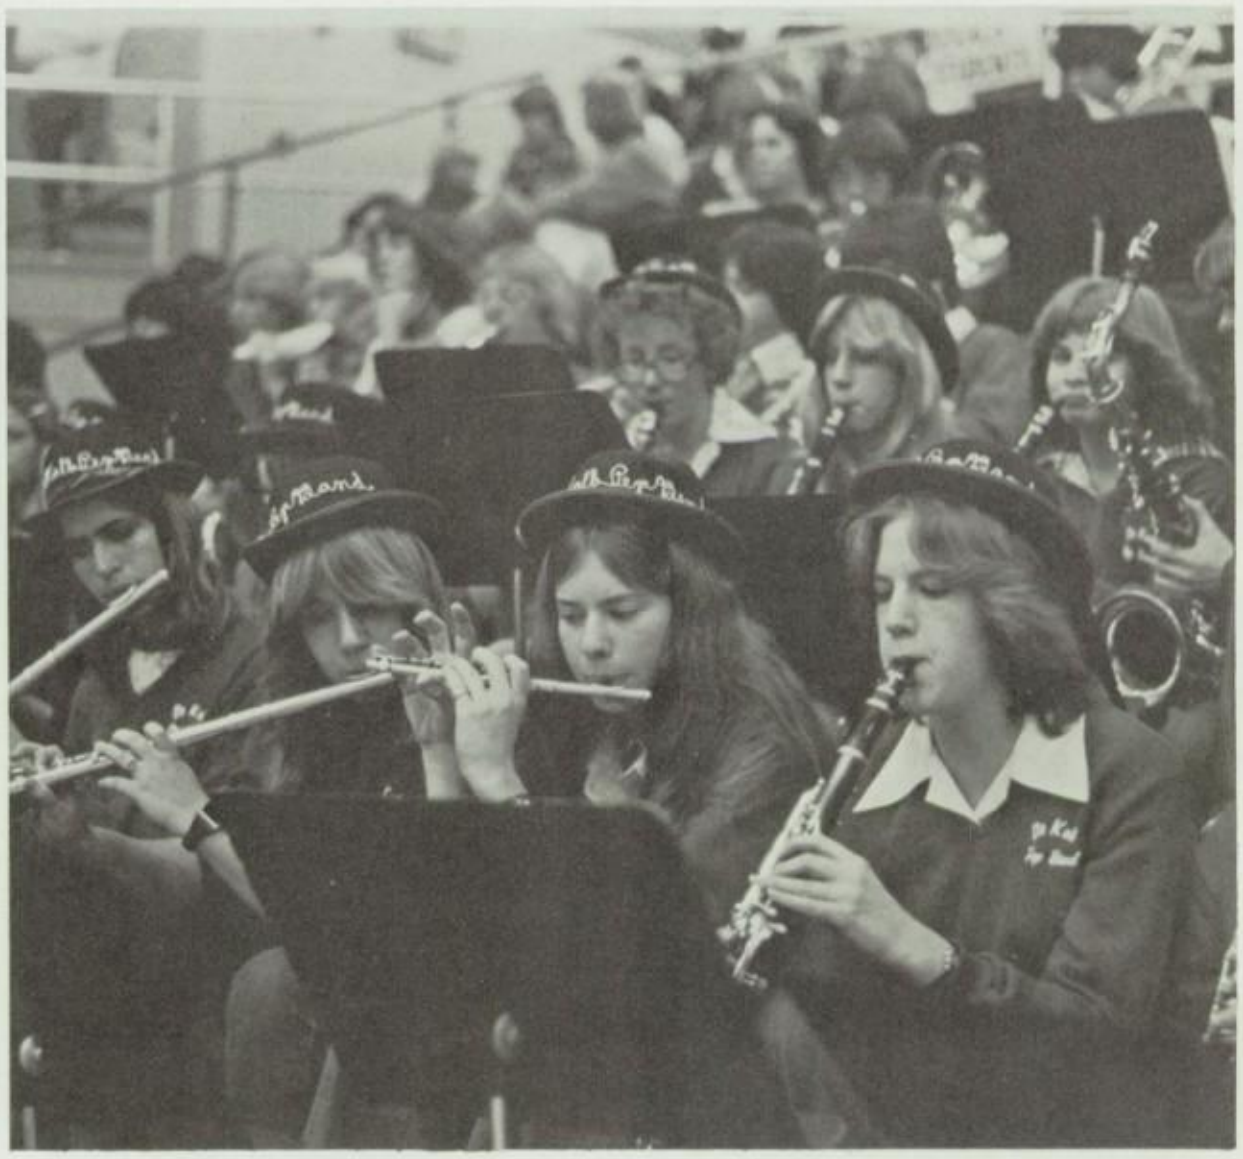
THE BARONETTES proudly lead the marching band during each performance at the parades during the fair.

The Marching Baron Band has presented many top-rate performances this year. They appeared in parades and at many school activities. These have made them a favorite among many spectators.

One of the most eye-catching parts of this year's band are the Baronettes, all who are playing members of band during classtime.

The Baronettes consist of two squads, flags and rifles. They provide halftime entertainment at both basketball and football games. They also perform at all marching band functions.

This year the Drum Majors, Jackie Hayward and Rita Tilghman used swords in their act, as a featured attraction at the football games. The band is under the leadership of Mr. Stickler.



PROVIDING A VARIETY of music, Ruth Frick, Kris Harding, Becky Green, and other pep band members, play at one of the basketball games.

DRUM MAJORS Rita Tilghman and Jackie Hayward lead the marching band throughout their performances.

One of the opportunities in the music department is the choirs. For those interested in choirs, they range from Concert and Treble Choir to Sophomore Girls' Choir.

Concert Choir is a choir made up of boys and girls from all grades. Studying elementary theory and music reading, emphasis on individual improvement of voice and musicianship, they are well on their way to becoming fine music students.

Sophomore Choir is a selective choir of students from grade ten. They perform at least two times per year and may be involved in solo, ensemble, and swing choir contests.

Treble Voice Choir is a non-selective choir that continues to study elementary theory and musicianship. To be in Treble Choir, one must have a treble voice.

Running up and down musical scales could be heard each morning from the students in A Cappella choir. Many of them participated in the regional solo and ensemble contest as well as the state contest. A Cappella choir performed at numerous shows throughout the year, three of which were at DHS. They received a first place rating at the state contest for mixed choirs for the tenth straight year.

The Conglomeration is the swing choir of DHS. It is made up of fifteen juniors and seniors. This year they traveled miles to put on convocations for thousands of high school students. During spring break they traveled to New Orleans to perform. They ended their year by putting on their big two-hour show at DeKalb.

Both A Cappella and Conglo are under the direction of Mr. James Markiton.

HARMONIZING TOGETHER, Laurie Lott and Brenda Davis sing ear-pleasing music at their home show.

ACCOMPANIED BY Mr. Markiton on the piano, A Cappella members practice some new material for a possible performance later.

Vocational Classes Produce Results

GRAPHIC ARTS class prints many forms used by the school. Here Steve Smith smiles as he checks the offset press.

WORKING TO IMPROVE their ability to repair tractors are juniors Dennis Trubey, Tim Frick, and Mark Wappes.

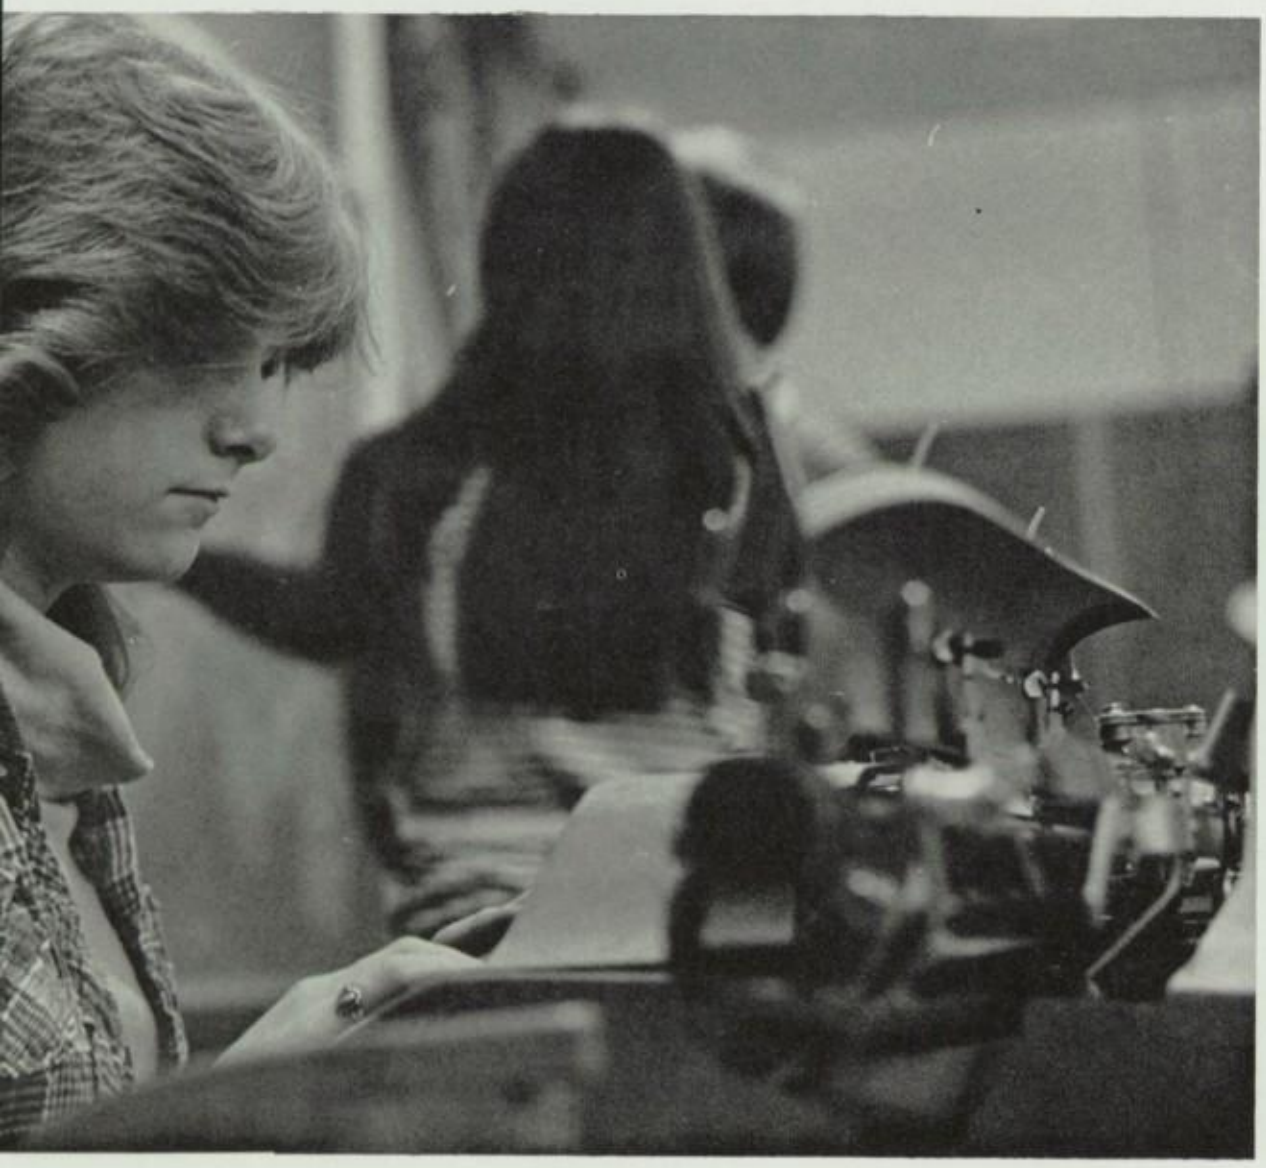
INTERRUPTED BY THE CAMERA is senior Rod Aldrich as he works on the electrostatic plate-making machine in Graphic Arts.

Auto mechanics, Building Trades, and Agriculture are just a few of the numerous classes open in the vocational curriculum.

Students in the Building Trades class put in many hours of time to get this year's project house completed. One hour per day is spent in the class room and two hours are spent at the actual building site.

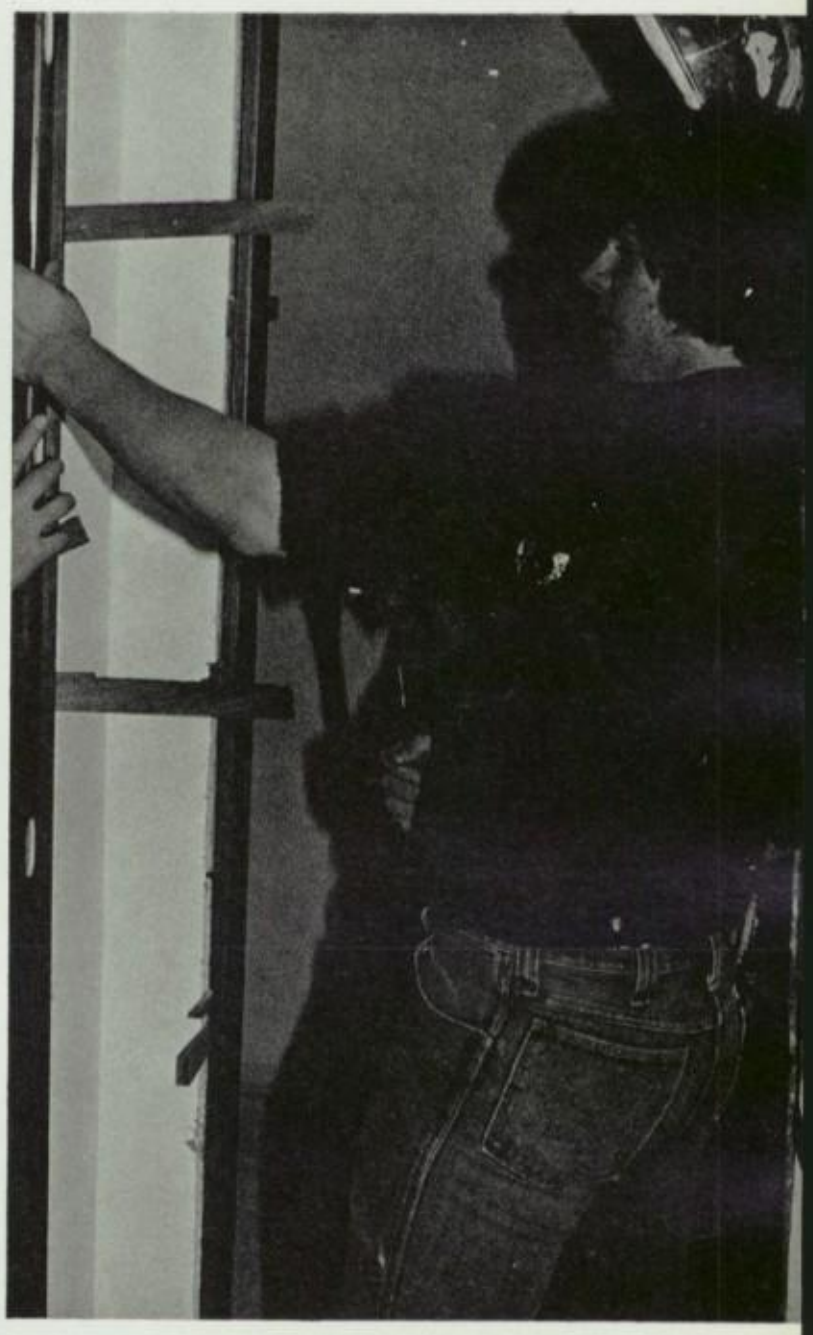
Servicing, diagnosis, and repair procedures are just a few of the skills taught in Auto Mechanics. This class meets three hours per day for a full school year.

In Graphic Arts students are taught all phases of production in the offset printing method. The class prints materials for the school including the school paper, tickets, and programs.



GRAPHIC ARTS PROVIDED various jobs for students as shown here by junior Kari Zehner at work on the verityper.

PUTTING UP the woodwork around a doorway in the Building Trades house, Ron Baker carefully checks to see if it is level.



MANY LONG HOURS were spent in the completion of the Building Trades project house. Under the expert guidance of Mr. Peter Potts, the house is shown here mostly complete on the outside.

Skills Expand Through Industrial Arts

ASSISTED BY classmate Jim Neuman, Adam Sewards concentrates on the gauges as he runs the tube tester.

ENJOYING HIS TIME in woods class, senior Bill Payton carefully puts a hand-rubbed oil finish on his cabinet.

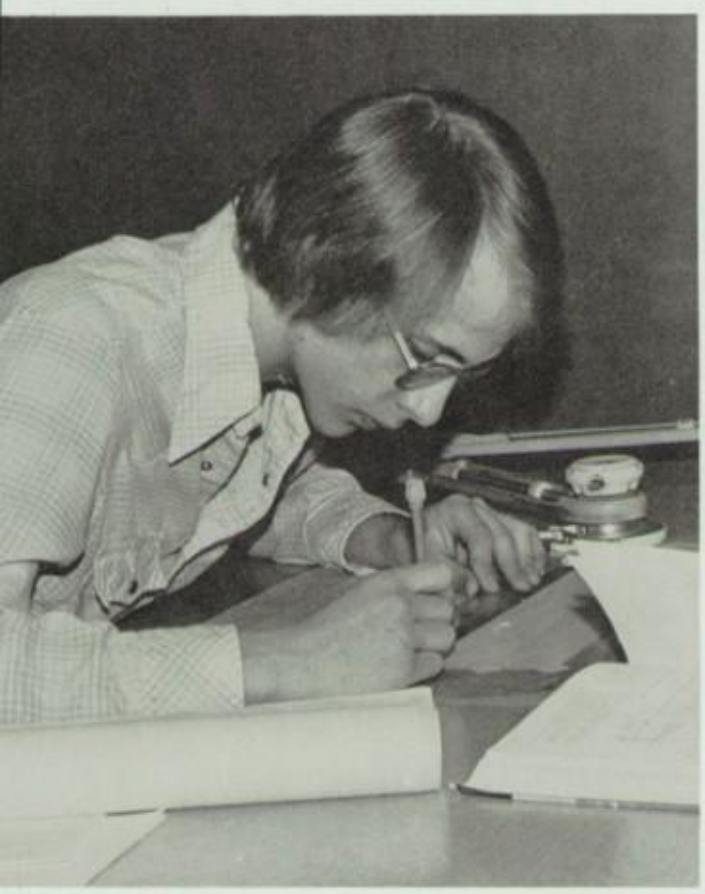
METALS SHOP students must learn to operate various machines. Here Mr. Emmert instructs Lyle Timmerman in the use of the lathe.

Classes offered in Industrial Arts range from Wood Working, Metals, and Home Arts to Electricity, Drafting, and Power Mechanics. Industrial Arts focuses on teaching students specific trades and skills.

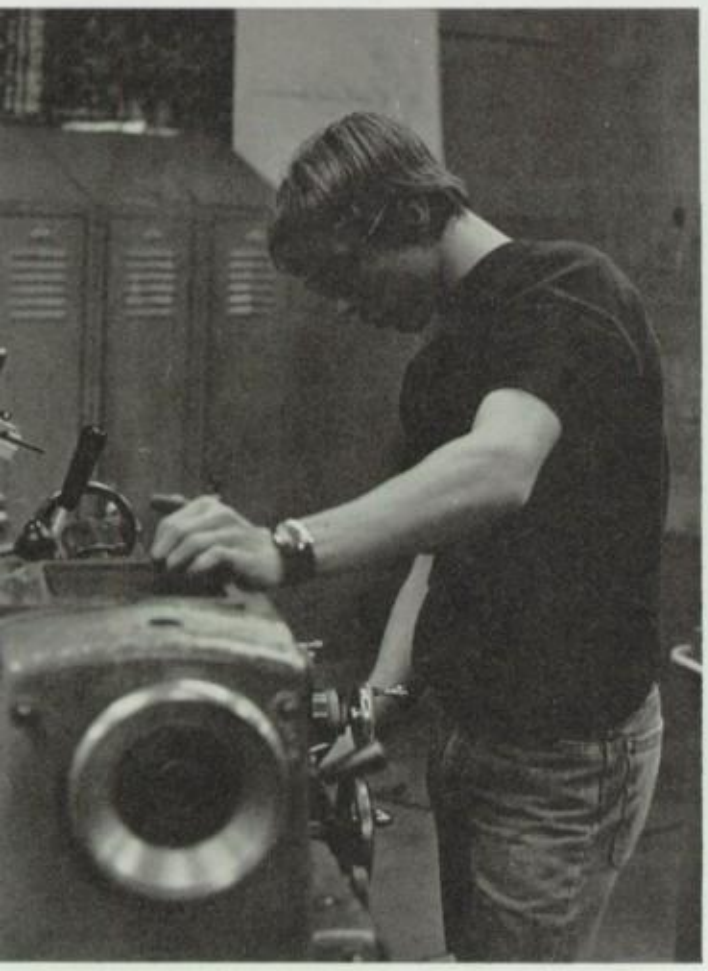
Machine shop, arc welding, sheet metal, and foundry are the four basic divisions taught in the Metals class. This year Willy Baughman won a top prize from the American Foundrymen based on his skills learned in Metals class.

Drafting is designed to introduce students to lettering, geometric drawing, planning, and basic drafting.

By taking advantage of all of these classes, students are able to further their education in the field of Industrial Arts.

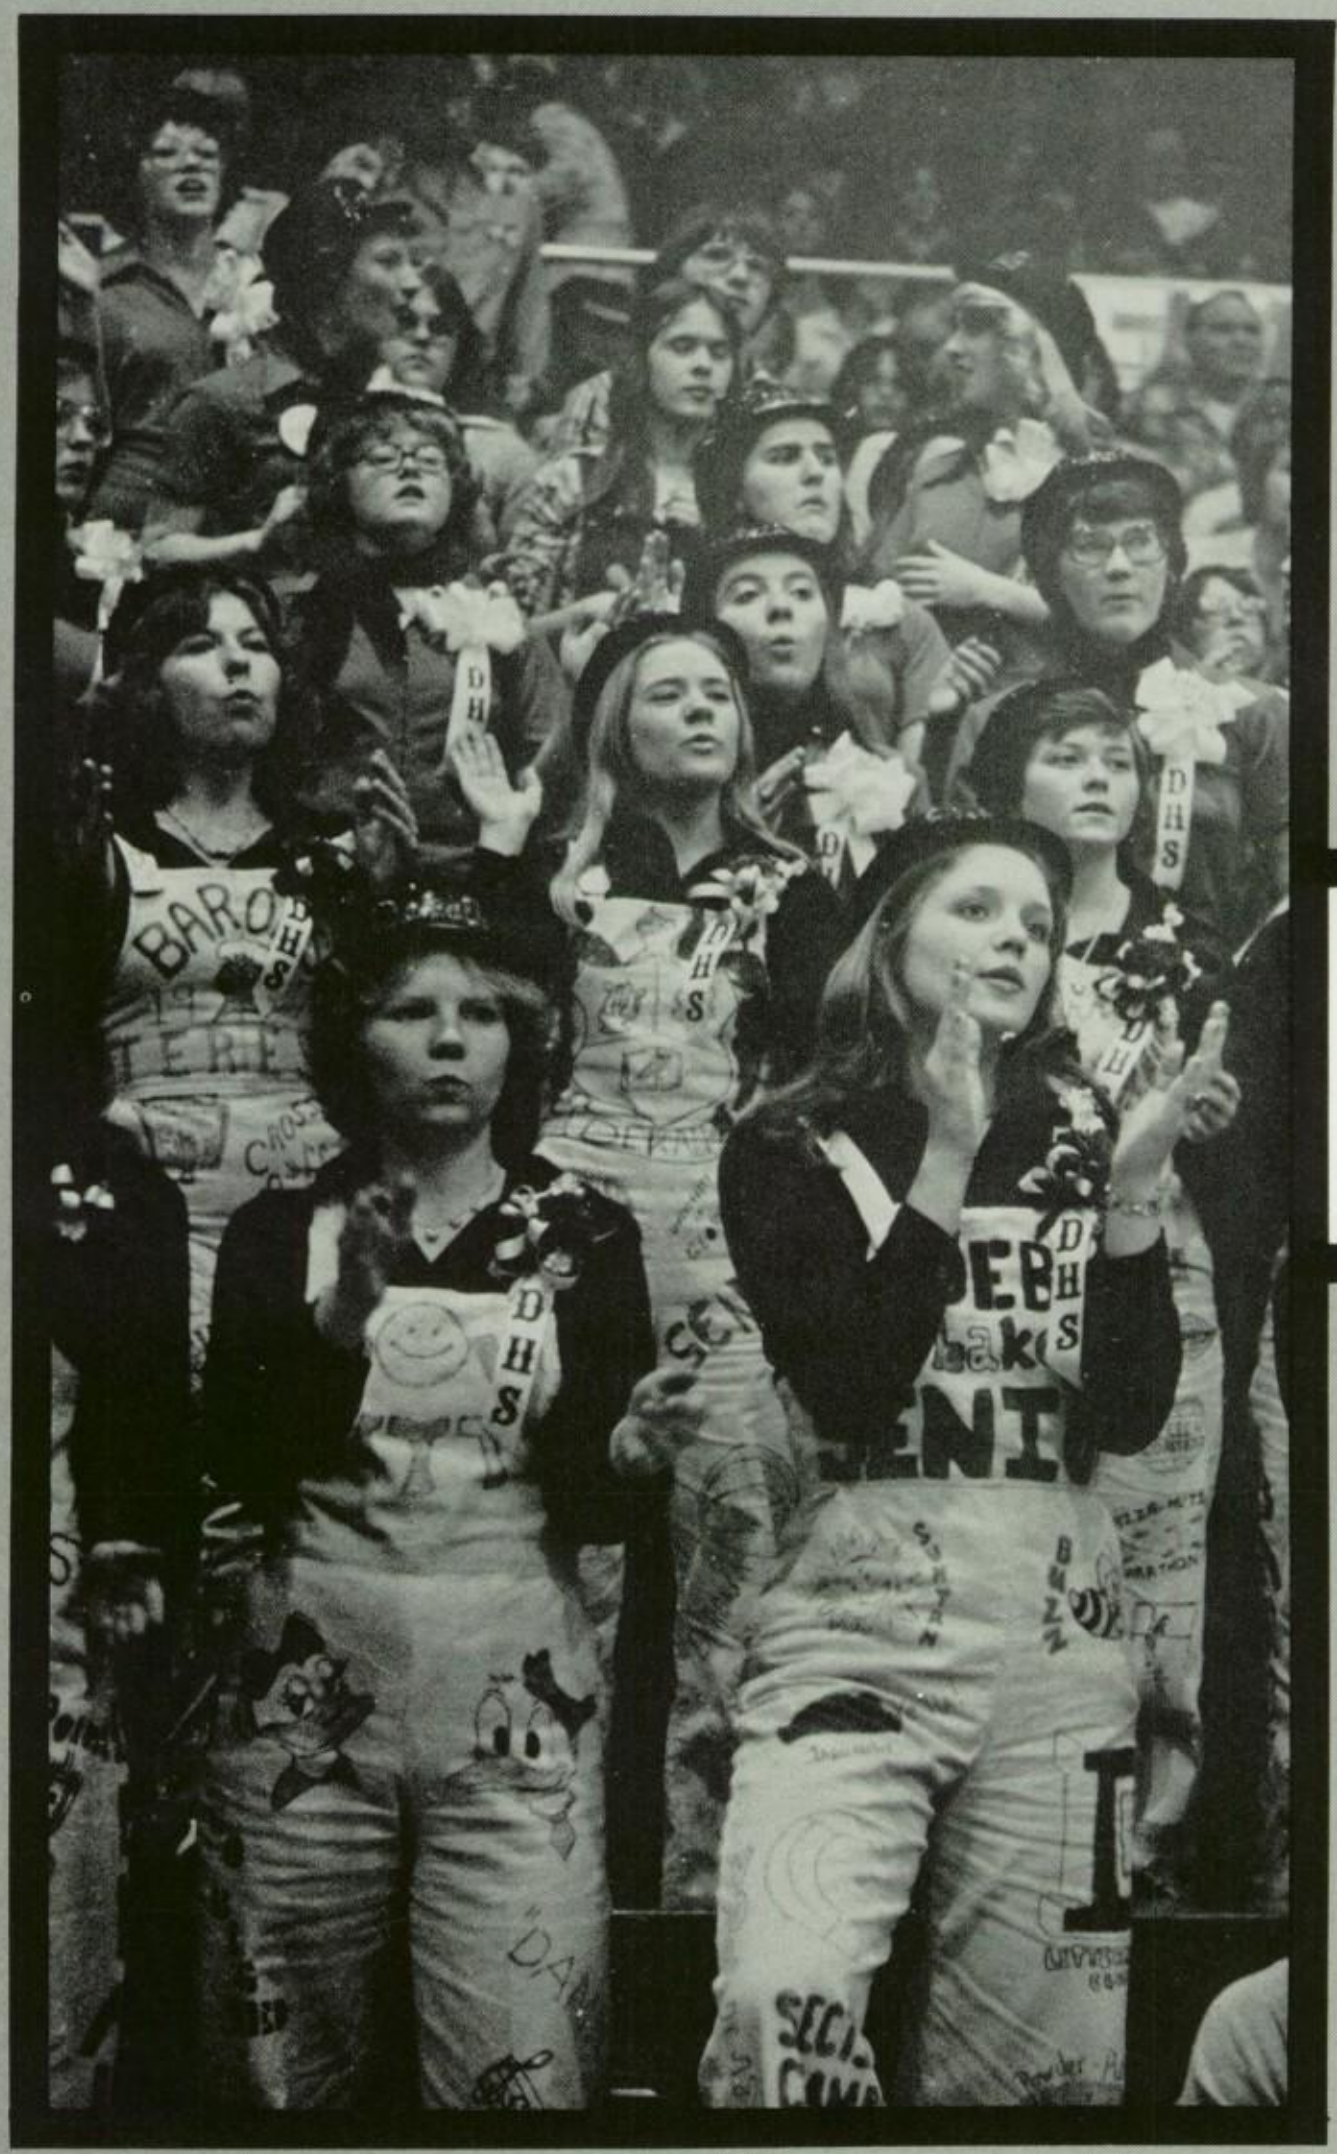


PERHAPS WONDERING if he will ever get it built, Paul Kott carefully draws plans for his dream house.



AFTER LEARNING the basic principles involved, sophomore Mike Hasselman watches the metal lathe as he works to complete his project.

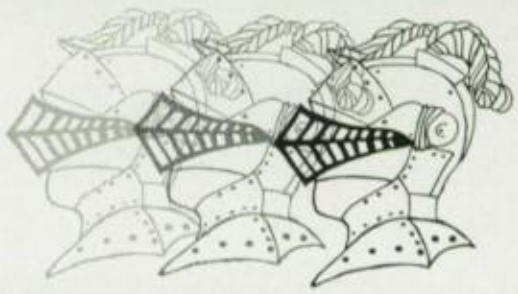
ADVANCED ELECTRICITY student Ken Bauman checks all the tubes and wiring as he attempts to repair his car radio.



PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN as Pep Club members cheer the Baron basketball team on to victory.

PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN

AS WE PARTICIPATE



Proud Barons We Remain, as we participate in school activities. Students who want to have fun and get involved in school join a club.

There are many different clubs to choose from. Clubs at DeKalb are not only for fun, but they help the community and students learn from their activities. Some of the clubs are: Pep Club, students cheer the basketball team on to victory. Science Club, where students become more involved in their interest of science. Crunch for Lunch, join Future Educators in Action (FEA) and sell Cashew Crunch. Foreign Language Clubs — Spanish, German, French: they plan individual activities and a group project, the Foreign Language Banquet. Helping others, Future Homemakers of America plans many activities for students to socialize. Bat girls and mat maids, help the Baron athletes. National Honor Society contains some of our academic leaders. Representing the student body, Student Council contains elected students that plan the activities for the year such as Sadie Hawkins, the March movie, and dress-up day. Speech team, where individuals compete for ribbons and trophies using their talents, by giving speeches. These are a few of the clubs that students are involved in, and as we have fun . . . PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN.

Council: The Center of Activites

At DHS the center of activities is our Student Council. The Student Council is our school's government and helps run and sponsor student, school, and community activities. The purpose of Student Council is to do things for the school's benefit and to represent the student body.

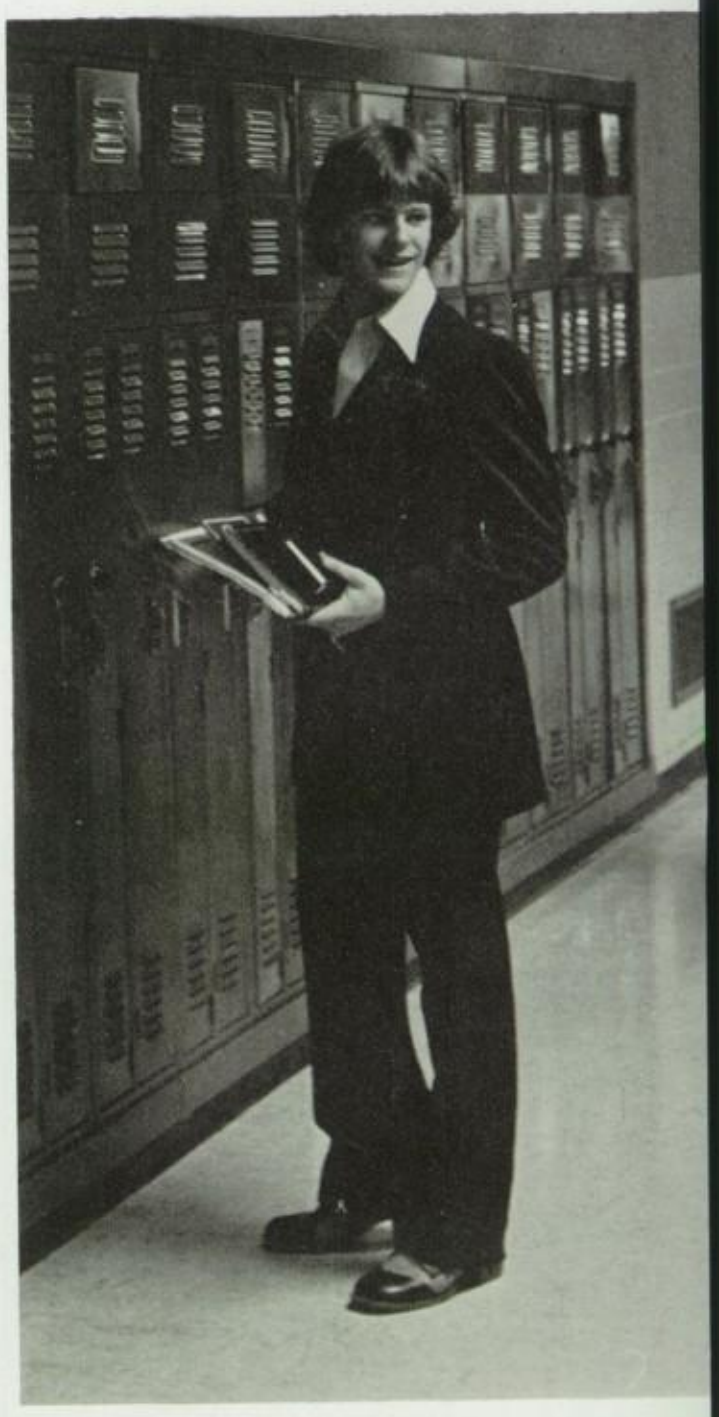
Student Council consists of 33 members from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. Every year each member is elected to the Council by their class.

Officers of Student Council this year are President Dave Conrad, Vice-President Jim Schmidt, Secretary Lynne Lenhard, and Treasurer Tammy Hughes. The advisors are Mr. Andes and Mr. Hull.

Special goals this year were to have more activities for students, help in community projects involving DeKalb, and to improve the teacher-student relationship.

Activities of Student Council included Homecoming, a Sadie Hawkins dance, the powder puff football game, UNICEF, sponsoring a foster child, holding a clothing and canned food drive, a dance-a-thon for Dollars for Scholars, dress-up day, and selling carnations.

Money-raising projects included the candy store, the WMEE Basketball game, and selling Social Security name plates.



PARTICIPATING IN THE Valentines activities, Scott Sommers shows off his suit and carnation on dress-up day.

AFTER SCHOOL, in the Commons, Student Council members and faculty enjoy refreshments as they discuss the day's activities.

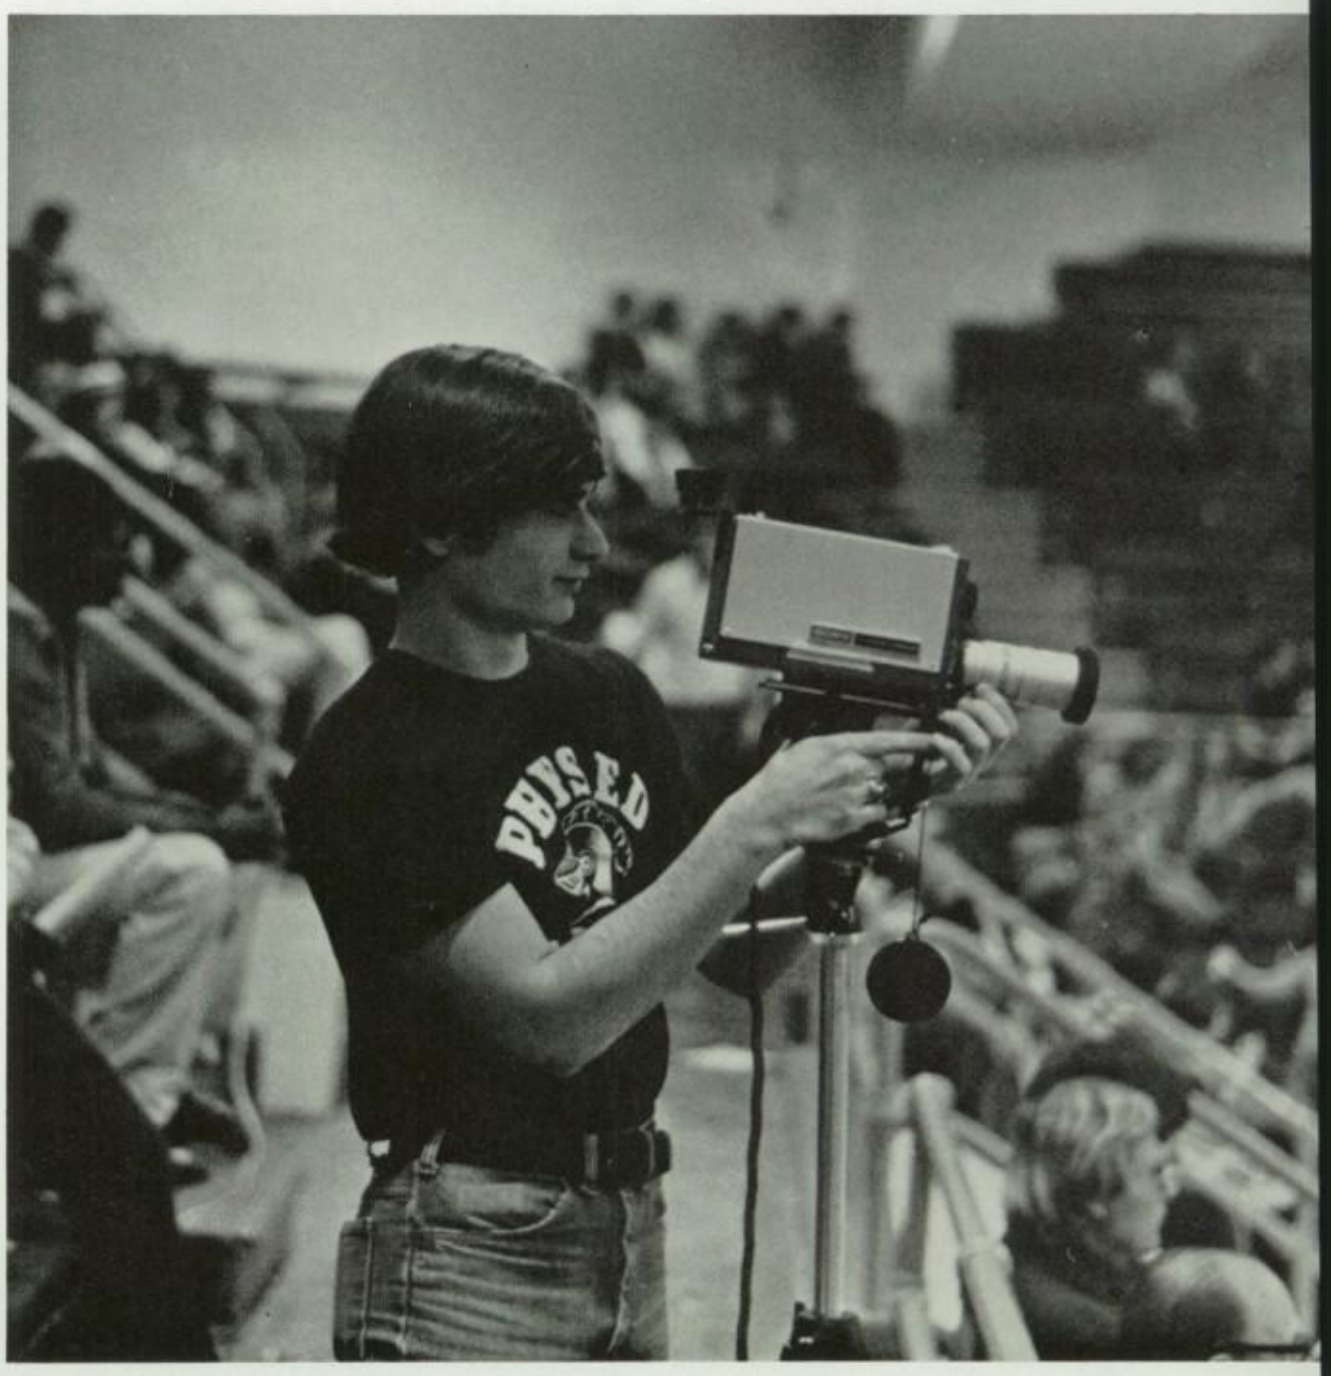
Students Donate Time, Talents

Students giving of their time, energy, and talents is the idea of Student Service. At DHS students give their assistance with varying interests and abilities. Audio-visual aids, teachers secretaries, office assistants, and lab assistants are the different areas of Student Service.

About 250 students are involved with Student Service at DeKalb. Grading papers, collecting attendance slips, running errands, and distributing passes are only a few of the many tasks students do. Each person receives points for the amount of time they work for Student Service.

The points are collected and the total number of points determines the type of medal each student will receive in the spring. Awards are granted on the basis of Silver, over 150 points; Gold, over 300 points; and Trophy, over 450 points.



AT THE DEKALB vs. South Side basketball game, Sam Wise records the game's action with the video rover.

WAITING in the guidance office Margaret Harrold reads as assistant Sharlene Fike patiently waits for the passes she will distribute.

ONE OF THE jobs of the AV students is to show movies to various classes. Here Tony Sommers rewinds a film after showing it.

WORKING in the bandroom office for student service, Kim Myers makes a list of music the DHS band has in its filing cabinet.

AV STUDENT Susan Green looks over her shoulder to say, "lights out," as she prepares to turn on the movie projector.

WHILE FILING MAGAZINE slips in the library Lori Mosley takes time out to give her assistance to some fellow Barons.

MAKING A SALE is just a part of Elaine Zehner's job, as she gives service with a smile to Cheryl Warren and Lana Hissong.

Students Show Abilities

National Honor Society is a group of Juniors and Seniors who have been selected by the faculty and DHS students. Membership is based on character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Officers of NHS were President Linda Bishop, V-President Bill Hathaway, Secretary Suzanne Brand, and Treasurer Betty Brady.

Inducting new members and helping with freshman orientation were NHS activities.

The Speech Team is for anyone who is interested in competitive speaking. Many individuals of the speech team did well. This year two juniors went to the State Finals. Kelli Roseberry placed 10th in Girls Extemp and Becky Warstler placed 15th in Radio Broadcasting.

The Speech Team was led by officers, President Jim Schmidt, Vice-Presidents Doug Jewel and Marcy Freed, Secretary Kay Stoneking, and Treasurer Becky Warstler.

DRAMATIC DUO Sandy Shull and Dean Waddell made it to Regional Finals with a cutting from PLAZA SUITE.

The mat maids helped out the wrestling team by keeping the scoreboard, helping keep the statistics, collecting entry fees, cleaning the mats, giving out oranges to the team members, and cheering for the guys. This year's captain of the mat maids was Rita Mitchener.

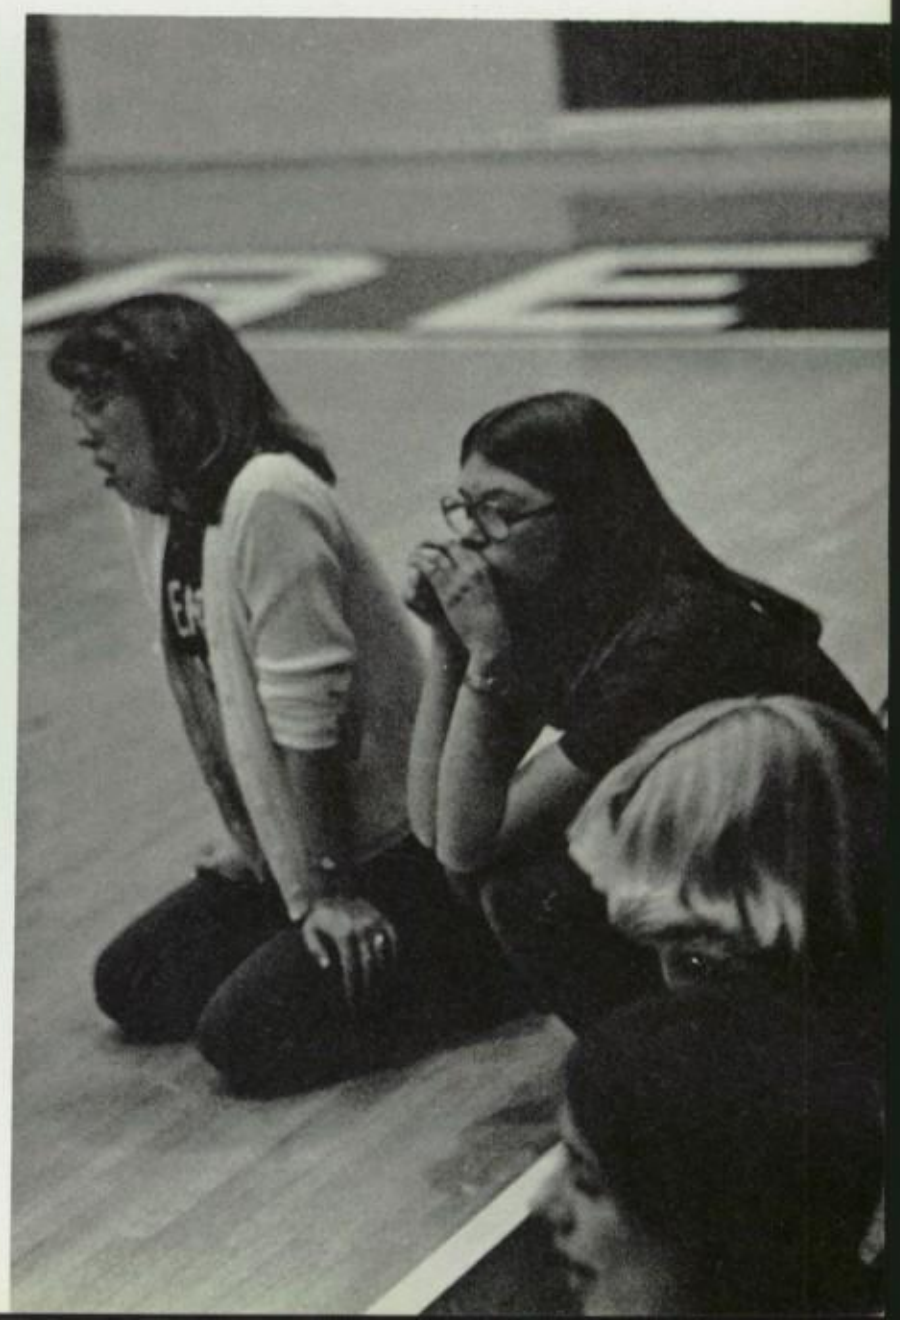
The bat girls helped the baseball team by sweeping off the bases, keeping score and statistics, taking entry fees, handing out the programs, and chasing after the foul balls. Cathy Baker was the bat girl's captain.

The bat girls sold window and bumper stickers and Baron Baseball cards to raise money to help pay for their new outfits.

A new activity, a score predicting contest, was held at DHS this year. Each day before a game students were given the chance to guess the correct score of the baseball game. Winners of the contests received free dinners from participating sponsors.

These girls contributed greatly to the successful running of the meets and games.

BAT GIRL CAPTAIN Cathy Baker sweeps off the base before the start of the inning at the DeKalb vs. Garrett game.



WATCHING AND SUPPORTING the Wrestling team the Mat Maids wait to hear the judges decision on the last match.

Athletes Raise Money For Sports

At DeKalb there are two clubs for the athletes. They are Letter Winners and Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Letter Winners is a club for those who have won a letter at DeKalb. Letter Winners run the concessions stand at the basketball games to raise money. The money they earn this year will go to help pay for the repair of the weight room equipment and for wind screens for the tennis courts.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a club for DeKalb athletes who are interested in Christian fun and fellowship.

The FCA officers are President Dave Conrad, Vice-President Doug Peterson, Secretary John Acton, and Treasurer Tony Sommers.

The club's activities include an overnighter and working the ACD days to raise money.

Gaining Knowledge Through Science

Future Medical Careers is an organization for anyone interested in the health fields. The club has discussions and presents any aspect of the medical field.

The club meets once a month on Fridays during home room or when necessary. Mr. Thomas is the club's sponsor. An end-of- the-year banquet is held in May.

Electronics Club is for anyone who has an interest in electricity and wants to gain more knowledge of electronics.

This year Electronics Club took field trips to WPTA-TV and WOWO radio and built a portable Audio Amplifier. The club meets during home room on Wednesdays and is sponsored by Mr. Snavley.

The purpose of Science Club is to promote an interest in the field of Science. The club meets on Mondays during home room as needed. Mr. Barber is the club's sponsor.

Activities of Science Club were selling Burger Chef calendars to raise money and a field trip to Pokagon State Park.

AT A HOME ROOM FMC meeting President Linda Bishop explains the next money-making project while Susan Schweigel listens.

Working Clubs in Action

Spanish Club is a club for anyone who has been or is now enrolled in Spanish class. The purpose of the club is to promote a special interest in the Spanish speaking cultures. The club has 55 members and meets on Mondays or when necessary. Mrs. Smith is the club's sponsor.

Activities of this year's Spanish Club were a Taco Party, a Christmas Party, the Foreign Language Banquet, and a Spanish Banquet. The club also had two paper drives and sold Burger Chef calendars to raise money for the club.

The purpose of Future Educators in Action is to support education and to recruit interested students in becoming teachers.

Special projects of FEA this year were making stockings for Christmas, selling crunch, making cookies for Thanksgiving, and a Spring Banquet.

Office Education Association is an organization for students enrolled in Intensive Business Lab. The purpose of the club is to promote leadership and to meet other students with similar interests. Activities are going to contests.

FFA,FHA: Preparing for the Future

The Future Farmers of America is an organization for anyone who is enrolled in Vocational Agriculture.

About sixty people are in FFA, which is sponsored by Mr. Washler. They meet once or twice a month with home room meetings when needed.

The officers of FFA are President Joel Conrad, Vice-President Roger Krehl, Secretary Annette Walters, Treasurer Julie Rinehart. Reporter Dennis Dilley and Sentinel Scott Warstler.

Activities of FFA include the annual soybean guessing contest, a chapter banquet, District Convention, and a judging contest.

Future Homemakers of America is a club for people interested in Home Economic Related Occupations.

Activities this year include a family banquet, a trip to the Kiddy Kollege, and a swimming party in the spring.

FHA officers are President Anita Miller, Vice-President Connie Strite, Secretary Jackie Bender, and Treasurer Teresa Cable.

IN THE LIVING room FHA members Laurie Kester, Teresa Reinhart, and Teresa Cable discuss plans to visit the Kiddy Kollege.

Spirit on the Loose

Promoting school spirit and pride, creating pep, and supporting our Barons the best they can are the main goals of our cheerleaders at DHS.

Our dedicated Varsity squad consists of one senior, Rita Mitchener, and four Juniors: Shelly Chavez, Pam Collins, Julie Heimach, and Kathi Randle. Julie was chosen to be the squad's captain.

The energetic Junior Varsity squad is four sophomores: Mandy Blevins, Tammy Cheek, Rhonda Healey, and Micki Weilbaker. Rhonda was chosen captain of their squad.

Both squads practice after school and are sponsored by Beth Delaney.

This year, for the first time, our cheerleaders were chosen by a panel. The panel was made up of Baron Boosters, faculty members, and fellow students.

During the summer both squads sold soap to help pay for the expenses of the camp they attended at Oxford, Ohio.

At camp the cheerleaders got new ideas and learned new chants and cheers. Together, with the efforts of both squads, they brought home a spirit stick and numerous ribbons.

Pep Club Spreads Baron Pride

Spreading school spirit, pride, and enthusiasm were the goals of Pep Club this year. The Pep Club backed the Barons at all the home basketball games and some choice away games.

The Pep Club had 55 members who were led by officers: President Janine Comment, Vice-President Suzy Scranage, Secretary Janeen Steury, and Treasurer Deb Baker. Mr. Bill Schlosser was the club's sponsor.

Working with the cheerleaders, the Pep Club met on Wednesdays during home room to learn new cheers and chants. Pep Club decorated the hoop for each of the home basketball games.

Burger Chef calendars were sold by the Pep Club members to raise money to buy new shakers, new black derbies, and corsages for the Sectional.

New Ideas From The Pub Room

Busily working in the Pub room are two groups who produce the yearbook and the school newspaper. These two groups are the Saber Staff and the Baron Shield Staff.

The purpose of the Newspaper Staff is to give out and inform the students of the activities and happenings at DHS.

The main goals set for the Newspaper Staff were to produce nine issues and to increase the circulation of the Baron Shield.

This year the Editor-in-Chief of the Baron Shield was Robin Wells. Lisa Deetz was the layout editor, Freida Karnes was in charge of the circulation, and Susan Chrisman was the advertising manager. Mrs. Thomas is the Shield advisor.

The purpose of the Saber Staff is to produce a final yearbook to keep a permanent copy of past activities of the school year.

The main goal of the Saber Staff was to meet all its deadlines.

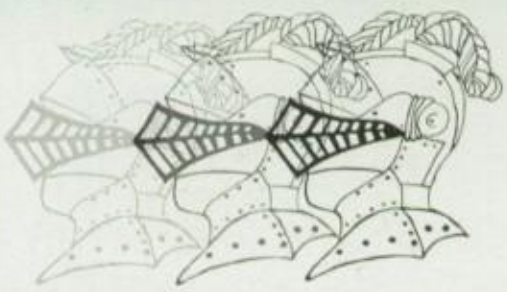
PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN

AS WE COMPETE



Proud Barons We Remain as we strive to compete and represent our school at sport meets. We not only compete with other schools, but also with other students at DHS, in intramurals. The hard work in practicing pays off. Grime, sweat, and running around the football field seems like part of all sports, but in Track and Cross Country they do it at all events. Basketball, Volleyball, and Football all have one thing in common, team work. The teams strive to win. Coaches take so much of their time, caring and helping students develop their athletic abilities. Gymnastics, Wrestling, and Tennis have many new team members. We show other schools that little experience does not always make a difference in who wins the game. All athletes can remember the fans, the crowd, and being able to compete, because ... PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN.

Varsity Football Scores Thrilling Overtime Wins

The 1977 football squad, displaying outstanding skill and teamwork, provided fans with many of the most exciting, suspense-filled games in memory. Although the two overtime wins were astounding, the sweetest victory came over Garrett. The Batons scored to tie with :07 left, then John Acton kicked his first successful extra point to send DeKalb fans into jubilant hysteria.

Led by 20 seniors, the Baron gridders were tough to beat. John Acton, Randy Baird, Doug Gower, Bob Brewer, and Eric Penland, and junior Denny Vian were named to the All-Conference team, while Baird gained a spot on the Journal-Gazette all-area team and Acton made all-state. Coach Moree says of the talented underclassmen, "The potential is here for the best team in DeKalb history." The returning juniors and sophomores should easily continue the winning tradition into the '78 season.

Young Netmen Strive Hard

The Boy's Tennis Team of 1976 left a hard trail to follow for this year's team. Losing four seniors to graduation, these places were filled by Senior Andy Fox and Juniors Rich Gallagher, Bob VanHorn, and Jeff Parker.

With the able assistance of new coach, Joanne Paul, the Barons were able to play well against their senior opponents. Andy Fox held on to his opponents better than any of his teammates and compiled a 7-6 record.

In Conference play, the Barons placed 9th losing to Columbia City 4-1. DeKalb hosted an invitational Sept. 27 and placed 6th. Bob VanHorn placed 4th while Rich Gallagher placed 3rd. In Sectional play, DeKalb was upset by Howe 3-2 in first round play.

Reserves Gain Experience

With determination and pride, the DeKalb Reserves displayed fine play and performance this year. The young Sophomore football team demonstrated skills that are necessary for Varsity play.

With a balanced record of 4-4, Coach David felt his team had a successful year. He noted the 4 game loss was due to a mental lapse or error, but the team played well together. Mark Heller led the gridders with 8 touchdowns during the season, while Doug Hall had 2.

As the season progressed, DeKalb improved their offensive game and went on to defeat Angola in a double overtime, 21-20. Still in the winning spirit, the Barons then led an attack on Harding and won 12-0.

Another fine reserve team which deserves credit is the Girl's Volleyball team. The Lady Barons fought hard for their victories and finished with a 4-7 mark. Combining teamwork and hard play, it was evident that the Barons would not give up easily. In two of their four wins, they extended their play to 3 games and came up victorious. With everyone returning next year, they will take the place of the seniors and repeat the tradition of teamwork and perfection that is ever present with DeKalb teams.

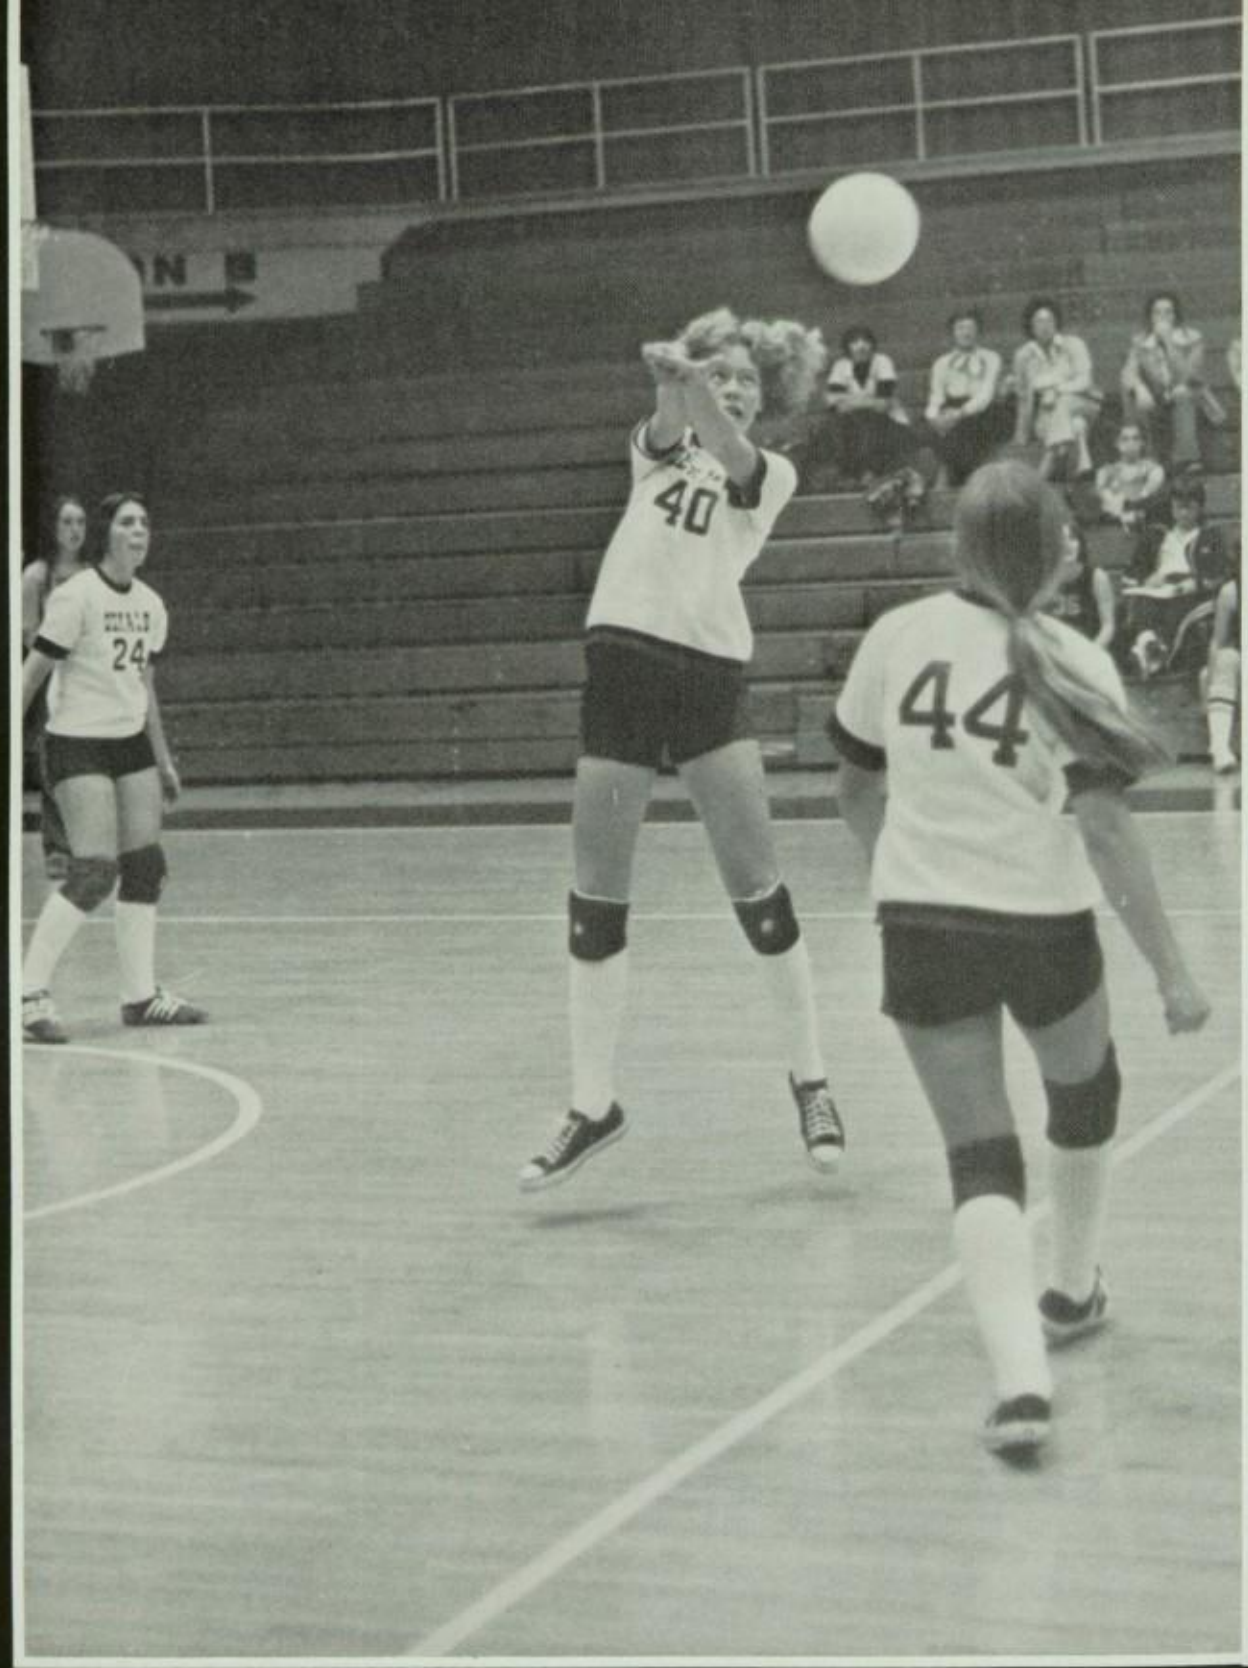
C C Suffers Slow Season

The '77 season was a disappointing one for Coach Walton, with only 3 returning letterwinners to lead his team. Unfortunately, all the Fort Wayne teams proved exceptionally strong, allowing few Baron victories.

DeKalb did, however, defeat archrival Garrett every time the two teams raced. Senior Charri Vorndran proved that girls can run by earning a varsity letter, the first awarded to a girl in DeKalb's history. Junior Mike Barkman was the first Baron finisher in every meet. His best 2.5-mile time was 12:42, and he once placed right behind Lakeland's Jeff King, who later took second in the sectional.

Although this year's team lacked the talents of previous teams, Coach Walton looked upon it as a rebuilding year. Losing only 4 seniors, next year's team should see marked improvement. With the astounding talents of the Jr. High team to draw on, DeKalb may soon return to the elite group of state finalists.

AFTER THREE MEETS on Shoaff Park's maze-like courses, junior Jeff Manon finally learned the RIGHT directions to run.



Spikers Meet Tough Foes

The Varsity Volleyball Team had a tough 1977 schedule. Although they won key games in the NEIAC, the Lady Barons had a harder time defeating the Fort Wayne schools. Considering their schedule, they held their own said Coach Taelman. She also said she was satisfied with their play but felt they could have done better.

In Conference play, the Lady Barons were 4-1 in regular schedule and were defeated by Bellmont in the tourney.

Led by Senior captains Debbie Baker and Debbie Carper, the Barons led an attack on Garrett twice in the season and in Sectional. Eastside then eliminated them in 2 games.

Although the netters have had an even mark of 8-8, eight strong players will be returning next year to better their record and to spike their way to victory.

JANEEN STEURY and Linda Auld watch their teammate Deb Carper bump the ball back over the net to their opponents.

DEBBIE BAKER seems to be enjoying her last year on the team as she jumps off her feet to return the ball.

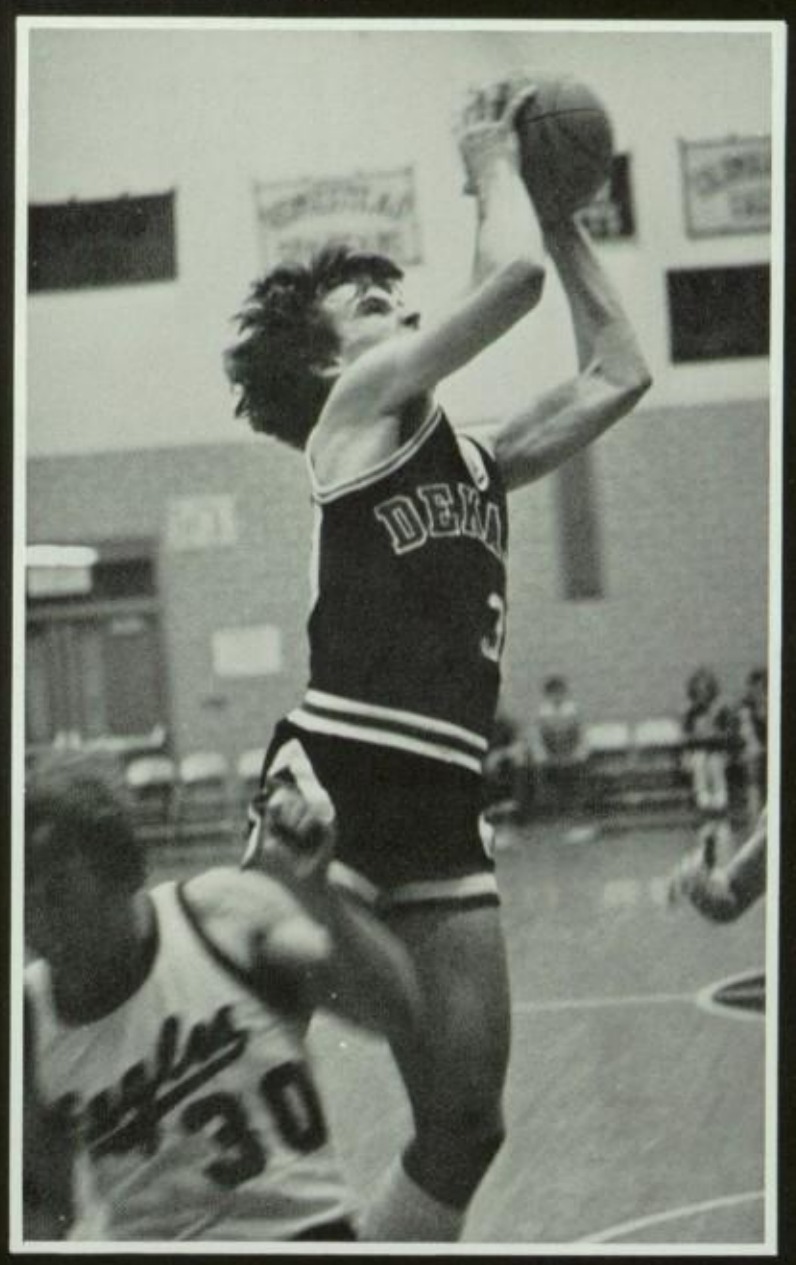
Hysteria Reigns

The 77-78 Varsity Basketball team had its share of defeat, but when the wins came, they were sweet indeed. The most delirious rejoicing came after the Barons stopped previously unbeaten Angola with 41 points from Rick Joseph. Bob Brewer was the most consistent player in scoring and rebounding. The three seniors, Joseph, Brewer, and Bill Hathaway provided inspiration and leadership, and the underclassmen gained skill as the tough season progressed.

Untimely blizzards crippled the Barons' schedule, forcing them into frustrating layoffs. When play resumed, the Baron cagers sprang back into action with added determination.

Unfortunately, Coach Leix's first season as head coach came to a screeching halt as Fremont defeated the Barons in first round sectional play.



CLOSELY GUARDED by a Bluffton Tiger, Brad Blevins tries to dribble the ball away and head for the basket.

Grapplers Do Well In Tourneys

The 15 members of this year's wrestling team provided fans with many exciting meets and opponents with many crushing defeats. Along with the 6 wins during the season, the grapplers placed high in several tourneys and the sectional.

They captured third at the East Noble Invitational, sixth in Conference, and second in sectional. Junior Mark Graber placed second in regional and wasn't eliminated until the semi-state match.

Under the experienced coaching of Russ Smith, several Barons compiled outstanding personal records. Scoring the most pins was junior Bill Zimmer with a total of 14. He also had the fastest pin in 17 seconds.

Baron Pride Is Teamwork For Reserves

Dedication, team effort and the desire to win were the key goals of this year's reserve teams. The Baron bouncers showed pride in their skills and used them to the fullest extent on the court.

The boys reserve team finished with an impressive record of 13-6. During the long winter, the Baron team won the Garrett Reserve Tournament and beat one of the best teams in Ft. Wayne, South Side. Their conference record was 6-2.

Baron Pride was still on the court when the girls reserve team came out to play. Shooting their way to a 6-5 record, the girls were led by Lisa Pineiro who scored the most points all year. The team was 1-4 in the Conference and could not quite pull out a win against East Noble in their last game.

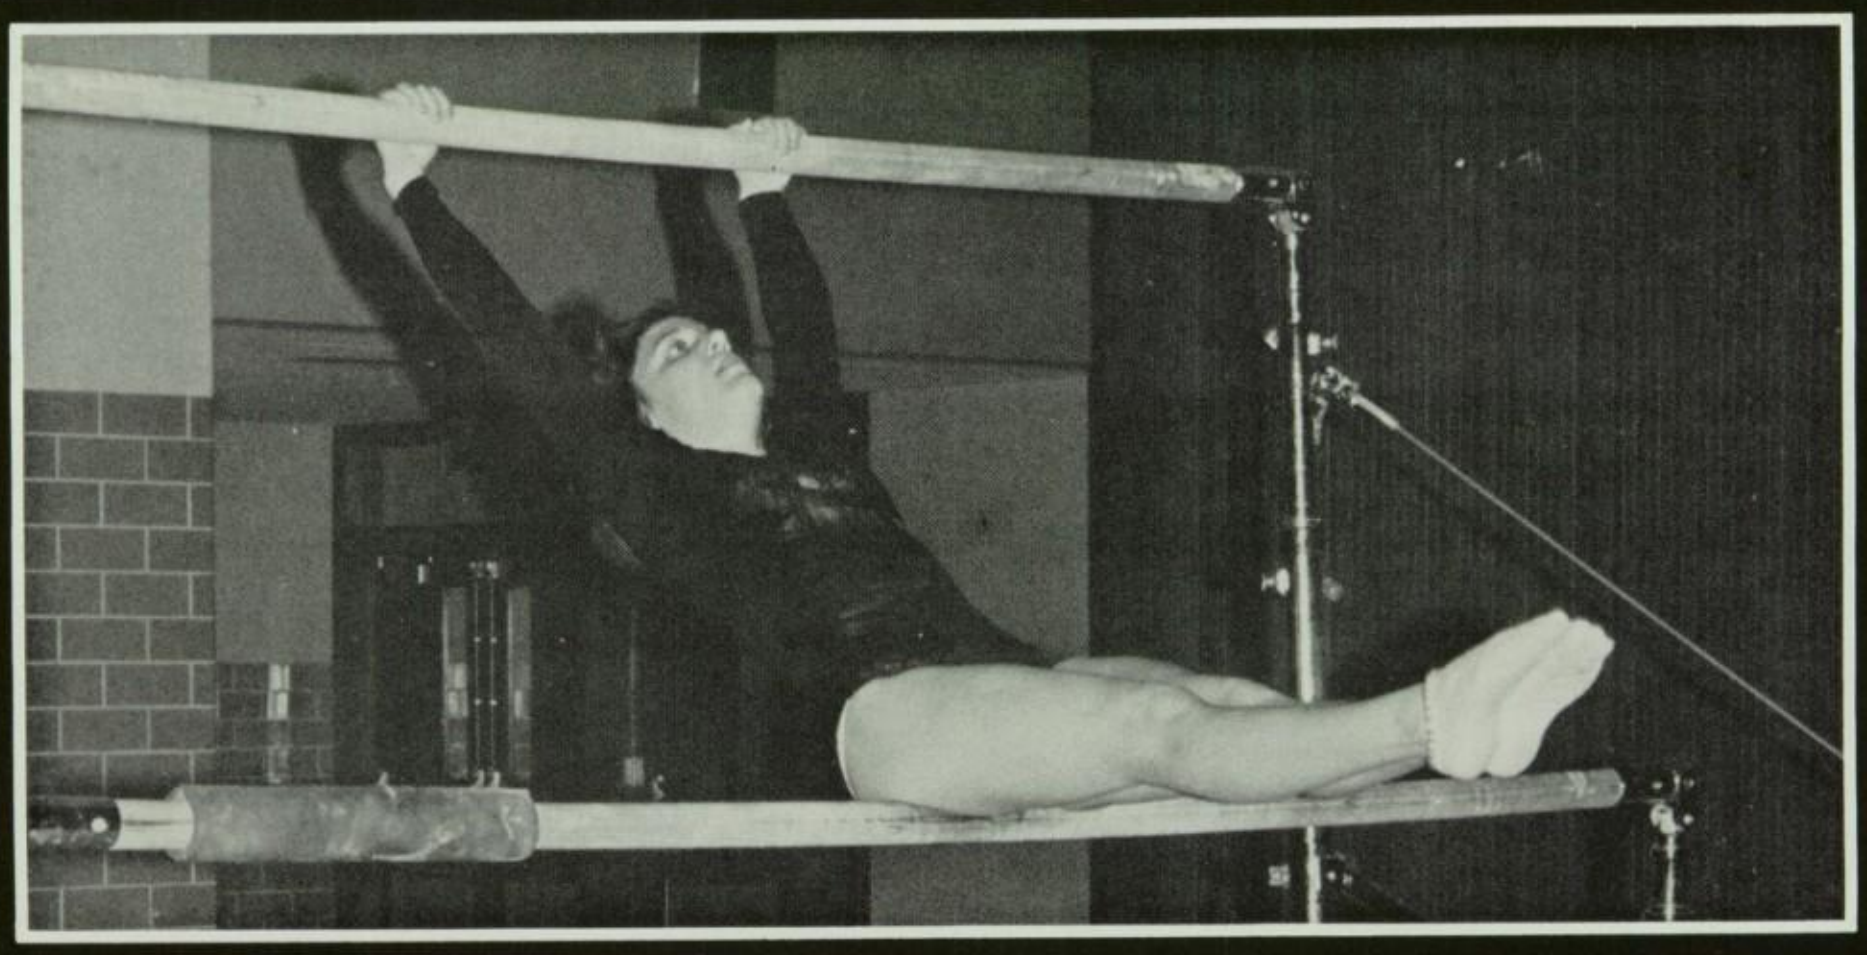
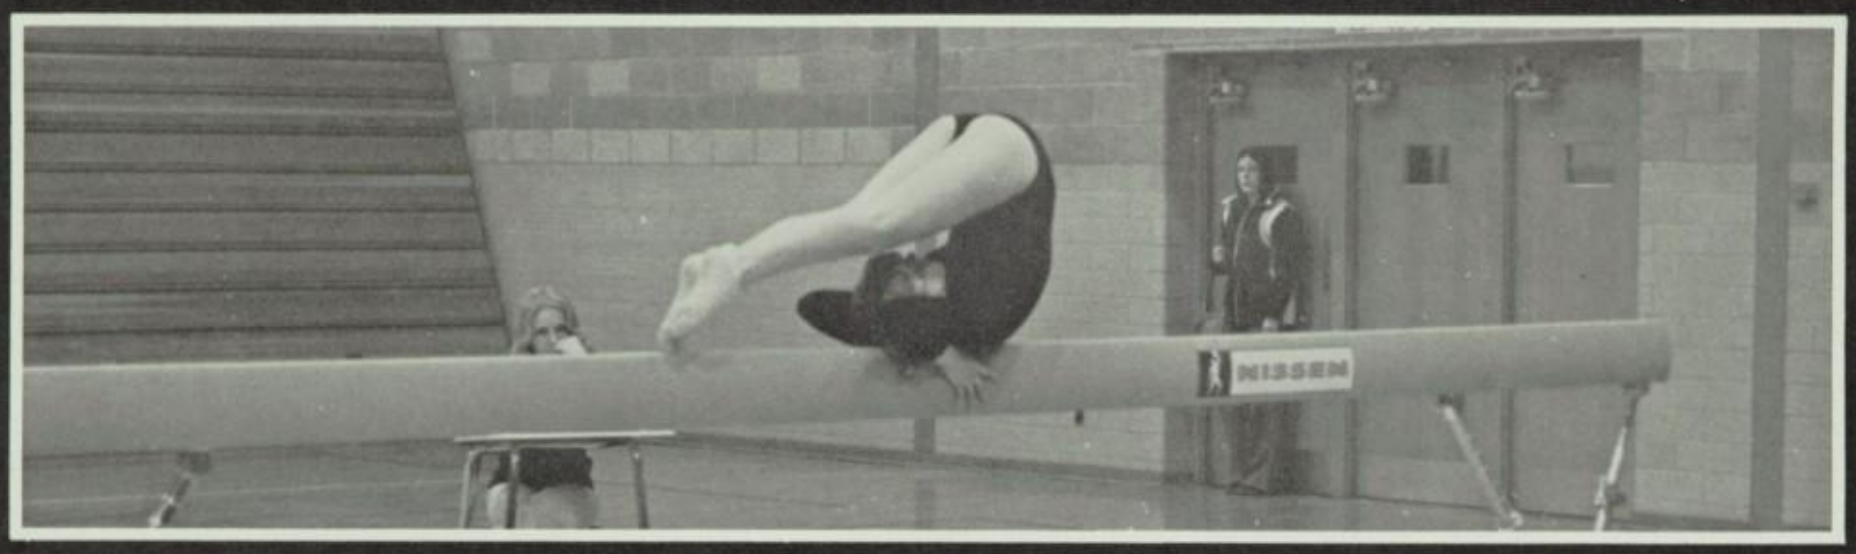
NEIAC — Fifth
Sectional — Fifth

SURVIVING MANY INJURIES and long hours of practice, Cathy Leedy turned in many first place performances.





PERFORMING ON A narrow four inch beam, Barb Shutt confidently does a forward roll in competing against Carroll and East Noble.

Such character traits as self-confidence, perseverence and self-discipline developed from this year's gymnastics team. The coordination and skill of team members involved many fine performances and first place ribbons.

Sophomore Tami Cheek and Junior Tracey Houston contributed wins at Sectional and advanced to Regional action. Tami placed 3rd on vault, and Tracey Houston placed 3rd on unevens at Sectional. These girls showed creative ability and endurance during many long hours of practice along with their teammates.

Looking forward to next season, the team will be well suited with many returning sophomores and juniors, and will be ready to step back on the mats for action.

POISED IN A HANDSTAND, Roxanne Payton goes through her routine on the optional level in hopes of winning a first place ribbon.

FLOOR EXERCISE PROVES to be challenging for Mandy Blevins while she competes on the intermediate level.

PRECISE ONE-HANDED SHOOTING by Val Hartman helped lift the Barons over Garrett for one of their few victories.

FRONT ROW: Lana Blevins, Sue Alexander, Cheryl Sanders, Deb Carper. Row 2: Val Hartman, Linda Auld, Nancy Bates, Julie Rinehart, Lori Bassett. Row 3: Lori Moore, Vickie Warner, Shelly Miller, Lori Rynearson, Marla Hayward, (mgrs.) Coach Paul.

WITH TWO Eastside players hopelessly looking on, Junior Sue Alexander goes underneath for a crucial layup.

FANCY FOOTWORK and fast passing, as Julie Rinehart knows, are essential to the Baron offense for a resounding victory over Garrett.

Lady Barons Lack Experience, Depth

ANXIOUSLY AWAITING a possible rebound, both the Barons and the Railroaders strategically position themselves beneath the hoop.

With a new coach and a young team, the Lady Barons found it difficult to capture as many victories in the 77-78 campaign as they had hoped for. Dismal field goal percentages and fouls hurt the girls repeatedly. Their height advantage was evident, though, as they outrebounded nearly all their opponents.

Chosen for the All-Conference team was junior guard Val Hartman, the only Baron to average over ten points per game. Senior Debbie Carper led the team in rebounding, pulling down 12 caroms per contest.

Coach Paul noted a marked improvement just within the season itself and also felt the experience gained would help her team considerably during the coming season. Six letterwinners will be back next year to pick up where they left off, and, hopefully, they will pick up a few more wins.

DESPITE HER Eastside opponent's outstretched arms, senior Nancy Bates executes a well-timed pass to a teammate near the bucket.

LEAPING HIGH with anticipation, Debbie Carper attempts to haul down yet another rebound during second-quarter action against Garrett.

With the experience and talents of several outstanding seniors, the otherwise-young boys track team posted several satisfying victories.

Doug Peterson set a new school and track record in the discus with a throw of 165 feet. Another record breaker was Jim Zumbrun's long jump of 21' 5¾". In the 330 yard hurdles, a new event, Dave Conrad set a school record of 41.3.

Regional qualifiers were Peterson and Mike Barkman, whose best time in the 2-mile of 9:29.7 was just five seconds over the school record.

Other outstanding performers throughout the year were the 800 relay team of Conrad, Zumbrun, Fox, and Morr, which finished first in many meets. Their best time was an outsanding 1:34.1.

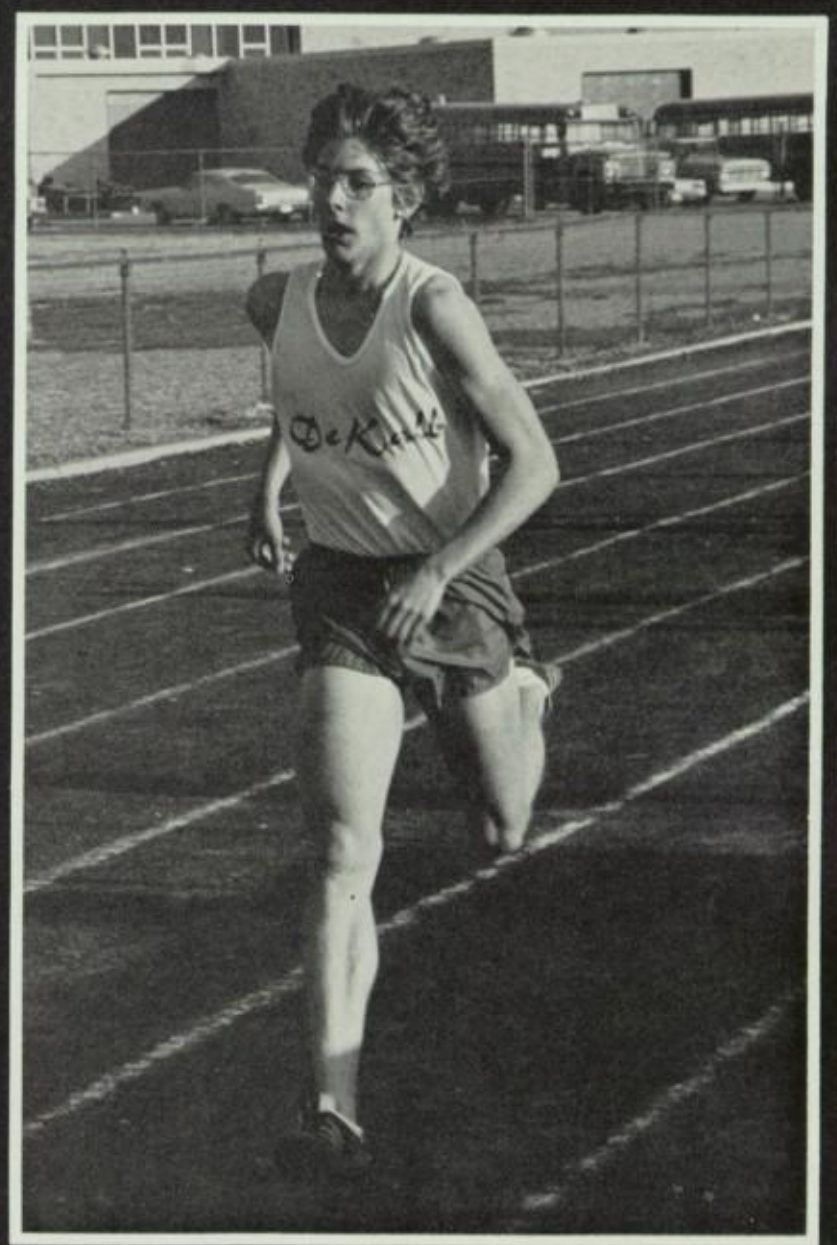
FRONT ROW: Cathy Tester, Bernadette L'Hommedieu. Row 2: Dave Marlow, Brian Glick, Doug Peterson, Scott Sommers, Dave Conrad, Willie Baughman, Robin Debes, Jim Zumbrun, Scott Wellman. Row 3: Coach Yarde, Ralph Ramey, Stuart Bangs, Dave Hathaway, Lane Yarian, Roger Lantz, Andy Fox, Bill Roy, Joe Morr, Mike Barkman, John Zimmer, Coach Lightfoot.

CONCENTRATING ON FORM, Doug Peterson hurls the discus record 165 feet at the Angola Homestead meet.

WITH HIS OWN unique style, Brian Glick manages to clear the bar and keep his hat on at the same time!

GRIMACING AT THE FINISH LINE, seniors Andy Fox and Jim Zumbrun exhibit the strains of sprinting 100 yards at top speed.

LEADING THE PACK, junior distance ace Mike Barkman starts yet another lap in his grueling two-mile run.



GRIT, DETERMINATION, and a last-second lunge for the wire enable John Zimmer to edge out his Homestead foe in the reserve meet.

LONG-LEGGED SOPHOMORE Dave Hathaway leaps with the greatest of ease over the difficult course of high hurdles.

Lady Barons Compile 8-6 Record

The girls track team, under the experienced coaching of Barb Herzer, compiled a respectable 8-6 record, despite plaguing injuries and illnesses. Although a young team, with only five seniors, the Lady Barons proved their abilities against many tough Fort Wayne schools.

Four new records were set this season. Lynne Lenhard lowered her hurdles record with a 10.9 clocking, and she also sped to a 26.65 time in the 220. Diane Stahl ran a 66.8 to reset the 440 mark, and Joyce Steininger threw the softball a record 199'7½". The 880 medley team tied the present record of 2:03.5.

The girls missed a second place Conference finish by one point, and failed to score in the Sectional.

FRONT ROW: Lori Moore, Amy Walker, Mary MacDowall, Joyce Steininger, Diana Carpenter. Row 2: Charri Vorndran, Val Vanator, Roxanne Payton, Tina Pinnington, Annette Walters, Susie Walters, Val Hartman, Gloria Shatto. Row 3: Coach Herzer, Teresa Drerup, Deb VanWye, Susan Schlosser, Rita Tilghman, Diane Stahl, Sue Alexander, Deb Baker, Lynne Lenhard, Coach Taelman.

LEAPING HIGH in the air for maximum distance, versatile Susie Walters shows onlookers her winning style in the long jump.

EXEMPLIFYING SHEER STRENGTH, Junior Joyce Steininger shows what it takes to put the shot farther than her opponents are able to.

DESPITE AN EAR INFECTION, marathoner Charri Vorndran had many good races this season in the 880 and in her specialty, the mile.

PERFECT HANDOFFS, as Rita Tilghman and Annette Walters demonstrate, are the key to a winning 880 relay team.

RECORD-SETTING SENIOR sprinter Lynne Lenhard flies over the 80-yard low hurdles for another of her many blue ribbons.

AS SHE BARELY clears the bar, Junior Sue Alexander hates to think what would happen if she missed.

TO DOBIE OPPER'S OBVIOUS amazement, Joe Meyer casually tees off a long, breathtaking shot enroute to another low score.

AFTER HE SPOTS the cup, Brian Richards decides how he is going to get out of the sandtrap and on to the green.

CONCENTRATION, a firm grip, and a low swing enable senior Bill Edgar to chip his ball off the fairway and closer to the hole.

EYEING THE CUP, junior golfer Todd Habig aligns his ball with expertise on the green and putts.

WATCHING HIS BALL sail straight down the fairway, Dobie Opper realizes that he has a good chance for a birdie.

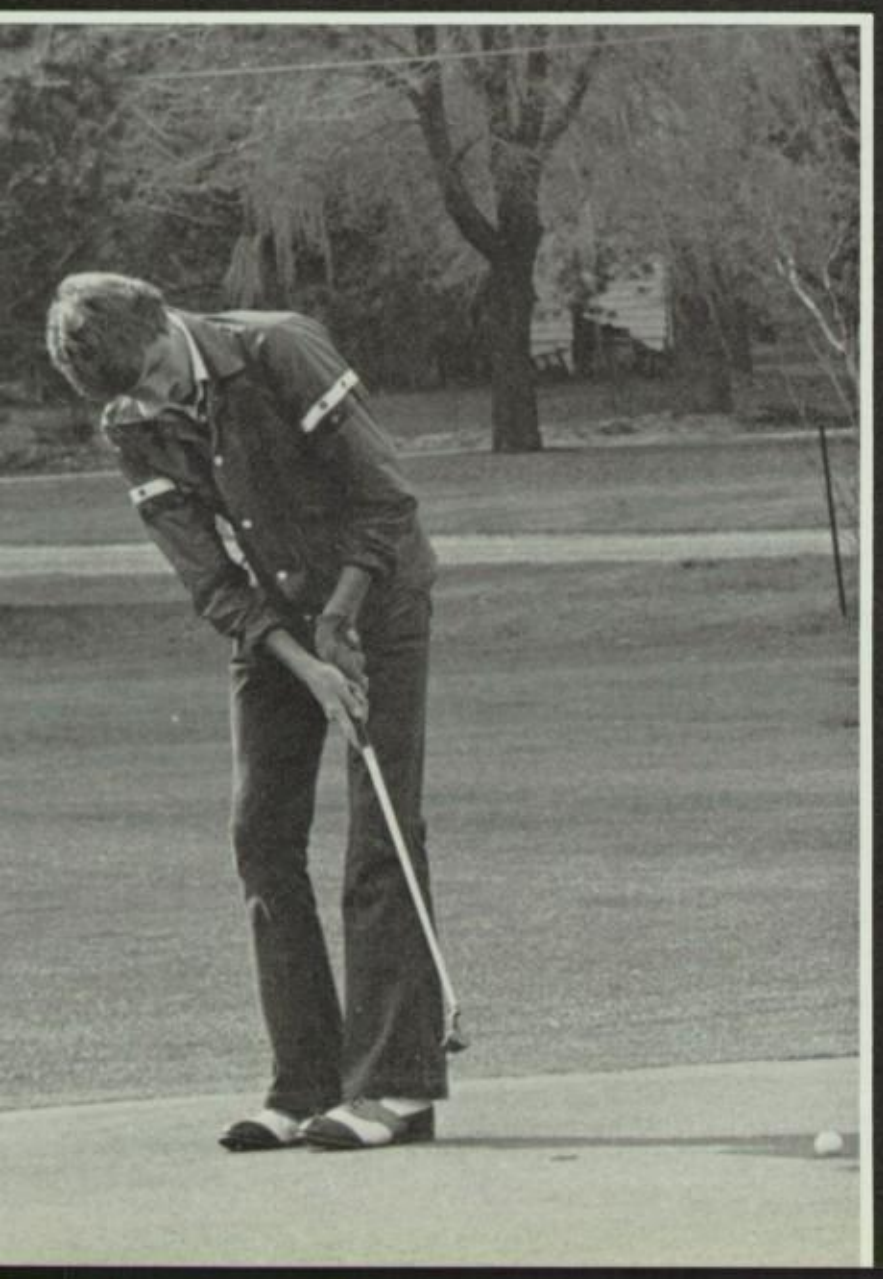
Golfers Win NEIAC

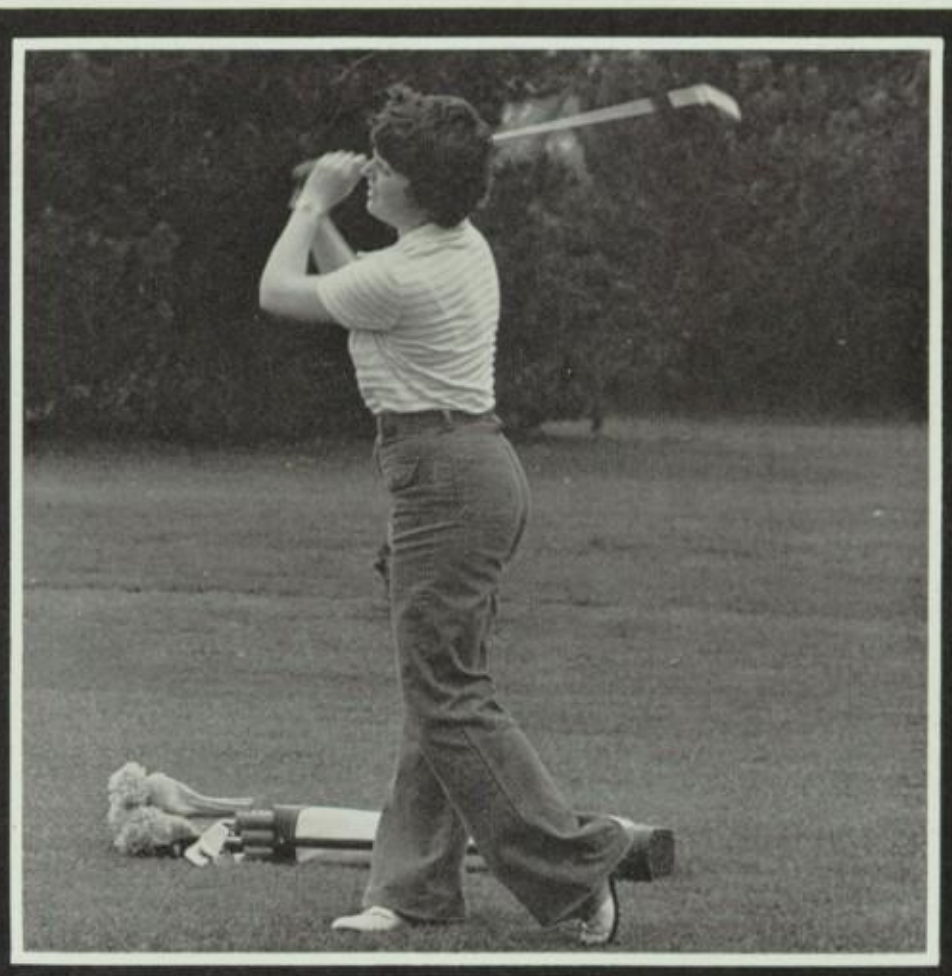
An experienced varsity golf team, led by three veteran seniors, swung its way to an impressive 12-2 season. Competition among teammates was stiff, with a different medalist in nearly every meet.

This year's squad broke the old record of 144 strokes for four players on nine holes, with a 140 total, against Garrett and North Side. They swept the Conference meet by seven strokes, demolishing 14th ranked Homestead. They slipped to a seventh place finish in the Sectional, played on a flooded Brookwood course. Joe Meyer tied for 5th in that meet.

The reserves nearly matched the varsity record, scoring eight wins against only two losses.

FRONT ROW: Pat Webb, Steve Souder, Bill Edgar, Nancy Bates, Tim Curry. Row 2: Joe Meyer, Dobie Opper, Brian Richards, Kevin Meyer, Todd Habig.





IMMEDIATELY AFTER she swings, senior Nancy Bates is aware that her ball isn't going to land where she intended it to.

HOLDING HER BREATH, Nancy Buchs fixes her eyes on the ball and remembers all the techniques she learned in practice.

Bad Weather, Inexperience Hamper Play

Fighting bad weather and inexperience, the Lady Netters had a long and tough schedule. With only one win on their record, the team will have a rebuilding year next season losing four seniors to graduation. Many strong efforts and fine performances were held by many individuals on the team. No. 1 doubles team of Susan Durst and Deb Carper placed fourth in the Conference tourney after being defeated by a strong New Haven team. No. 1 singles player Karen Muhn won her first two rounds in Sectional play, then lost to a Bishop Dwenger opponent in the third round.

Coach Paul will be looking for some underclassmen to fill in these spots next year, and hopes to better their record. The Lady Barons can then gain more experience and give their opponents a tougher match.

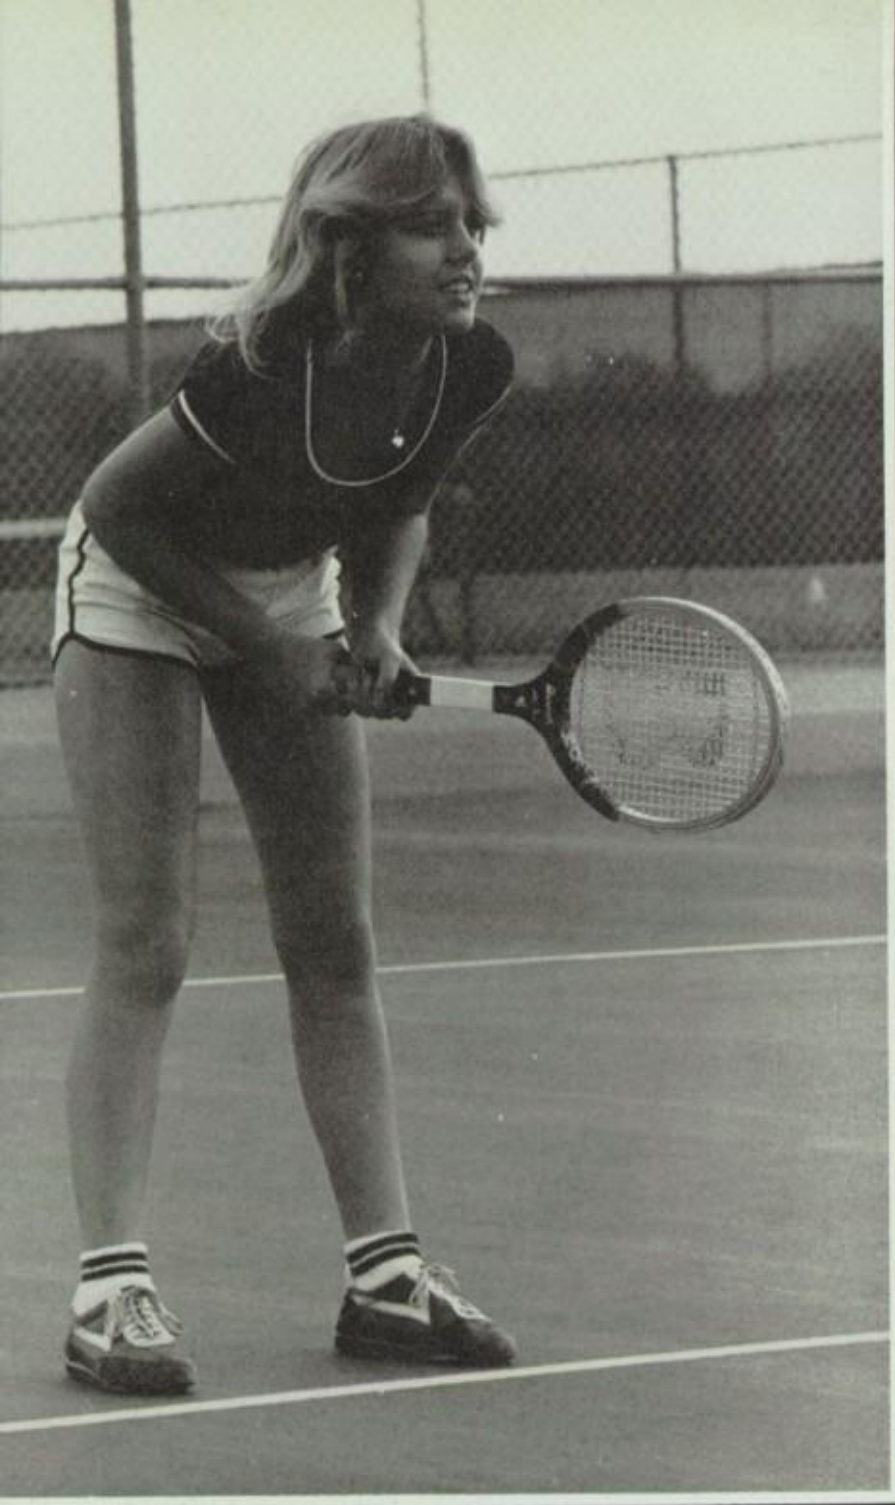
WITH PERFECT TIMING, Junior Kim Knott demonstrates her powerful forehand and returns the ball back over the net.

MAKING SURE she keeps her foot outside the line, number-one singles player Karen Muhn sends a fast, hard serve to her foe.



BRACING HERSELF for the oncoming serve, sophomore Beth Zonker tries to figure out her opponent's strategy in a reserve match.

UNHAPPY WITH HER performance so far, senior Amy Shankle concentrates intensely on her game, hoping to come from behind and win.

AS THE CATCHER waits for the ball, Terry Joseph has already gone by into home to score against Blackford.

24 Win Streak Highlights Season

What can you say about a team that has played in bad weather, is coached by a man named Bill Jones, and has had a 24 game winning streak? The only word to use would be "fantastic." The Baron team was rated in the state's top ten all year, reaching as high as number three. The long winning streak was broken by a 1-0 loss to Luers, rated sixth in the state.

Another season highlight was winning the NEIAC championship, being undefeated in conference play. Named to the all-conference team were outfielder Ty Cobbs, with a .325 batting average, and pitcher Brad Blevins, with an 8-1 record, including one no-hitter.

Cobbs was the leading run producer with 27 RBI's and led the pitching staff with a 9-1 record, an outstanding ERA of 0.49, and a 112-31 strikeout to walk ratio. Mark Shultz led the team with a .351 batting average and 22 runs scored.

The season came to an abrupt halt with a 7-5 extra-inning loss to Leo in first-round sectional action.

STANDING READY to swing, Senior Roger Rudolph attempts to get a run and boost the team past their opponents.

SLIDING IN THE DIRT, Dave Peterson flies safely into home against Concordia and the DeKalb batmen won 6-5 to start their winning streak.

The DeKalb baseball program has built many fine reserve players this season. Sporting a fine record of 6-1, Coach Harp coached these young men through a short season.

The team posted a very good combined batting average of .312. Leading the team for those with over ten times at bat was Jeff Meyer's average of .462. The most productive hitters were Larry Leins and Troy Sommers, who each had 8 RBI's. Tops in the stolen base department was Todd Dickson with six.

The combined pitching staff also did quite well. In 47 innings pitched, they allowed only 33 hits while striking out 64 and walking 50. The team ERA was 3.87. Jeff Meyer was the winningest pitcher with a record of 2-0 and Kraig Schlosser was the leading strike-out artist with 17.

Such outstanding performances make the outlook for Baron baseball very bright indeed.

NOT THE WAY the coach taught him, this unidentified reserve "slides" into third base safely against Eastside.

AS THE BALL comes nearer, Jeff Meyer tightens his grip on the bat and swings to score a run for the Baron team.

Baseball Reserves, Intramurals Provide Fun and Games

A good way to start your morning at school was to have a good game of basketball with your friends. Unfortunately, this year, basketball was the only sport offered in the intramural program. This was due to the homeroom change.

The students got a special treat by viewing the two best teams left in the contest. The junior team outhustled the Senior Silver Bullets by a score of 15-11. Coach Walton, head of the intramural program, handed out the trophies at the end of the game to a tired but happy team.

RUSHING DOWN the floor, all eyes are upon the basket as the ball comes down to the players' hands for a rebound.

WITH BOTH ARMS in the air, Roger Rudolph pumps in another two points in for the Silver Bullet Team.

CLOSELY GUARDED by three seniors, Danny Brown puts up the ball and anxiously awaits the results.

So there they are . . . the Class of 1978! In the past few years, it has become increasingly difficult — because of seventh semester and part time students — to have a group picture of seniors taken that truly represents the senior class. Therefore, it was decided, instead of a group color picture, that the 1978 SABER would have individual color pictures of seniors. Thanks to the advertisers who helped with the extra cost involved.

Because of an early deadline for color pictures, the senior directory is listed separately starting on page 178. It is a more accurate listing of the class members. There may be some seniors pictured here who, for one reason or another, withdrew from school during the year. The directory will also include black and white pictures of any seniors who were photographed too late to meet the early deadline.

The Class of 1979

The Junior Class, this year, like any other year, was kept very busy, by selling raffle tickets at the fair booth for a one minute shopping spree, spending a lot of time making plans for the Prom, getting their class rings, and making the big decision of whether or not to attend college, and if so, what college to attend. They also got the chance to take the PSAT and the SAT tests. Between going to work, club meetings, sports, and Student Council, the Class of 1979 was kept very busy.

Juniors Receive Honors

Inexperienced Sophomores became knowledgeable Juniors. They realized the importance of planning their future. Getting a driver's license was a goal for many Juniors. Many participated in varsity sports. Julie Heimach, Shelly Chavez, Kathi Randle and Pam Collins all had the priviledge of being on the varsity cheerleading squad. Robin Wells was the Editor of the Baron Shield, a rare experience for a junior. This year many new opportunities were available for Juniors.

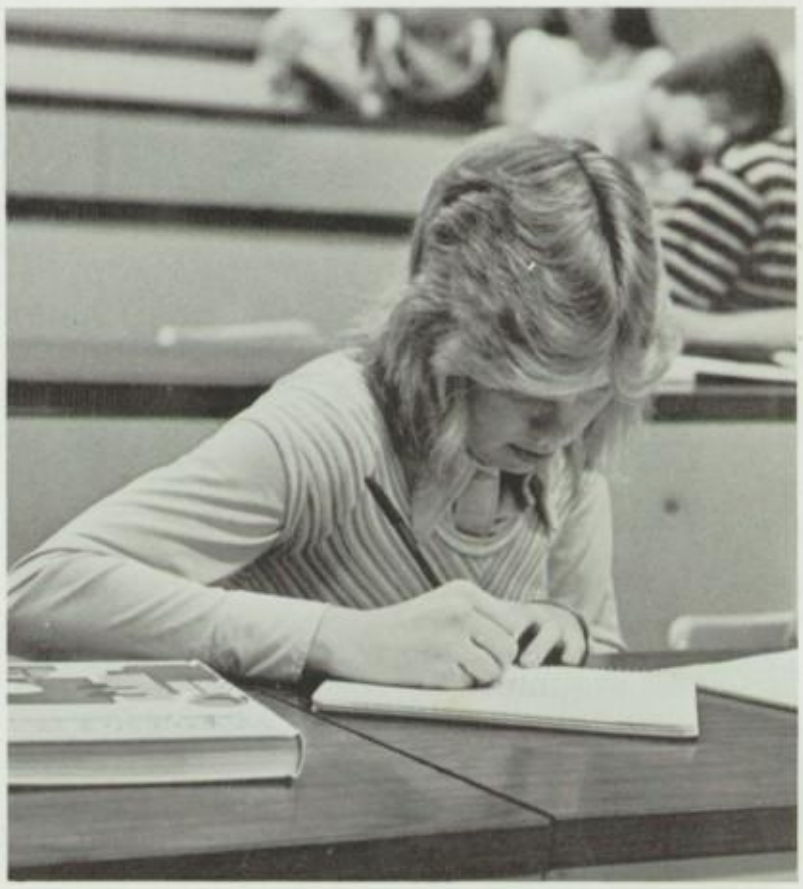
Study Halls Can Be Fun

Studying, relaxing, and whispering to a friend, are all part of study halls. Study halls are some of the most popular classes taken at DHS. Besides having many of your classmates in class with you, you can catch up on your homework. This year, the pink library passes were initiated, allowing study hall students to enter the library without getting a pass from a teacher. Students also use study halls to work in the art room, band room and make up tests and quizes.



STUDY HALLS are still actually used for homework. Here Nancy McKean is studying her home economics.

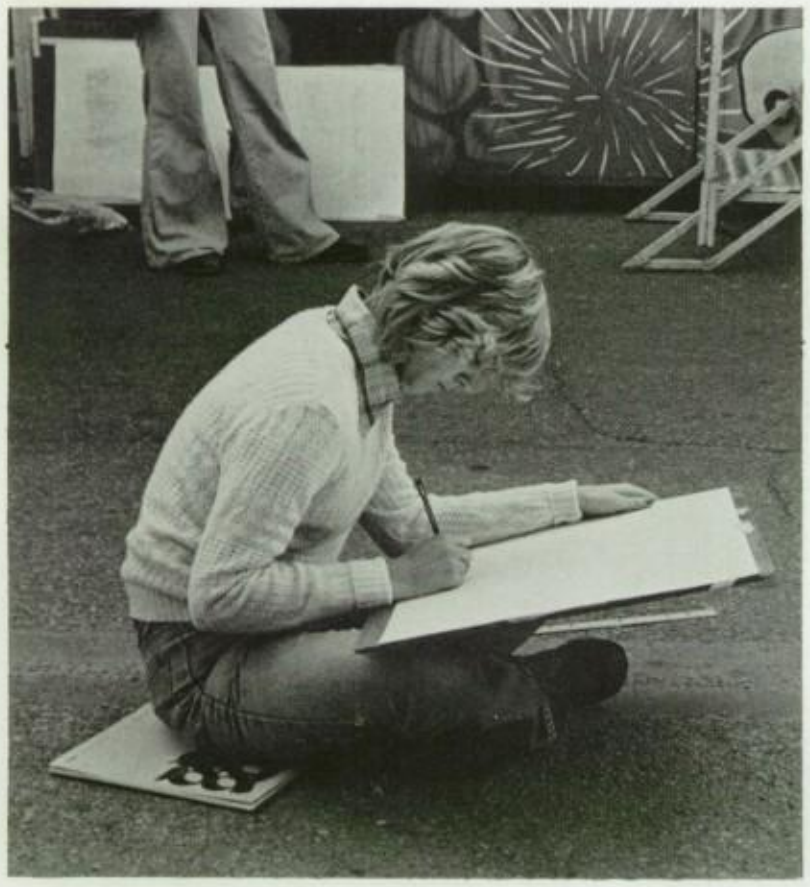
Field Trips Broaden Experience

Students at DHS take some of their studies out of the high school. The Science Club takes field trips to places like planetariums. Some of the other classes and clubs also take educational field trips. One example of a class taking a field trip is the art classes. During the week of the Auburn Free Fall Fair the art classes went to the fair in order to learn to express themselves in the backgrounds and rides there. They weren't allowed to ride but did get the priviledge of drawing and then painting their drawings.



AUBURN'S FREE Fall Fair is for more than entertainment alone, it also helps Linda Lott discover herself in her art work.

The Class of 1980

The sophomore class is the first class of DHS. They have many things that they must get used to and do. When they were at the Junior High they didn't have bells. Now they don't have any excuse for being late since we have bells. They now have final exams to look forward to also. Many of the sophomores look forward to receiving their class jackets. They order them in November and then receive them in February, right before the sectional. They also get to order their class rings. They won't receive these until the following September.

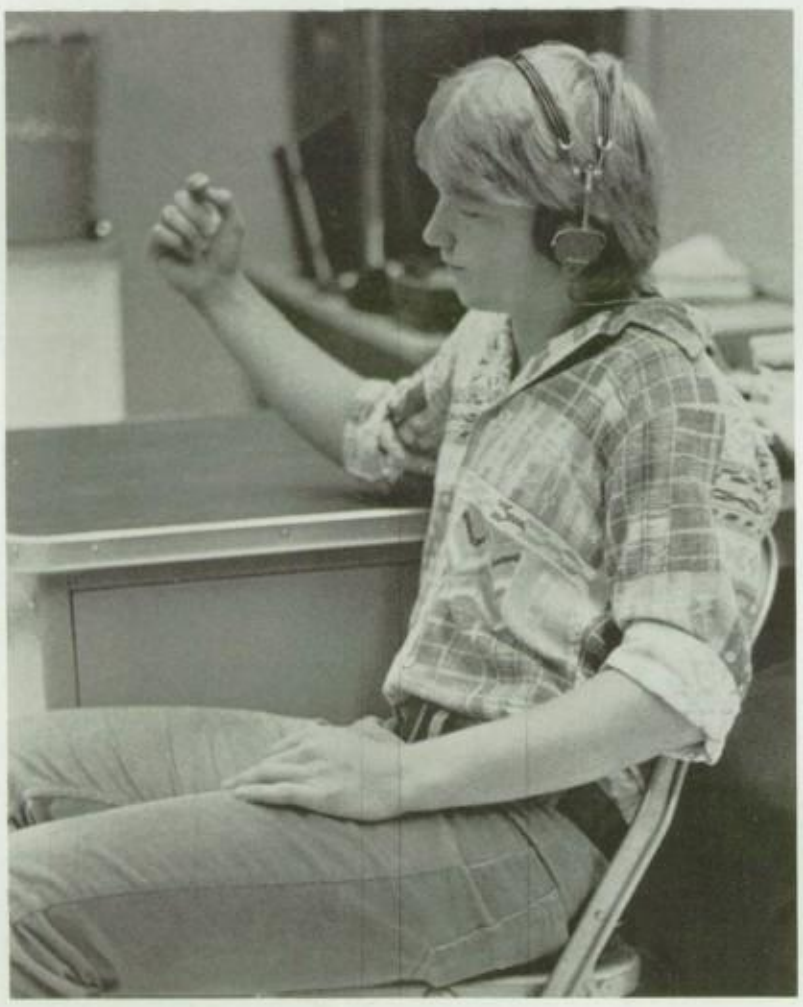
Sophs Are Tested

Once you become a sophomore there are several tests which are required. One test which is taken outside of their normal book tests is a hearing test. You simply put on a pair of headphones and then every time you hear the beep, you raise your finger to tell the nurse that you heard it. Finals are required in some sophomore classes. Since this is the first time for the majority of them to take any kind of final exam, it seems to be exceptionally hard.



TAKING THE HEARING test is just one of the many tests that sophomore, Rob Moreland, is required to take.

Sophomores Help School Spirit

The sophomore year is an in-between year for high school students. Maybe the biggest event for most tenth graders was that all- important sixteenth birthday. They exerted a real effort during the year to improve school spirit by coming out and strongly supporting the athletic teams and by participating in Pep Club, cheerleading, and other school programs.

SOPHOMORE MARLA HAYWARD shows her spirit in her first year at DeKalb High School by working on sectional hall decorations.

Sophs Support Student Council

Several student council events were taken advantage of by the sophomore class. They helped to bring in canned food for the can drive, bought carnations for their favorite people, and also dressed up in the most non-matching clothes they could scrounge up out of their closets. Another student council event which was taken advantage of was the hall decorations for sectional. They decorated the doorways in order to show their school spirit.

Saluting 74 Years of Service

Retiring this year after many years in education are Mr. and Mrs. Ned McIntosh, he most recently as principal at Waterloo and she as a third grade teacher.

Since 1914 there has been someone from the McIntosh family in the Waterloo School, where Mr. McIntosh graduated in 1932. He returned there to teach in 1937. In 1938 Mrs. Margaret Ann McIntosh joined the Waterloo staff, where she taught in the second and third grades for thirty-five years.

The Saber salutes Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh on behalf of the hundreds of Waterloo students — both present and past — whose lives they have touched.

PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN - -

As We Move On

The final days of school this year were filled with many events, such as graduation, prom, baseball, track, tennis, golf, final exams, and warmer weather.

After all the events, we made it! This year's theme, PROUD BARONS WE REMAIN, is just a part of Barons. We have many memories that can never be forgotten. Also friends that we will always remember and cherish. Being a Baron is not just attending a school. It is taking part, helping others, and just being yourself. This alone makes us PROUD BARONS, which WE will always REMAIN.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The 1978 Saber Staff would like to stress their appreciation to those people who have made this yearbook possible. Our photographers deserve a special thanks, for capturing moments and memories of the past year. Mr. James Arthur was our representative from the Josten's American Yearbook Company. Robert's Studio was the official Senior Photographer. National School Studio's took the underclass pictures.
